Reds Peril Airlines In West Berlin

No Legal Right To Fly Over Area, U.S., Allies Are Informed

BERLIN (AP)—The threat of Communist interference mounted today against busy American, British and French airliners shuttling in and out of isolated West Berlin.

One of East Germany's top Communists, Politburo member Hermann Matern, told a West Berlin election rally Thursday night that the airlines—Pan American, Air France and British European Airways—have no legal right to fly over East German territory.

"This situation must be brought in order," he declared. He did not say what action the Communists have in mind.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who addressed an election rally in another part of West Berlin, said the Western powers would hold the Russians responsible for keeping open all routes to Berlin, including the air corridors. He said he had a personal letter from U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles reaffirming that position.

The letter, he added, specifically mentioned the 1949 Paris agreement in which the Russians ended their 1948-49 blockade and guaranteed free access to this Allied foothold 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

This was the first specific attack on the Western airlines.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is threatening to hand over Soviet occupation controls in Berlin to the East Germans in six months. The East Germans have declared loudly that the West would then have to negotiate with them for access to the city.

During the blockade of 1948-49 the Russians closed down the West's road, rail and water links but did not interfere with the airlift that broke the blockade.

Pupil Buses Snarled In Traffic Jams

New Cold Wave Due With Snowfall To End This Afternoon

At least 16 rural schools curtailed classes or decided against opening today after another "Friday snowstorm" created hazardous driving conditions for school buses, which were delayed by traffic tieups and slippery roads this morning.

School officials also considered the problem of how the children would be returned home this afternoon, had they attended classes, as the snow had reached 2 inches at midmorning.

Youngsters were given an unexpected vacation on the last day of school for the week.

County Supt. James McBride said all buildings in the county system would be closed by 1 p. m. today, meaning a dismissal of some 5,480 youngsters.

The 16 school buildings involved include 7 at Beaver Local, 3 in Southern Local, 2 in Fairfield-Waterford, and one each at Franklin and United Local.

Some 1,050 students at United Local School were given a one-day vacation when school authorities decided against attempting to transport the youngsters to the Hanoverton building.

Beaver Local Schools were dismissed after buses became caught in the snarled traffic in the area, especially on the Route 7 Williamsport hill.

George VanHorne, executive head, said the buses were able to travel the hills but were caught in a jam of skidding and stalled tractor-trailer rigs.

About a third of the pupils at the high school and elementary school near Williamsport arrived by bus and were to be kept until noon when they would be taken home.

VanHorne said he expected the roads to be clear then, and wanted to get the children home before an anticipated freeze made roads more hazardous.

The rest of the seven schools in the district were also ordered dismissed, VanHorne said.

This marked the second time this week classes have been sus-

3 Basketball Games Postponed By Storm

Treacherous traveling conditions resulting from this morning's snow forced postponment of three district basketball games scheduled tonight.

Games postponed until later are Springfield vs. Salineville, United vs. Irondale and Western Reserve vs. Fairfield-Waterford.

Other cage games scheduled tonight will be played if at all possible, school officials reported. Farrell High School was to leave early today for East Liverpool for tonight's game at Memorial Auditorium and that game will also be played, Merill Hall, athletic director, reported.

Wellsville Area Group Dissents

River-Lake Highway Route Given Overwhelming Support At Hearing

The proposed route of a $100 million Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway was given overwhelming support by public officials and civic organizations throughout the four-county area it will traverse when the State Highway Department conducted a formal hearing Thursday afternoon in Warren.

But spokesmen for five small communities in Columbiana and Jefferson Counties argued the southern terminus of the road should be at Yellow Creek on Route 7, below Wellsville, rather than in East Liverpool.

THE EFFECT OF the opposition argument on the freeway's eventual course probably will not be known for several months, when Highway Department officials at Columbus "freeze" their plans and authorize preparation of construction details.

The group speaking in favor of the overall highway plan, which would have East Liverpool as its southern river port terminus, included Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, William B. Cooper, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Atty. Francis H. Lang as president of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Highway Association, Walter L. Myers Jr., executive manager of the six-county Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, and J. E. Schwade of the East Liverpool River - Rail Terminal Co.

A big Salem delegation also spoke in favor of the Highway Department's plans for the route. It included Mayor Harold D. Smith, Melvin York, traffic manager of the E. W. Bliss Co. and a representative of the Salem Manufacturers Association, and A. P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club, who also spoke as chairman of the highway committee of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Salem City Planning Commission.

THE DELEGATION also presented a letter from the Salem Chamber favoring the project. It was signed by Castle Smith, secretary-manager.

Edwin V. Pugh, editor of the Wellsville Press, was principal spokesman for the Columbiana-Jefferson County faction arguing that the four-lane road should deviate from its proposed course at West Point and follow in an almost straight line to the Ohio River at Yellow Creek, just across the line in Jefferson County.

Pugh argued that his proposal represents "the cheapest and most direct" route to the river. He presented resolutions from the Stratton, Irondale and Toronto Councils also declaring that Yellow Creek should be made the southern terminus.

In addition, Pugh submitted a letter from the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce favoring his proposal. Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville joined Pugh in favoring the West Point-Yellow Creek cutoff and Councilman J. Frederick Russell presented a resolution enacted by Wellsville Council Tuesday night, also favoring the change in the state's plans.

APPARENTLY anticipating the Wellsville proposal, Mayor Lawrence pointed to East Liverpool as the logical southern terminus in his brief talk favoring the overall plan for the highway.

He declared that East Liverpool "is the most northerly Ohio point on the river" and therefore provides the closest connection between river and lake ports.

"A heavy flow of commerce already has developed between East Liverpool and Northern Ohio," he said. "With the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway, this commerce will grow more rapidly than ever. Riverside facilities already are developed in East Liverpool. Our city is the most logical southern terminus because five major highways already serve the city.

"The rapid growth of the entire northeastern section of Ohio made construction of this highway inevitable," Atty. Lang asserted. "The association concurs with the State Highway Department's findings and hopes that construction will start soon."

Myers and Cooper also urged "rapid construction" of the river-lake road, citing the great industrial growth of the Ohio Valley south of East Liverpool within the last two years.

Army's Moon Probe Looms This Weekend

Powerful Shot May Take 34 Hours, Last Million Years

NEW YORK (AP)—A huge U.S. moon rocket—short on brains but long on brawn — may blast into space this weekend on a trip that could take just 34 hours, but might last millions of years.

It is the U.S. Army's first shot at the moon — and like its Explorer satellite shots, the Army hasn't spared the horses.

This is perhaps the greatest difference between the planned Army probe and the last three shots by the U.S. Air Force, one of which reached as high as 79,000 miles.

The Air Force satellite weighed about 85 pounds. It was aimed at an orbit or at least a single trip around the moon. In its final stage it carried the electronic brains and maneuvering rocket to do the job.

The 30-pound Army shot is less ambitious. It too is aimed at the moon with the intention of hitting the lunar surface. But if all works well it may be destined for a greater glory.

The Army has packed its rocket, dubbed Juno II, with enough power and speed to overcome the pull of the earth's gravity shot, says it has a 1 in 2 chance of building up escape velocity — and so blasting away from the earth into a possible orbit around the sun.

Such an orbit might last millions of years.

This assumes first that all the moon rocket's engines will fire and that it will overshoot the moon.

The moon is not an easy target to hit. So many things are unknown about its mass and behavior that it can easily be missed.

Just as unpredictable is the behavior of the moon rocket itself.

The Army has kept mum on its rocket plans, because it said it doesn't want to occasion a build-up of public expectancy and the consequent pressure on its rocket people.

But two days ago the service tower was pulled back from the big moon rocket at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and it stood with its nose only shrouded.

Man To Face Grand Jurors For Numbers

Womer Bound Over After Local Court's Study Of Evidence

Oval N. (Whitey) Womer, 129½ W. 6th St., arrested Nov. 17 on a numbers-writing charge, was bound over to the Grand Jury today in Municipal Court under a section of state law that leaves him liable to a penitentiary sentence of 1-3 years as a second offender if he later is indicted and convicted in Common Pleas Court.

Womer, who pleaded not guilty, was bound over after a hearing that lasted about an hour and a quarter before Judge George L. Brokaw. His bond was fixed at $500. He was scheduled to post it about noon.

The state's case against Womer was based mainly on the testimony of Lt. Clyde W. Boso, head of the special service bureau, who made the arrest.

As the prosecution opened Lt. Boso took the stand to describe how he stood in a restroom in the Alley Bar, looking over the defendant's shoulder while he wrote two numbers slips for a pair of men seated at the bar. The officers said Womer was unaware he was being watched until he had finished writing the slips.

The officer described the circumstances that led to the arrest He said he started to trail a man whom he suspected of being a pickup man for numbers operators, following him to Diamond Alley. The officer said by the time he arrived in the alley, the man he was following had disappeared, so he decided to look for him in two adjoining taverns, the City Bar and the Alley bar.

Boso said he entered the Alley Bar, discovered the man he sought was not present, but observed Womer in conversation with two men at the bar. Boso said Womer did not see him enter. As he stepped through the door, Womer placed his hand in his pocket and entered the restroom, he said.

"I realized what he intended to do," Boso testified. "I took about one step inside the restroom and looked over his shoulder while he wrote. He didn't see me until he finished writing the numbers. I

Khrushchev Replies To Macmillan's Note

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today replied to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's personal message serving notice that Britain means to stay put in West Berlin.

The reply was delivered to Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd by the Soviet charge d'affaires, N. M. Roschin.

There was no official indication of the contents. It was understood, however, that it signaled no change in Khrushchev's proposal to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city.

Macmillan, at the request of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, sent a brief message to Khrushchev on Nov. 22 declaring the Soviet Union has no right to break any of the four-power agreements for the control of Berlin or Germany and that Britain intends to stand by her obligations to maintain a garrison in the former German capital.

Macmillan sent his message after Khrushchev's No. 10 speech demanding that the Allies leave Berlin. After the Macmillan letter, the Soviet Union made the proposal of Nov. 27 that West Berlin be made a free, demilitarized city.

Negotiations Deadlocked In EAL Walkout

By The Associated Press

The 12-day-old strike against Eastern Air Lines continues, with some hope that striking machinists will settle but with a continued deadlock between EAL and its flight engineers.

Eastern has offered a 45-cent hourly wage increase to 5,000 members of the International Assn. of Machinists. The union demands 49 cents, but negotiations were continuing.

However, both sides acknowledge no progress in efforts to resolve demands by EAL's 550 flight engineers. In addition to wages, the dispute involves company insistence that the engineers take jet pilot training.

With the bulk of IAM machinists already voting in Kansas City to accept a tentative agreement with Trans World Airlines, TWA hopes to be back in business by 12:01 a.m. Monday.

American Airlines continues to operate under a temporary injunction against a walkout by the Air Line Pilots Assn. A ruling on making the injunction permanent is expected next week.

Contract talks continue between Pan American World Airways and the Transport Workers Union, with no interruption in service.

Rush Due Next Week

Christmas Mail May Set All-Time Record For City

Christmas mail is expected to set an all-time record, exceeding the 800,000 pieces handled during the 1957 holiday season, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today in reiterating a plea for early mailing.

The rush is expected to get started about the middle of next week and hit its peak between Wednesday and Dec. 23, the postmaster said. The bulk of the mail probably will pass through the Post Office the weekend of Dec. 20-21.

Some of the temporary help hired to aid in sorting and delivering the mail probably will start work late next week with about 25 expected to be employed during the rush. Approximately 85 applied for the temporary jobs, the postmaster said.

Brown also announced that service windows at the Post Office will be open from 7:45 a. m. to 5 p. m. beginning Dec. 15. However, patrons can avoid the rush by mailing packages or buying stamps before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

"The response to the 'Mail Early' appeals has been good, but it's later than you think," Brown declared, pointing out cards for out-of-town delivery should be mailed several days ahead of those for local delivery. Those to nearby points should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Gift packages for distant destinations should be in the mail by Wednesday and those for nearer places by Dec. 15, he said.

By using first class postage (4 cents) and including the sender's name and address, Christmas cards will be delivered promptly and can be forwarded or returned if necessary. First class cards also can include written messages, making them more personal.

He urged patrons to separate their cards into bundles for local and out-of-town delivery, using the free labels available at the Post Office.

Business firms have been asked to postpone the mailing of circulars or catalogs until after Christmas to keep the mail clear for the holiday rush.

10 Arrested, 12 Slots Held In Weirton Raids

WEIRTON — Police early this morning raided 4 taverns and 2 social clubs, confiscating 12 slot machines and arresting 10 persons on charges ranging from possession and sale of liquor to dispensing beer after hours.

The taverns are Ray's Bar, Gus's Restaurant, Green Mill Restaurant and Chuck's Grill. The 12 slot machines were taken from the Weirton Moose Lodge 688. The American Legion Post 10 home was cited on liquor violations and for being open after hours.

All arrested persons will be arraigned Wednesday at 10 a. m. before Judge Roy Pilette. All posted bonds.

Russians Celebrate

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union celebrated the 22nd anniversity of its Constitution today by asserting that Russia has genuine democracy but the capitalist countries don't. All Moscow newspapers carried editorials praising the Constitution, which says "freedom of speech, press, assembly, street processions and demonstrations" are guaranteed.

Beer Licenses Revoked At 2 Chester Spots

West Virginia beer licenses for two Chester area taverns have been revoked, Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt announced today at Charleston.

Losing their licenses were Charles McCormick of the Mural Bar on W. Carolina Ave., and Sarah Cockrell of the Route 30 Tavern, commonly known as the Cactus Bar.

McCormick's license was revoked because of violations of possession, sale and consumption of liquor on premises, Platt announced.

Oliver Watson, proprietor of the Mural Bar, was fined $100 and costs by Mayor Burton Ward Nov. 21 after liquor was found in a raid on the tavern Nov. 8 by city police.

The Route 30 Tavern license was revoked, Platt said, because of exhibiting gaming devices, possession of a lottery device and possession of liquor on the premises.

Sarah Cockrell and Watson both paid fines within the last several months for violations of state law, following arrests by West Virginia State Police.

East German Police Hold U.S. Army Pilot

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communist police have taken into custody a U. S. Army pilot whose plane made a forced landing on the territory of the satellite nation, an East German official disclosed today.

The pilot presumably is 1st Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D. C., who disappeared Wednesday while flying a courier plane near the border between East and West Germany.

West Urges Global 'Ground Alert' System

GENEVA (AP) — The West today proposed an international control system to keep permanent check on the ground forces of all nations.

The proposal to the 10-nation conference on ways to prevent surprise attacks was made by Gen. Sir Robert Mansergh of Britain. It followed a U.S. plan to block unexpected attacks by long-range aircraft and missiles.

Wellsville Cancels Public Role In CD Test

Public participation in a Civil Defense alert at Wellsville today was canceled by Floyd Hall, CD director, because of the adverse weather conditions.

Hall said CD personnel will continue to take part in the alert, which began at 9 a. m. today and was to continue through Saturday until 10 p. m.

A planned traffic stoppage as part of the alert was canceled as a result of Hall's announcement.

Christmas Mail May Set All-Time Record For City

Christmas mail is expected to set an all-time record, exceeding the 800,000 pieces handled during the 1957 holiday season, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today in reiterating a plea for early mailing.

Brown also announced that service windows at the Post Office will be open from 7:45 a. m. to 5 p. m. beginning Dec. 15. However, patrons can avoid the rush by mailing packages or buying stamps before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

"The response to the 'Mail Early' appeals has been good, but it's later than you think," Brown declared, pointing out cards for out-of-town delivery should be mailed several days ahead of those for local delivery. Those to nearby points should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Gift packages for distant destinations should be in the mail by Wednesday and those for nearer places by Dec. 15, he said.

By using first class postage (4 cents) and including the sender's name and address, Christmas cards will be delivered promptly and can be forwarded or returned if necessary. First class cards also can include written messages, making them more personal.

He urged patrons to separate their cards into bundles for local and out-of-town delivery, using the free labels available at the Post Office.

Business firms have been asked to postpone the mailing of circulars or catalogs until after Christmas to keep the mail clear for the holiday rush.

10 Arrested, 12 Slots Held In Weirton Raids

WEIRTON — Police early this morning raided 4 taverns and 2 social clubs, confiscating 12 slot machines and arresting 10 persons on charges ranging from possession and sale of liquor to dispensing beer after hours.

The taverns are Ray's Bar, Gus's Restaurant, Green Mill Restaurant and Chuck's Grill. The 12 slot machines were taken from the Weirton Moose Lodge 688. The American Legion Post 10 home was cited on liquor violations and for being open after hours.

All arrested persons will be arraigned Wednesday at 10 a. m. before Judge Roy Pilette. All posted bonds.

Russians Celebrate

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union celebrated the 22nd anniversity of its Constitution today by asserting that Russia has genuine democracy but the capitalist countries don't. All Moscow newspapers carried editorials praising the Constitution, which says "freedom of speech, press, assembly, street processions and demonstrations" are guaranteed.

Beer Licenses Revoked At 2 Chester Spots

West Virginia beer licenses for two Chester area taverns have been revoked, Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt announced today at Charleston.

Losing their licenses were Charles McCormick of the Mural Bar on W. Carolina Ave., and Sarah Cockrell of the Route 30 Tavern, commonly known as the Cactus Bar.

McCormick's license was revoked because of violations of possession, sale and consumption of liquor on premises, Platt announced.

Oliver Watson, proprietor of the Mural Bar, was fined $100 and costs by Mayor Burton Ward Nov. 21 after liquor was found in a raid on the tavern Nov. 8 by city police.

The Route 30 Tavern license was revoked, Platt said, because of exhibiting gaming devices, possession of a lottery device and possession of liquor on the premises.

Sarah Cockrell and Watson both paid fines within the last several months for violations of state law, following arrests by West Virginia State Police.

East German Police Hold U.S. Army Pilot

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communist police have taken into custody a U. S. Army pilot whose plane made a forced landing on the territory of the satellite nation, an East German official disclosed today.

The pilot presumably is 1st Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D. C., who disappeared Wednesday while flying a courier plane near the border between East and West Germany.

Khrushchev Replies To Macmillan's Note

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today replied to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's personal message serving notice that Britain means to stay put in West Berlin.

The reply was delivered to Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd by the Soviet charge d'affaires, N. M. Roschin.

There was no official indication of the contents. It was understood, however, that it signaled no change in Khrushchev's proposal to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city.

Macmillan, at the request of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, sent a brief message to Khrushchev on Nov. 22 declaring the Soviet Union has no right to break any of the four-power agreements for the control of Berlin or Germany and that Britain intends to stand by her obligations to maintain a garrison in the former German capital.

Macmillan sent his message after Khrushchev's No. 10 speech demanding that the Allies leave Berlin. After the Macmillan letter, the Soviet Union made the proposal of Nov. 27 that West Berlin be made a free, demilitarized city.

West Urges Global 'Ground Alert' System

GENEVA (AP) — The West today proposed an international control system to keep permanent check on the ground forces of all nations.

The proposal to the 10-nation conference on ways to prevent surprise attacks was made by Gen. Sir Robert Mansergh of Britain. It followed a U.S. plan to block unexpected attacks by long-range aircraft and missiles.

Wellsville Cancels Public Role In CD Test

Public participation in a Civil Defense alert at Wellsville today was canceled by Floyd Hall, CD director, because of the adverse weather conditions.

Hall said CD personnel will continue to take part in the alert, which began at 9 a. m. today and was to continue through Saturday until 10 p. m.

A planned traffic stoppage as part of the alert was canceled as a result of Hall's announcement.

Head Of Time Office Claimed

R. F. Winters Served Crucible 35 Years

Russell F. Winters, supervisor of the time office at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died of a heart attack Thursday shortly after noon as he was parking his car in front of the First National Bank at Midland. He was 56.

He resided with a daughter, Mrs. Walter L. Burg, of Rochester and had been ill for several months. He was employed at the Crucible for 35 years.

He was a member of the Elks Lodge 283, the VFW Post and the Rochester Turnverein.

He leaves another daughter, Mrs. Betty Lou Icenhour of Rochester; a son, Donald G. Winters, and a sister, Miss Hazel Winters, both of Beaver; two brothers, Louis E. Winters of Fallston, Pa., and Wilbur Winters of Suffern, N. Y., and seven grandchildren.

Services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Hartzel Funeral Home, 349 Adams St., Rochester, by the Rev. Robert Shoupe of the Rochester Evangelical United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Sylvania Hills Cemetery near Rochester.

Friends may call at the funeral home today and Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

George Fingers

George E. Fingers of Toronto died this morning at 12:20 at the Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville after an illness of several months. He was 63.

He was born at McDonald, Pa., Nov. 28, 1895, and resided in this vicinity for 50 years. A World War I veteran, he was a member of the First Methodist Church, and the American Legion Post of Toronto.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mamie Myers Fingers at home; four sons and three daughters, including Mrs. Jean Rice of Lisbon; a sister, two brothers and 14 grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at the Clarke Funeral Home in Toronto by the Rev. Charles Dailey. Burial will be in Fort Steuben Burial Estates at Steubenville.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lodge

Mrs. Elizabeth Lodge, who resided with a son, William S. Lodge, 721 Sophia St., died Thursday at 7 p. m. at City Hospital, where she had been a patient for four weeks. She was 86.

She was born April 4, 1872, at Cadiz, daughter of the late Aaron and Louise Pickens Morrow. She resided in Wellsville for several years while her husband, the late Charles E. Lodge, served with the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. as a freight agent. She was a former member of the First Christian Church at Wellsville.

After the death of her husband in 1930 she resided with a sister in Minerva, but for the past four years made her home with her son here.

She also leaves a brother, Pearl Morrow of Canton.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Charles Russell, pastor of the Wellsville church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and night.

Johnson Barnard

Johnson Barnard of Roseville, Calif., died of a stroke Thursday morning at the home of his son, Dr. J. Davis Barnard of Arcadia, Calif. He was 78.

Dr. Barnard was pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in East End from 1936 to 1941.

He leaves another son, the Rev. Eugene Barnard of Roseville; two daughters, Mrs. Warren Trough and Mrs. Mortimer Vanderbilt, both of Ontario, Calif., and a brother, B. H. Barnard of Dayton, Pa.

Services will be held at Ontario Saturday. The body will be cremated and the ashes will be sent to Dayton, Pa.

Oliver Gingrich

Oliver C. Gingrich, 1442 Pennsylvania Ave., died at his home Thursday at 6:30 p. m. following a brief illness.

He was born in Hamilton and resided in this vicinity for 36 years. He was employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., in the order and shipping department for 27 years, until his retirement in 1949.

He attended the Midland Methodist Church and was a member of the Dover Masonic Lodge and the New Castle Consistory and Steelworkers Local 1212.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nannie S. Gingrich at home; a daughter, Mrs. Charles W. Weiford of East Liverpool and a sister, Mrs. Samuel Althaus of Toledo.

Services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the family home where friends may call tonight and Saturday afternoon.

The body will be removed to the Griesmer - Grim Co. Funeral Home at Hamilton Saturday night where services will be held Monday morning. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery there.

Mrs. Sue Sweetser

Mrs. Sue Stevenson Sweetser, a former resident of Wellsville, died Thursday at 8:22 a. m. at the home of a friend, Miss Irene Rieley, in Columbus after an illness of several months. She was 86.

Born in Wellsville, she was the daughter of Samuel and Mary Ramsey Stevenson, but for some years had lived in Columbus, where she was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the Board of Directors of the YWCA.

She later moved to Wallis Sands, N. H., where she and her husband, the late Ralph Sweetser, a former consulting engineer, lived for several years. Following his death, she returned to Wellsville, residing there until going to Columbus two years ago.

She leaves three sisters, Mrs. Irene Auginbaugh and Miss Helen Stevenson, both of Wellsville, and Mrs. Lena Hibbins of Daytona Beach, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held this afternoon at 2 at the Schoedinger Funeral Home in Columbus. The body will be brought to the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville, where services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. by the Rev. Philip H. Fletcher of the Wellsville First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the MacLean Funeral Home after 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Papers Agree To Entry Asked By Court Monitor

An agreed journal entry providing for specific findings asked by a Dallas, Tex., attorney in a suit against Brush - Moore Newspapers, Inc., of Canton, was signed Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge John Rossetti of Stark County.

The action was brought by L. N. D. Wells Jr., who has been engaged in the general practice of law in Dallas and is an officer of the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia, serving as one of the Board of Monitors for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America under appointment by that court.

The suit alleges and an answer filed at the same time on behalf of the defendant company admits that newspapers owned by the defendant corporation published a false article concerning the plaintiff, together with a subsequent retraction.

Claiming he was damaged by the published article but is not asking compensatory damages, the plaintiff states he is extremely desirous that his name be completely cleared by judicial declaration.

In the entry terminating the suit, Judge Rossetti found that the published article was libelous and that a statement it contained to the effect that the plaintiff had offered a bribe to a member of the Board of Monitors was wholly false and without any foundation in fact.

The court also found that any implication in the article that the plaintiff was associated with the low practices that put the union under monitorship likewise is wholly false and without foundation.

The suit states the article and its subsequent retraction appeared in The Canton Repository, the Portsmouth Times, the Salem News, the East Liverpool Review, the Marion Star, the Steubenville Herald - Star, the Ironton Tribune and the Salisbury Times during July and August of this year.

said: 'You shouldn't do that; I will have to arrest you."

Womer admitted at that time and later at City Hall that he had been writing numbers because "a man has to eat," Boso testified. Women said he had not written numbers for some time after a previous conviction, the officer added.

In his testimony, the officer described how he took the two numbers slips and a pad from Womer's hand. Earlier, the defense had entered a motion to suppress the evidence seized by the officer on the grounds of illegal search and seizure.

However, the judge reserved a ruling on the motion pending the officer's testimony on how the evidence was obtained.

Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the state and Atty. Don Smith was defense counsel.

Weather

pended in the school district. Schools were closed Monday because the heating systems at the high school and elementary school were damaged from freezing after a power failure affected automatic controls over the weekend.

VanHorne said about two-thirds of the teaching staff at the Williamsport schools reported today. He said in some areas, such as Grimms Bridge Rd., buses were not able to travel, but the vehicles had little trouble on the main roads.

The suspensions of classes will not have to be made up later in the year, since they were due to "acts of God," VanHorne explained. However, the classroom schedule will be accelerated slightly so that no teaching material will be lost.

VanHorne said today marked the first time buses were delayed on the Willamsport hill. He said there were no cinders on the roadway.

Some 600 pupils at Salineville, along with those at Highlandtown School, were returned home this morning becuase of road conditions, and pupils at No. 16, Fairfiew and Wayne Schools who did get to classes were to be sent home at noon.

Southern Local School District officials said bus drivers found conditions in the side roads very dangerous, and it was decided to cancel classes.

The Highlandtown bus got to school but authorities, after conferring with the driver, decided to return the pupils to their homes.

One bus due at Salineville at 8:20 a. m. was only halfway around his route and he was contacted and advised to take the youngsters back.

Summitville school of the Franklin Local District was also closed. Summitville authorities advised school officials at Salineville the bus to the high school would not be able to travel.

Official at the South Side Joint Schools near Hookstown reported this morning all of their buses were able to make their trips but were a little late.

Western Beaver County Schools reported all three in sessions with buses getting through. The schools are Logan School in Ohio View and Industry School, both in Industry Township, and Fairview School in Ohio Township.

An official said one bus became stuck in the snow, and two others forced to turn back, so the classes for the day were suspended.

Other schools which closed because of weather conditions included those at Salineville, Irondale, Hammondsville and Highlandtown.

Irondale and Hammondsville students were dismissed at 10 a. m. to permit buses to travel to rural areas before roads became too slippery.

At Fairfield - Waterford, classes were to close about about 1 p. m. All schools in Hancock County remained open for classes, including those at Chester, Newell, New Cumberland, Weirton and Pughtown.

Because of slippery roads, a bus en route to Glenmoor School did not pick up a group of students on 3rd Ave., LaCroft, and a bus delivering students to the high school from St. Clair Ave. was about 40 minutes late, Supt. Ralph W. Betts' office said, but all other city school operations were reported normal.

Born in Wellsville, she was the daughter of Samuel and Mary Ramsey Stevenson, but for some years had lived in Columbus, where she was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the Board of Directors of the YWCA.

She later moved to Wallis Sands, N. H., where she and her husband, the late Ralph Sweetser, a former consulting engineer, lived for several years. Following his death, she returned to Wellsville, residing there until going to Columbus two years ago.

She leaves three sisters, Mrs. Irene Auginbaugh and Miss Helen Stevenson, both of Wellsville, and Mrs. Lena Hibbins of Daytona Beach, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held this afternoon at 2 at the Schoedinger Funeral Home in Columbus. The body will be brought to the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville, where services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. by the Rev. Philip H. Fletcher of the Wellsville First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the MacLean Funeral Home after 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Papers Agree To Entry Asked By Court Monitor

An agreed journal entry providing for specific findings asked by a Dallas, Tex., attorney in a suit against Brush - Moore Newspapers, Inc., of Canton, was signed Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge John Rossetti of Stark County.

The action was brought by L. N. D. Wells Jr., who has been engaged in the general practice of law in Dallas and is an officer of the U. S. District Court for the District of Columbia, serving as one of the Board of Monitors for the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America under appointment by that court.

The suit alleges and an answer filed at the same time on behalf of the defendant company admits that newspapers owned by the defendant corporation published a false article concerning the plaintiff, together with a subsequent retraction.

Claiming he was damaged by the published article but is not asking compensatory damages, the plaintiff states he is extremely desirous that his name be completely cleared by judicial declaration.

In the entry terminating the suit, Judge Rossetti found that the published article was libelous and that a statement it contained to the effect that the plaintiff had offered a bribe to a member of the Board of Monitors was wholly false and without any foundation in fact.

The court also found that any implication in the article that the plaintiff was associated with the low practices that put the union under monitorship likewise is wholly false and without foundation.

The suit states the article and its subsequent retraction appeared in The Canton Repository, the Portsmouth Times, the Salem News, the East Liverpool Review, the Marion Star, the Steubenville Herald - Star, the Ironton Tribune and the Salisbury Times during July and August of this year.

pended in the school district. Schools were closed Monday because the heating systems at the high school and elementary school were damaged from freezing after a power failure affected automatic controls over the weekend.

VanHorne said about two-thirds of the teaching staff at the Williamsport schools reported today. He said in some areas, such as Grimms Bridge Rd., buses were not able to travel, but the vehicles had little trouble on the main roads.

The suspensions of classes will not have to be made up later in the year, since they were due to "acts of God," VanHorne explained. However, the classroom schedule will be accelerated slightly so that no teaching material will be lost.

VanHorne said today marked the first time buses were delayed on the Willamsport hill. He said there were no cinders on the roadway.

Some 600 pupils at Salineville, along with those at Highlandtown School, were returned home this morning becuase of road conditions, and pupils at No. 16, Fairfiew and Wayne Schools who did get to classes were to be sent home at noon.

Southern Local School District officials said bus drivers found conditions in the side roads very dangerous, and it was decided to cancel classes.

The Highlandtown bus got to school but authorities, after conferring with the driver, decided to return the pupils to their homes.

One bus due at Salineville at 8:20 a. m. was only halfway around his route and he was contacted and advised to take the youngsters back.

Summitville school of the Franklin Local District was also closed. Summitville authorities advised school officials at Salineville the bus to the high school would not be able to travel.

Official at the South Side Joint Schools near Hookstown reported this morning all of their buses were able to make their trips but were a little late.

Western Beaver County Schools reported all three in sessions with buses getting through. The schools are Logan School in Ohio View and Industry School, both in Industry Township, and Fairview School in Ohio Township.

An official said one bus became stuck in the snow, and two others forced to turn back, so the classes for the day were suspended.

Other schools which closed because of weather conditions included those at Salineville, Irondale, Hammondsville and Highlandtown.

Irondale and Hammondsville students were dismissed at 10 a. m. to permit buses to travel to rural areas before roads became too slippery.

At Fairfield - Waterford, classes were to close about about 1 p. m. All schools in Hancock County remained open for classes, including those at Chester, Newell, New Cumberland, Weirton and Pughtown.

Because of slippery roads, a bus en route to Glenmoor School did not pick up a group of students on 3rd Ave., LaCroft, and a bus delivering students to the high school from St. Clair Ave. was about 40 minutes late, Supt. Ralph W. Betts' office said, but all other city school operations were reported normal.

said: 'You shouldn't do that; I will have to arrest you."

Womer admitted at that time and later at City Hall that he had been writing numbers because "a man has to eat," Boso testified. Women said he had not written numbers for some time after a previous conviction, the officer added.

In his testimony, the officer described how he took the two numbers slips and a pad from Womer's hand. Earlier, the defense had entered a motion to suppress the evidence seized by the officer on the grounds of illegal search and seizure.

However, the judge reserved a ruling on the motion pending the officer's testimony on how the evidence was obtained.

Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the state and Atty. Don Smith was defense counsel.

Khrushchev Has His Problems, Too

It now is being pointed out at frequent intervals by second-guessers that someone pulled a historic blunder by not getting a written guarantee from Russia about the Berlin "corridor."

The implication is that the Western Allies were guilty of naivete when they took Stalin's word for it that they could get back and forth to their Berlin sectors through Russian-occupied territory surrounding the city.

That point can be granted, though it is unlikely a written guarantee would have kept the Kremlin from wanting to get the Western Allies out of Berlin sooner or later. There needs to be more attention given to the Kremlin's problem in this respect.

WEST BERLIN has been turned into a showcase for Western creativity. It is like a finger jabbed into the eye of the Communist masters to East Berlin and East Germany. Never before in history was a more unfavorable comparison thrust into the awareness of so many people. No one ever flees from West Germany into East Germany, or from free Berlin into Sovietized Berlin. But some three million persons have risked confinement and even death to escape from the Communists into what looks to East Germany like the Promised Land.

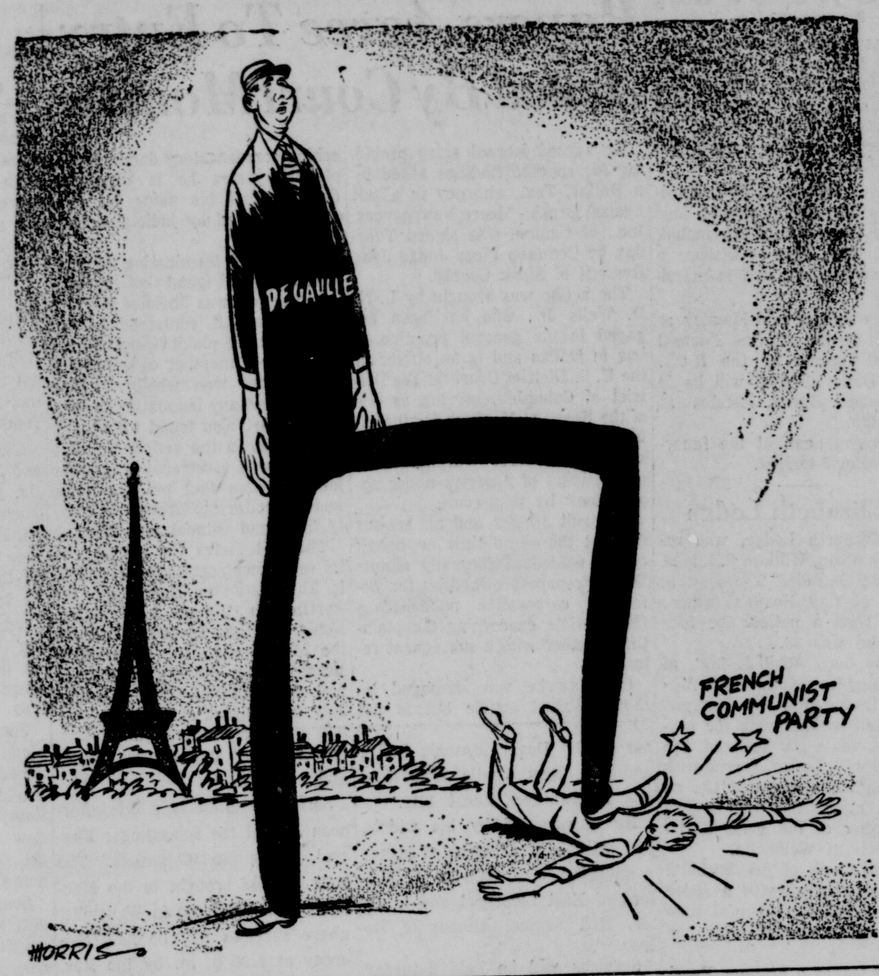
The questions that Nikita Khruschev has raised about the ability of the Western Allies to stay in Berlin against Russia's will are not moves made from diplomatic strength but from diplomatic weakness. No matter what declarations of bluster and bombast he relays to the outside world through the odd fish who seem to be taking over the secretary of state's job by conferring with the head of a foreign state in a crisis, the circumstantial evidence all points in the same direction.

The Soviet Union is trying to terminate an intolerable comparison in Berlin between poverty-sharing under a socialist dictatorship and wealth-producing under a capitalist trusteeship. Naturally, Premier Khrushchev would prefer to have the Western Allies abandon Berlin to the Communists; that would be a perfect solution to his problem.

HIS PROBLEM is how to end the galling comparison between poverty and wealth in Berlin. There is some reason to believe his desire to get out from under an embarrassment that has become unbearable is so urgent that if the Western Allies cannot be driven out of Berlin he would jump at a chance to get Berlin out of the Communist zone in Germany.

Premier Khrushchev has his modern-day problems too, and one of his nagging ones is how to keep Russians from wondering how much longer it will be until they can live as comfortably as the residents of West Berlin.

The Arc de Triomphe



Judges Could Not Write SUB Law

The Supreme Court of Ohio has kept the supplemental unemployment benefits issue on the right track by ruling that SUB is not permissible under existing law.

The Supreme Court conceivably could have found in existing law the same justification found in lower courts to shade the issue in favor of SUB. But as long as any doubt existed, it was a break for Ohioans who want SUB to be made legally payable in their state that the Supreme Court handed the responsibility to the General Assembly for a policy decision.

Judges cannot write an SUB law, nor can they define an SUB policy. For them to have settled the matter out of hand by merely saying SUB could be paid legally under the language of existing law would have been to leave the matter up in the air.

Labor leaders and union members who do not understand why this would have been the effect should study the report of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission on this complex issue.

The only way to eliminate the possibility of endless litigation and confusion is to make a complete definition of legislative policy on what kinds of supplemental benefits will be legal in Ohio. It must be assumed that this work will be under way by January, when the new General Assembly convenes.

The question of supplemental benefits had not been raised when the existing Unemployment Compensation Act was passed. No language in the act is clearly applicable to SUB. The effect of including SUB agreements in private contracts was to force either the Ohio BUC administrator or the courts to confirm as a state policy a practice that never had been considered by the state legislature.

The BUC administrator declined to do this. The Ohio Supreme Court will not do it, either. Gov.-elect DiSalle has said what is so obvious it scarcely needed to be said — that the problem now belongs to the General Assembly, where it had to be settled sometime.

Reds Revive Old Lenin Tactic

By Victor Riesel

In the western section of New York City as well as the eastern sector of Communist Berlin, Soviet agents have been meeting secretly. They have been planning to whiplash us from behind. It was here that the high command of the American Communist party gathered Nov. 18 to 20 after a directive from abroad to resurrect its undercover labor apparatus.

Victor Riesel

Such an "apparat" could still call in the leaders of some five or six powerful unions with almost half a million members. Properly directed it could still unleash strategic strikes at mighty strategic moments in the very center of strategic shipping and defense production and communication.

And a directive is a directive, as the comrades say in Moscow.

High on the order of business of the secret session of the Communist party, U.S.A.'s "executive Committee," therefore, were the words of a slender, gray haired world traveler in his mid-50s.

But the color of his face evidenced the fact that he hadn't been traveling much recently. It had touches of prison pallor.

THE TELLTALE gray came from almost two years in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta. But the gray-haired one has lost none of his decisiveness. He had slipped secretly into the country in December of '56, some $500 in his pocket and Moscow's orders in his head.

Two FBI agents picked him up—they found in a Bronxville, N.Y., bar — a distance indeed from his last assignments in Warsaw and Peiping.

At first he told the FBI he was just a man called "Edwards." But they knew him to be the old Dur Workers' Irving Potash, one of the highest leaders in the once powerful Communist bloc of unions.

"Edwards" was the traditional name used by "Comintern agents" — the men Moscow dispatches to direct American Communists in secret.

Irving Potash had accepted voluntary deportation to his native Poland some years earlier. For illegally slipping across the U.S. border again, Comrade Potash served a two - year term in Atlanta. With time off for good behavior he was freed last Aug. 26.

Agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service picked him up the same day. They accepted bond. They told him to make the rounds of embassies in Washington.

THE FEDERAL agents couldn't re-deport Communist agent Potash unless one of these embassies gave him a permanent visa. Potash said he would try to get some country to accept him once again.

But on Nov. 18, Tovarich Potash sat down with the American Communist party's most trusted leaders, the Executive Committee of the Communists' National Board.

Apparently Potash had decided that he liked it here. The Executive Committee, meeting under instructions not to tell even the larger national board, elected Potash to its guarded inner ranks.

Immediately he took over the labor assignment. He would in effect be labor secretary, but not formally, of course. In fact, his instructions to the gathered comrades were to keep his assignment secret from all others.

No one was to know that the labor secretary's spot, vacant since the old labor secretary, John Williamson, had been deported to England, was now filled.

How would he operate? How could he then make contact with the pro-Communist labor leaders in this country? This was solved easily, comrades.

UNLESS THIS columnist's disclosure checkmates the move, Irving Potash is slated to be a reporter, sort of an assistant labor editor of The Worker. This is the weekly successor to The Daily Worker. Thus, the comrades were still using an old Leninist tactic. It is vividly described in a British report I picked up in London last summer.

The report, exposing British Communist techniques in directing Communist controlled unions says:

"At conferences of some of the big unions a headquarters official of the Communist party attends as a 'press representative' but the notes he writes are not for publication.

"They are answers to points being made by speakers from the rostrum.

"These notes are passed by a 'courier,' a party member who is a conference delegate, to some other member in the conference who then tries to catch the president's eye so he may express from the rostrum the points he has been instructed to make."

It will be fascinating watching Tovarich Potash in action amongst his old Communist labor friends.

A Senseless Boycott

By Raymond Moley

On Dec. 1. the International Transport Workers Federation declared a boycott of ships flying the flags of Panama, Liberia, Honduras, and Costa Rica.

In sympathy with this boycott, which it should be noted originated abroad and affects 62 countries, was an alliance of the National Maritime Union and the Seafarers International Union, affiliates of the AFL - CIO. Other American unions participated.

This crisis comes as the result of a vast propaganda campaign against ships which are in very considerable part American-owned.

American unions seem to be the victims of this foreign propaganda which has been directed not only against ships under the registries of small countries friendly to the United States but against all American shipping and shipping interests.

The spokesman for British interests is Robert D. Ropner, president of the British Chamber of Shipping. Ropner declared recently that British shipping is threatened by three "enemies," all of which are of American origin.

THE FIRST of these, according to Ropner, is the custom of registering American-owned ships under the flags of these small countries.

His second "enemy" is the American law which requires that 50 per cent of our foreign-aid cargoes be carried in American ships. This law was passed by Congress because it believed the simple bit of justice that if we are giving away something we ought at least have it carried in part on American ships.

The third "enemy," according to Ropner, is the subsidy supplied by the American government. The U.S. ship subsidy has the specific purpose of keeping our rapidly deteriorating U.S.-flag fleet from obsolescence and enabling American companies to maintain U.S.-flag operations in foreign competition along established trade routes, despite much higher taxes and labor costs.

Presumably, this sort of talk from British shipping interests is a new version of the old refrain—not only that Britain should be "Queen of the Seas" but should oppose anyone else who presumes to intrude upon that domain.

It is certainly a grim reflection on certain American unions that they should be the allies of this sort of competition. But some of them seem willing to enter the fight against American interests with all the vehemence that has characterized the conduct of previous strikes and interunion fighting.

PAUL HALL, president of the Seafarers International Union, was quoted in The New York Times on Nov. 25 as saying: "For years we're going to put these techniques to more constructive use."

The plain facts show that this "more constructive" action is against the economic strength and safety of the United States in a possible war.

The American - owned and American - controlled ships under "Panlibhonco" registry, chiefly tankers and ore carriers, aggregate about 10 million tons. It would be impossible to transfer these ships to U.S. registry without a subsidy from the government which would call for a sum so great that Congress would not allow it.

Next, to drive them from the registries of these small nations to British and Norwegian registry, for instance, would mean that they would not be available to the United States in case of war.

We had a bitter lesson with respect to that in World War I, when we were forced to be dependent upon ships of British and other traditional maritime flags.

Then we were compelled to rush pell mell into a great building program which was not only wasteful but slow.

We have had the lesson of World War II. We have seen these tankers in service in the Korean action and in the Suez crisis.

Under the present conditions we could immediately command such American-owned vessels under the "flags of necessity."

The London Economist has pointed out that "the wages and standards of living and accommodation in the majority of these ships are well known to be above reproach."

It is also true that the American owners and operators pay American taxes.

Finally, a great number of these ships are built and serviced in the United States, which provides American labor with jobs.

This boycott was conceived as a senseless and dangerous attack inimical to the true interests of American labor and of the United States.

Compounded Confusion

By David Lawrence

School Intregation Status Remains Foggy

Who is responsible for the plight of the 16,400 students in Arkansas and Virginia where certain public schools have been closed since September?

David Lawrence

An objective outline of what the loss in school hours during the last three months means to these students has just been given by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education, and welfare in President Eisenhower's Cabinet. He doesn't attempt to fix the blame but expresses the hope that "decisions" will be made soon by the local communities "that will result in the schools being opened, under policies that will be in harmony with decisions of the courts."

That's a very large order and, granting the best of intentions and the maximum of sincerity, the leaders in the communities affected can hardly make the "decisions" that will reopen the schools. For the Supreme Court of the United States, by its ruling on Sept. 29 last, has thrown into confusion the public school boards of several Southern States. The court struck down the gradual plan of the school board of Little Rock and ordered immediate integration irrespective of the conditions prevailing there.

Nobody really can be sure now exactly what the "law of the land" is today on integration in the public schools because the Supreme Court has issued contradictory rulings in the last few weeks.

THUS, ONLY 13 out of 314,000 Negro pupils in the State of North Carolina have been accepted to attend "integrated" public schools—and all public schools are open. This is called obedience to the "law of the land."

In Arkansas, 76 Negroes out of 103,000 are attending "integrated" public schools which are attended also by approximately 4,700 white students.

There are 33 Negroes enrolled at the graduate and undergraduate level in the eight state colleges in Arkansas which were formerly all-white. All but four of the state's high schools are open. Yet Arkansas is being lambasted as not complying with the "law of the land," though its record on school desegregation is better than that of some other states in the South.

In Alabama they have not yet admitted any Negroes to white public schools, but the Supreme Court of the United States ruled on Nov. 24 that the state's pupil-assignment law is constitutional and that the school authorities may apply 17 different standards in determining qualifications.

Yet when the school board at Little Rock, admittedly operating in good faith, asked for more time to work out the problem by applying some of those same standards, the Supreme Court of the United States adamantly refused to grant any delay whatsoever.

Shouldn't the Supreme Court really have granted at least six months within which the Little Rock School Board and the Legislature of Arkansas might have tried the plan Alabama now is using?

Was there any good reason for ignoring the pleas for time made by the local school board at Little Rock, whose members the Supreme Court openly said were sincere and could be trusted?

THE STATEMENT on integration recently issued by the Catholic bishops of the United States distinguished between good faith and deliberate refusal to make any start toward carrying out the letter of the law. The bishops said:

"We may well deplore a gradualism that is merely a cloak for inaction. But we equally deplore rash impetuosity that would sacrifice the achievements of decades in ill-timed and ill-considered ventures.

"In concrete matters we distinguish between prudence and inaction by asking the queston: are we sincerely and earnestly acting to solve these problems?

"We distinguish between prudence and rashness by seeking the prayerful and considered judgment of experienced counsellors who have achieved success in meeting similar problems."

The School Board at Little Rock had the support of the "moderates" and their spokesmen in the press. But the Supreme Court of the United States sternly refused to give any weight to the chaotic conditions which the tragic school year of 1957-58 had brought about in Little Rock.

What can Little Rock do now? The legislature can pass a new law taking into account the Supreme Court's decision upholding the Alabama pupil-placement law. Also, the local School Boards in Arkansas and Virginia can find encouragement in the words of the act passed by Congress last summer with respect to scholarships and financial aid for education from the government. It reads:

"The Congress reaffirms the principle and declares that the states and local communities have and must retain control over and primary responsibility for public education.

"Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize any department, agency, officer, or employe of the United States to exercise any direction, supervision or control over the curriculum, program of instruction, administration or personnel of any educational institution or school system."

This, too, is the "law of the land" as viewed by Congress.

Purely Personal

If you think a fish in the milk isn't circumstantial evidence, how about a snow-covered car in a two-hour parking zone four days after the end of the big storm?

It's funny isn't it how the ad boys keep creating new problems to be solved? We never used to worry about lint.

Diogenes can blow. Despite my diagnosis of a worn-out battery, a filling station proprietor refused to sell me a new one he had in stock. Said there was nothing wrong with one I had, though it was five years old.

I suspect that after-shave lotion is sold three times out of four to women who want men to use the stuff and that men rarely buy anything smelly on their own initiative.

Success stories in the gridiron business are a dime a dozen when pro football drafts the college boys who died for alma mater in the hope of getting a contract in the big time some day.

I break out in a cold sweat whenever statesmen talk about moral issues, because there is no international standard of morality—and that is how wars are hatched.

Our rocketeers now are talking about nuclear blasts to put satellites in orbit, in preference to the goops they have been using. I thought it was obvious the Russians were using nuclear energy when they casually put a two-tonner upstairs while U.S. Rocketeers were fooling with 21-pounders.

My old man knew what he was talking about when he hinted that blacksmithing might be a better bet than liberal arts. Many blacksmiths now make $12,000 a year working part-time, due to a shortage of blacksmiths.

Happy Birthday

Our "big sister" community upriver—Pittsburgh—has launched its bicentennial observance, marking a vital date in American history when the heartland of this nation was destined to be under the influence of the English rather than the French.

Situated at the juncture of two great rivers which form the Ohio and the gateway to the west, Pittsburgh could not help but be an important site, both in the pioneer days and in the later industrial era when iron ore and coal met to make the "Steel City."

What has been remarkable about Pittsburgh has not been its enormous growth and its development into an industrial giant which were, for the most, part natural results of geography.

What has been more amazing has been its recent change from a grimy, drab metropolitan area to a modern, clean and energetic city, charged not only with the dynamism of economic expansion but with a renewed cultural interest.

East Liverpool has been a part of the Pittsburgh district ever since Thomas Fawcett founded his little village 40 years after Ft. Duquesne became an English bastion named after William Pitt.

Our city should be proud to be a part of the same heritage which made Pittsburgh great, and we should continue to look upriver for some of the inspiration which enabled that city to cast off its handicaps and limited thinking to become one of America's municipal landmarks.

The Once Over

Imaginary interview with Mr. Khrushchev:

Q. Why all the indignation over West Berlin?

A. America and its allies have violated the spirit of Potsdam by making West Berlin prosperous and happy.

Q. Is there anything wrong in making people happy?

A. It should be mentioned only in the small type of international agreements if at all. Prosperity in West Berlin cannot be tolerated by a country which blocks it in East Berlin.

Q. But hasn't the Soviet often proclaimed it improves the lot of all peoples under its control?

A. We improve the lot by proclamation and Pravda editorial. Free world improves the lot of people by actually bettering their lot. This cannot be tolerated.

Q. What's so dangerous about it?

A. We tell unhappy East Berliners they are happy. When they see West Berliners happy it starts them thinking. This is always troublesome.

Q. Suppose our side gets out of West Berlin and the Soviet takes over on a trumped-up charge somebody in West Berlin is subversive?

A. We will consent to the United Nations calling a meeting and passing a resolution.

Q. Has Russia ever paid any attention to any U.N. resolution?

A. No, but we are turning over a new leaf and will develop a passion for such resolutions.

Q. What became of the U.N. resolution on Hungary?

A. One more question like that and this interview is over.

Q. Why has the Soviet given free world six months to say yes or no to "Ya gotta get out"? Does this mean Russia is switching to mood of patience and admitting there are two sides to every question?

A. Russia has the longest note-writers on earth. It takes two months to bring out all the points in our alibis. We figure at least two more notes will have to be written. This brings us into next summer.

Q. Doesn't this spread out the tension?

A. Russia has developed the "note-nik." This is a long-range tension spreader and intercontinental worry distributor.

For 25 Years

With significant restraint, the country is marking the 25th anniversary of prohibition repeal this week. There are some flies in the highball that weren't noticed in 1933, when Utah became the 36th state to ratify the 21st amendment and wrap up the record of the Noble Experiment.

Alcoholic beverages today are a commodity, even in Mississippi and Oklahoma, which outlaw them but traffic in them more or less freely. The legitimate businesses that have grown up around them are respectable and, for the most part, trying to stay that way.

But the social problem of over-indulgence in alcohol remains, and it is a major one in all its ugly, costly manifestations. There is nothing to feel good about in that respect. Prohibition was a costly failure. But repeal, socially speaking, has not been a success. It hasn't solved anything.

In only one way has it been an unmitigated boon. It has produced vast amounts of revenue for the federal government and the states. The federal tax today on a gallon of whisky is $10.50. State taxes vary, but they are whopping, too.

The time is in sight when the insatiable appetite of government for tax revenue may do what prohibition failed to do—solve the social problem of immoderate use of alcoholic beverages. Provided, that is, the opportunists who were driven out of bootlegging and blind-pigging aren't subsidized back into a new field of underworld opportunity by government greed.

SPECIAL COLORED auto plates are proposed by Connecticut for dangerous drivers. But are there enough such plates to go around? . . .

A & P supermarket stock is to be sold to public. (If we have only a small package of it can we have it checked in the express alley?)

"Rackets In Coin-Box Field To Be Probed" —headline. What! Again? Kefauver probed them five years ago but racketeers claimed a "tilt."

Ike's devotion to golf in crucial periods is excusable. It is important he be at all times ready for deeper traps dug by Russians while he was in locker-room.

Ford Foundation has given $250,000 for program developing managerial skills of New York City officials. It will take more than that to teach some of them that they need more than a $7,500 Cadillac and a low-number plate to show their ability.

Khrushchev Has His Problems, Too

It now is being pointed out at frequent intervals by second-guessers that someone pulled a historic blunder by not getting a written guarantee from Russia about the Berlin "corridor."

The implication is that the Western Allies were guilty of naivete when they took Stalin's word for it that they could get back and forth to their Berlin sectors through Russian-occupied territory surrounding the city.

That point can be granted, though it is unlikely a written guarantee would have kept the Kremlin from wanting to get the Western Allies out of Berlin sooner or later. There needs to be more attention given to the Kremlin's problem in this respect.

WEST BERLIN has been turned into a showcase for Western creativity. It is like a finger jabbed into the eye of the Communist masters to East Berlin and East Germany. Never before in history was a more unfavorable comparison thrust into the awareness of so many people. No one ever flees from West Germany into East Germany, or from free Berlin into Sovietized Berlin. But some three million persons have risked confinement and even death to escape from the Communists into what looks to East Germany like the Promised Land.

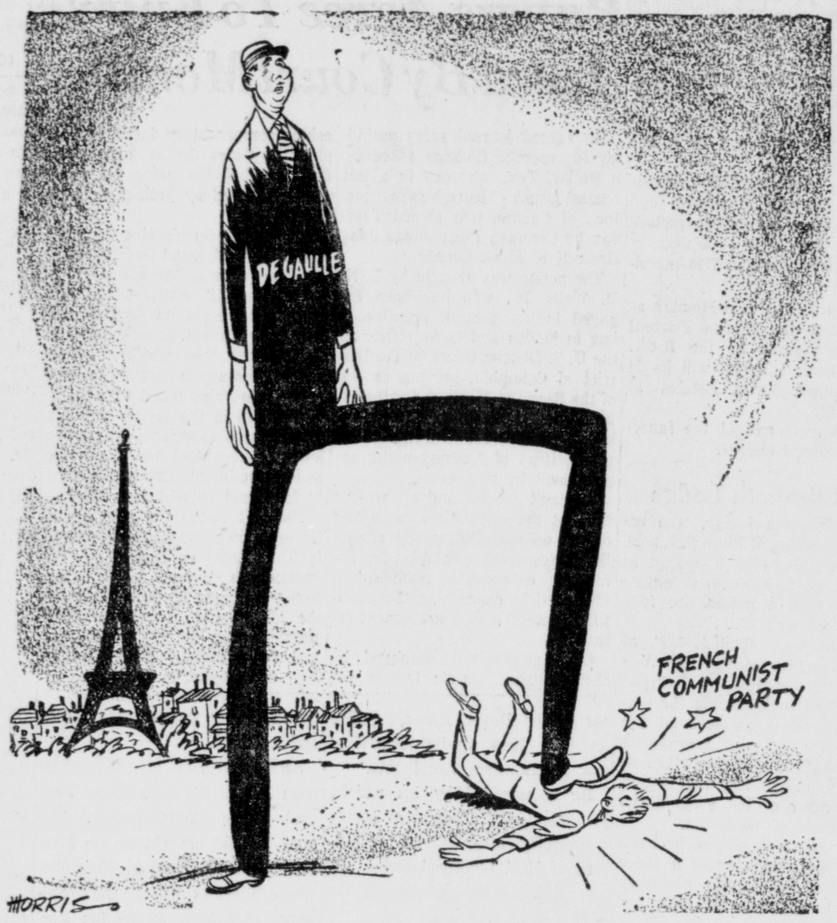
The questions that Nikita Khruschev has raised about the ability of the Western Allies to stay in Berlin against Russia's will are not moves made from diplomatic strength but from diplomatic weakness. No matter what declarations of bluster and bombast he relays to the outside world through the odd fish who seem to be taking over the secretary of state's job by conferring with the head of a foreign state in a crisis, the circumstantial evidence all points in the same direction.

The Soviet Union is trying to terminate an intolerable comparison in Berlin between poverty-sharing under a socialist dictatorship and wealth-producing under a capitalist trusteeship. Naturally, Premier Khrushchev would prefer to have the Western Allies abandon Berlin to the Communists; that would be a perfect solution to his problem.

HIS PROBLEM is how to end the galling comparison between poverty and wealth in Berlin. There is some reason to believe his desire to get out from under an embarrassment that has become unbearable is so urgent that if the Western Allies cannot be driven out of Berlin he would jump at a chance to get Berlin out of the Communist zone in Germany.

Premier Khrushchev has his modern-day problems too, and one of his nagging ones is how to keep Russians from wondering how much longer it will be until they can live as comfortably as the residents of West Berlin.

The Arc de Triomphe



Judges Could Not Write SUB Law

The Supreme Court of Ohio has kept the supplemental unemployment benefits issue on the right track by ruling that SUB is not permissible under existing law.

The Supreme Court conceivably could have found in existing law the same justification found in lower courts to shade the issue in favor of SUB. But as long as any doubt existed, it was a break for Ohioans who want SUB to be made legally payable in their state that the Supreme Court handed the responsibility to the General Assembly for a policy decision.

Judges cannot write an SUB law, nor can they define an SUB policy. For them to have settled the matter out of hand by merely saying SUB could be paid legally under the language of existing law would have been to leave the matter up in the air.

Labor leaders and union members who do not understand why this would have been the effect should study the report of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission on this complex issue.

The only way to eliminate the possibility of endless litigation and confusion is to make a complete definition of legislative policy on what kinds of supplemental benefits will be legal in Ohio. It must be assumed that this work will be under way by January, when the new General Assembly convenes.

The question of supplemental benefits had not been raised when the existing Unemployment Compensation Act was passed. No language in the act is clearly applicable to SUB. The effect of including SUB agreements in private contracts was to force either the Ohio BUC administrator or the courts to confirm as a state policy a practice that never had been considered by the state legislature.

The BUC administrator declined to do this. The Ohio Supreme Court will not do it, either. Gov.-elect DiSalle has said what is so obvious it scarcely needed to be said — that the problem now belongs to the General Assembly, where it had to be settled sometime.

Reds Revive Old Lenin Tactic

By Victor Riesel

In the western section of New York City as well as the eastern sector of Communist Berlin, Soviet agents have been meeting secretly. They have been planning to whiplash us from behind. It was here that the high command of the American Communist party gathered Nov. 18 to 20 after a directive from abroad to resurrect its undercover labor apparatus.

Victor Riesel

Such an "apparat" could still call in the leaders of some five or six powerful unions with almost half a million members. Properly directed it could still unleash strategic strikes at mighty strategic moments in the very center of strategic shipping and defense production and communication.

And a directive is a directive, as the comrades say in Moscow.

High on the order of business of the secret session of the Communist party, U.S.A.'s "executive Committee," therefore, were the words of a slender, gray haired world traveler in his mid-50s.

But the color of his face evidenced the fact that he hadn't been traveling much recently. It had touches of prison pallor.

THE TELLTALE gray came from almost two years in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta. But the gray-haired one has lost none of his decisiveness. He had slipped secretly into the country in December of '56, some $500 in his pocket and Moscow's orders in his head.

Two FBI agents picked him up—they found in a Bronxville, N.Y., bar — a distance indeed from his last assignments in Warsaw and Peiping.

At first he told the FBI he was just a man called "Edwards." But they knew him to be the old Dur Workers' Irving Potash, one of the highest leaders in the once powerful Communist bloc of unions.

"Edwards" was the traditional name used by "Comintern agents" — the men Moscow dispatches to direct American Communists in secret.

Irving Potash had accepted voluntary deportation to his native Poland some years earlier. For illegally slipping across the U.S. border again, Comrade Potash served a two - year term in Atlanta. With time off for good behavior he was freed last Aug. 26.

Agents of the Immigration and Naturalization Service picked him up the same day. They accepted bond. They told him to make the rounds of embassies in Washington.

THE FEDERAL agents couldn't re-deport Communist agent Potash unless one of these embassies gave him a permanent visa. Potash said he would try to get some country to accept him once again.

But on Nov. 18, Tovarich Potash sat down with the American Communist party's most trusted leaders, the Executive Committee of the Communists' National Board.

Apparently Potash had decided that he liked it here. The Executive Committee, meeting under instructions not to tell even the larger national board, elected Potash to its guarded inner ranks.

Immediately he took over the labor assignment. He would in effect be labor secretary, but not formally, of course. In fact, his instructions to the gathered comrades were to keep his assignment secret from all others.

No one was to know that the labor secretary's spot, vacant since the old labor secretary, John Williamson, had been deported to England, was now filled.

How would he operate? How could he then make contact with the pro-Communist labor leaders in this country? This was solved easily, comrades.

UNLESS THIS columnist's disclosure checkmates the move, Irving Potash is slated to be a reporter, sort of an assistant labor editor of The Worker. This is the weekly successor to The Daily Worker. Thus, the comrades were still using an old Leninist tactic. It is vividly described in a British report I picked up in London last summer.

The report, exposing British Communist techniques in directing Communist controlled unions says:

"At conferences of some of the big unions a headquarters official of the Communist party attends as a 'press representative' but the notes he writes are not for publication.

"They are answers to points being made by speakers from the rostrum.

"These notes are passed by a 'courier,' a party member who is a conference delegate, to some other member in the conference who then tries to catch the president's eye so he may express from the rostrum the points he has been instructed to make."

It will be fascinating watching Tovarich Potash in action amongst his old Communist labor friends.

A Senseless Boycott

By Raymond Moley

On Dec. 1. the International Transport Workers Federation declared a boycott of ships flying the flags of Panama, Liberia, Honduras, and Costa Rica.

In sympathy with this boycott, which it should be noted originated abroad and affects 62 countries, was an alliance of the National Maritime Union and the Seafarers International Union, affiliates of the AFL - CIO. Other American unions participated.

This crisis comes as the result of a vast propaganda campaign against ships which are in very considerable part American-owned.

American unions seem to be the victims of this foreign propaganda which has been directed not only against ships under the registries of small countries friendly to the United States but against all American shipping and shipping interests.

The spokesman for British interests is Robert D. Ropner, president of the British Chamber of Shipping. Ropner declared recently that British shipping is threatened by three "enemies," all of which are of American origin.

THE FIRST of these, according to Ropner, is the custom of registering American-owned ships under the flags of these small countries.

His second "enemy" is the American law which requires that 50 per cent of our foreign-aid cargoes be carried in American ships. This law was passed by Congress because it believed the simple bit of justice that if we are giving away something we ought at least have it carried in part on American ships.

The third "enemy," according to Ropner, is the subsidy supplied by the American government. The U.S. ship subsidy has the specific purpose of keeping our rapidly deteriorating U.S.-flag fleet from obsolescence and enabling American companies to maintain U.S.-flag operations in foreign competition along established trade routes, despite much higher taxes and labor costs.

Presumably, this sort of talk from British shipping interests is a new version of the old refrain—not only that Britain should be "Queen of the Seas" but should oppose anyone else who presumes to intrude upon that domain.

It is certainly a grim reflection on certain American unions that they should be the allies of this sort of competition. But some of them seem willing to enter the fight against American interests with all the vehemence that has characterized the conduct of previous strikes and interunion fighting.

PAUL HALL, president of the Seafarers International Union, was quoted in The New York Times on Nov. 25 as saying: "For years we're going to put these techniques to more constructive use."

The plain facts show that this "more constructive" action is against the economic strength and safety of the United States in a possible war.

The American - owned and American - controlled ships under "Panlibhonco" registry, chiefly tankers and ore carriers, aggregate about 10 million tons. It would be impossible to transfer these ships to U.S. registry without a subsidy from the government which would call for a sum so great that Congress would not allow it.

Next, to drive them from the registries of these small nations to British and Norwegian registry, for instance, would mean that they would not be available to the United States in case of war.

We had a bitter lesson with respect to that in World War I, when we were forced to be dependent upon ships of British and other traditional maritime flags.

Then we were compelled to rush pell mell into a great building program which was not only wasteful but slow.

We have had the lesson of World War II. We have seen these tankers in service in the Korean action and in the Suez crisis.

Under the present conditions we could immediately command such American-owned vessels under the "flags of necessity."

The London Economist has pointed out that "the wages and standards of living and accommodation in the majority of these ships are well known to be above reproach."

It is also true that the American owners and operators pay American taxes.

Finally, a great number of these ships are built and serviced in the United States, which provides American labor with jobs.

This boycott was conceived as a senseless and dangerous attack inimical to the true interests of American labor and of the United States.

Compounded Confusion

By David Lawrence

School Intregation Status Remains Foggy

Who is responsible for the plight of the 16,400 students in Arkansas and Virginia where certain public schools have been closed since September?

David Lawrence

An objective outline of what the loss in school hours during the last three months means to these students has just been given by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education, and welfare in President Eisenhower's Cabinet. He doesn't attempt to fix the blame but expresses the hope that "decisions" will be made soon by the local communities "that will result in the schools being opened, under policies that will be in harmony with decisions of the courts."

That's a very large order and, granting the best of intentions and the maximum of sincerity, the leaders in the communities affected can hardly make the "decisions" that will reopen the schools. For the Supreme Court of the United States, by its ruling on Sept. 29 last, has thrown into confusion the public school boards of several Southern States. The court struck down the gradual plan of the school board of Little Rock and ordered immediate integration irrespective of the conditions prevailing there.

Nobody really can be sure now exactly what the "law of the land" is today on integration in the public schools because the Supreme Court has issued contradictory rulings in the last few weeks.

THUS, ONLY 13 out of 314,000 Negro pupils in the State of North Carolina have been accepted to attend "integrated" public schools—and all public schools are open. This is called obedience to the "law of the land."

In Arkansas, 76 Negroes out of 103,000 are attending "integrated" public schools which are attended also by approximately 4,700 white students.

There are 33 Negroes enrolled at the graduate and undergraduate level in the eight state colleges in Arkansas which were formerly all-white. All but four of the state's high schools are open. Yet Arkansas is being lambasted as not complying with the "law of the land," though its record on school desegregation is better than that of some other states in the South.

In Alabama they have not yet admitted any Negroes to white public schools, but the Supreme Court of the United States ruled on Nov. 24 that the state's pupil-assignment law is constitutional and that the school authorities may apply 17 different standards in determining qualifications.

Yet when the school board at Little Rock, admittedly operating in good faith, asked for more time to work out the problem by applying some of those same standards, the Supreme Court of the United States adamantly refused to grant any delay whatsoever.

Shouldn't the Supreme Court really have granted at least six months within which the Little Rock School Board and the Legislature of Arkansas might have tried the plan Alabama now is using?

Was there any good reason for ignoring the pleas for time made by the local school board at Little Rock, whose members the Supreme Court openly said were sincere and could be trusted?

THE STATEMENT on integration recently issued by the Catholic bishops of the United States distinguished between good faith and deliberate refusal to make any start toward carrying out the letter of the law. The bishops said:

"We may well deplore a gradualism that is merely a cloak for inaction. But we equally deplore rash impetuosity that would sacrifice the achievements of decades in ill-timed and ill-considered ventures.

"In concrete matters we distinguish between prudence and inaction by asking the queston: are we sincerely and earnestly acting to solve these problems?

"We distinguish between prudence and rashness by seeking the prayerful and considered judgment of experienced counsellors who have achieved success in meeting similar problems."

The School Board at Little Rock had the support of the "moderates" and their spokesmen in the press. But the Supreme Court of the United States sternly refused to give any weight to the chaotic conditions which the tragic school year of 1957-58 had brought about in Little Rock.

What can Little Rock do now? The legislature can pass a new law taking into account the Supreme Court's decision upholding the Alabama pupil-placement law. Also, the local School Boards in Arkansas and Virginia can find encouragement in the words of the act passed by Congress last summer with respect to scholarships and financial aid for education from the government. It reads:

"The Congress reaffirms the principle and declares that the states and local communities have and must retain control over and primary responsibility for public education.

"Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to authorize any department, agency, officer, or employe of the United States to exercise any direction, supervision or control over the curriculum, program of instruction, administration or personnel of any educational institution or school system."

This, too, is the "law of the land" as viewed by Congress.

Happy Birthday

Our "big sister" community upriver—Pittsburgh—has launched its bicentennial observance, marking a vital date in American history when the heartland of this nation was destined to be under the influence of the English rather than the French.

Situated at the juncture of two great rivers which form the Ohio and the gateway to the west, Pittsburgh could not help but be an important site, both in the pioneer days and in the later industrial era when iron ore and coal met to make the "Steel City."

What has been remarkable about Pittsburgh has not been its enormous growth and its development into an industrial giant which were, for the most, part natural results of geography.

What has been more amazing has been its recent change from a grimy, drab metropolitan area to a modern, clean and energetic city, charged not only with the dynamism of economic expansion but with a renewed cultural interest.

East Liverpool has been a part of the Pittsburgh district ever since Thomas Fawcett founded his little village 40 years after Ft. Duquesne became an English bastion named after William Pitt.

Our city should be proud to be a part of the same heritage which made Pittsburgh great, and we should continue to look upriver for some of the inspiration which enabled that city to cast off its handicaps and limited thinking to become one of America's municipal landmarks.

For 25 Years

With significant restraint, the country is marking the 25th anniversary of prohibition repeal this week. There are some flies in the highball that weren't noticed in 1933, when Utah became the 36th state to ratify the 21st amendment and wrap up the record of the Noble Experiment.

Alcoholic beverages today are a commodity, even in Mississippi and Oklahoma, which outlaw them but traffic in them more or less freely. The legitimate businesses that have grown up around them are respectable and, for the most part, trying to stay that way.

But the social problem of over-indulgence in alcohol remains, and it is a major one in all its ugly, costly manifestations. There is nothing to feel good about in that respect. Prohibition was a costly failure. But repeal, socially speaking, has not been a success. It hasn't solved anything.

In only one way has it been an unmitigated boon. It has produced vast amounts of revenue for the federal government and the states. The federal tax today on a gallon of whisky is $10.50. State taxes vary, but they are whopping, too.

The time is in sight when the insatiable appetite of government for tax revenue may do what prohibition failed to do—solve the social problem of immoderate use of alcoholic beverages. Provided, that is, the opportunists who were driven out of bootlegging and blind-pigging aren't subsidized back into a new field of underworld opportunity by government greed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Imaginary interview with Mr. Khrushchev:

Q. Why all the indignation over West Berlin?

A. America and its allies have violated the spirit of Potsdam by making West Berlin prosperous and happy.

Q. Is there anything wrong in making people happy?

A. It should be mentioned only in the small type of international agreements if at all. Prosperity in West Berlin cannot be tolerated by a country which blocks it in East Berlin.

Q. But hasn't the Soviet often proclaimed it improves the lot of all peoples under its control?

A. We improve the lot by proclamation and Pravda editorial. Free world improves the lot of people by actually bettering their lot. This cannot be tolerated.

Q. What's so dangerous about it?

A. We tell unhappy East Berliners they are happy. When they see West Berliners happy it starts them thinking. This is always troublesome.

Q. Suppose our side gets out of West Berlin and the Soviet takes over on a trumped-up charge somebody in West Berlin is subversive?

A. We will consent to the United Nations calling a meeting and passing a resolution.

Q. Has Russia ever paid any attention to any U.N. resolution?

A. No, but we are turning over a new leaf and will develop a passion for such resolutions.

Q. What became of the U.N. resolution on Hungary?

A. One more question like that and this interview is over.

Q. Why has the Soviet given free world six months to say yes or no to "Ya gotta get out"? Does this mean Russia is switching to mood of patience and admitting there are two sides to every question?

A. Russia has the longest note-writers on earth. It takes two months to bring out all the points in our alibis. We figure at least two more notes will have to be written. This brings us into next summer.

Q. Doesn't this spread out the tension?

A. Russia has developed the "note-nik." This is a long-range tension spreader and intercontinental worry distributor.

SPECIAL COLORED auto plates are proposed by Connecticut for dangerous drivers. But are there enough such plates to go around? . . .

After 1-Hour Siege

Ex-Convict Rejects Pleas To Surrender, Kills Self

PRINEVILLE, Ore. (AP) — An ex-convict brushed aside pleas to surrender and killed himself today after a 10-hour siege that began when he briefly held six persons captive.

Stanley Robinson, 27, shot himself in the head as police crunched across the frozen lawn minutes after midnight to pump tear gas into his small, white frame house.

Only moments before, a psychologist who had gone into the house unarmed in an attempt to persuade Robinson to surrender walked out and said: "Well, boys, I think it's all over."

It was the only shot fired in the siege that began when state policeman Vern Boyer went to the house to serve a warrant on Robinson, released from the state prison Oct. 31.

Robinson, a Marine Corps veteran of the Korean War, then stepped from the bedroom with a 30-30 caliber rifle.

"I thought I was a goner," Boyer said. "That rifle looked awfully big. It was loaded and cocked."

Boyer was kept prisoner 30 minutes, along with Robinson's former wife and their four children, whose ages range from 5 years to 11 months.

But then State Police Sgt. Lowell Hertzel persuaded Robinson to let his captives go unharmed.

Police evacuated every nearby house, and began a long vigil.

Several times Robinson dashed onto the porch. Once he shouted: "I won't come out until I give up the gun, or else use it." Another time he accepted cigarettes from Hertzel, who said: "He told me that he made up his mind that he wasn't going back to prison any more."

Police talked to Robinson over the phone. Once he sobbed: "I'm going to end it all." Then he said he would wait until Wade Scott, a psychologist and counselor at the state prison, came here to talk with him.

Robinson's widow Dorothy, who divorced him while he was in prison, said after the shooting, "I did everything I thought was right."

At the prison, Asst. Warden Lou Barnes said Robinson had been an "excellent prisoner. He was the most decorated man ever to be in the prison here."

Robinson had been in the prison a year on a bad check conviction. The warrant police tried to serve Thursday also concerned bad checks.

Convict, 23, Gives Up After Escaping Jail

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 23-year-old convict who escaped from the Mahoning County jail surrendered Thursday night, explaining that he didn't want to be hunted the rest of his life.

Joseph Orville of Youngstown walked into the jail shortly after 10 o'clock. He had escaped Thursdy by running out of the supply room of the jail.

Orville, serving a nine months sentence on a burglary conviction, had been granted working privileges and was working in civilian clothes as a cook.

One Of Jet Pilot's Big Worries About Ended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One of a jet pilot's greatest worries—being able to escape from his plane at a low altitude—appears to be about ended.

In a test Thursday at the North American Aviation plant here, a dummy pilot was ejected from his seat in a T2J jet trainer taxiing at 85 m.p.h. and authorities say had it been a human he would have landed uninjured.

The seat and dummy were shot high into the air, the parachute opened and the dummy floated gently to the runway.

Actress Vivien Leigh Becomes Grandmother

LONDON (AP) — Scarlett O'Hara became a grandma today.

"It's divine," gasped actress Vivien Leigh, now 45 but still about as beautiful as when she starred in the movie of "Gone With the Wind."

Her grandson was born to Suzanne Farrington, Vivien's 24-year-old daughter by her first marriage.

Convinced It's Not Sputnik

Something New In Orbit, Scientists Say Of Signals

CLEVELAND (AP)— Scientists at a private tracking station here are convinced the mystery signals which apparently are coming from outer space are not from Sputnik III.

"There may be something new in orbit out there," said Dr. A. L. Jones, head of the private (Standard Oil Co. of Ohio) research laboratory. The laboratory picked the signals up twice in an interval of about 5 ½ hours Thursday.

The signals came booming in on 20.01 megacycles, "loud and clear," at 1 p.m. and again at 6:35 p.m. he said, adding that the signal definitely carried telemetered data, which telemetered sections in intervals of precisely one minute.

The signal received here for 15 minutes starting at 1 p.m. apparently was not from the same source as that picked up 52 minutes earlier by a commercial station on Long Island. That signal, reported on 20 megacycles, could have been from Sputnik III, Dr. Jones said.

He ruled out the possibility the signals came from a ground transmitter, since such signals would have a tendency to fade.

If the signals are coming from a new satellite, the interval between times the signal was picked up indicates the orbit is a pretty big one. Dr. Jones said a satellite some 5,500 miles out in space would have such an orbit.

Unexplained signals picked up Nov. 26 at Sunnyvale, Calif., by the Lockheed missile tracking station, were described as similar to but not the same as the telemeter signals from Sputnik I in its earlier stages. The signals have not been heard since at Sunnyvale.

Dr. Jones said the signals picked up here sounded exactly like those picked up by the Lockheed tracking station.

Butler's Removal Urged

North-South Democratic Rights Split Emphasized

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North-South Democratic split over civil rights was underscored at a party credential hearing called today. One Southerner called National Chairman Paul M. Butler a troublemaker and said he should be removed.

Butler's friends on the National Committee expressed confidence that Butler, who favors a strong civil rights plank in the party's 1960 platform, would ride out any ouster or censure move in a full committee session Saturday. Butler himself told a reporter he had not heard of any formal move against him.

Today's hearing, before a National Committee credentials group, was to receive rival claims of Camille F. Gravel Jr. and Jett M. Talbot to Louisiana's National Committee post. Gravel is the incumbent. Civil rights and party rules are involved in the dispute.

Committeeman Gravel was removed by the Louisiana State Committee because segregationist leaders in the party said he was out of step with Louisiana's stand on civil rights. Gravel has said segregation is morally wrong but that as a practical proposition integration is not for Louisiana.

Gravel, who supported the national party's civil rights plank in 1956, has refused to step down. He is challenging the State Committee's right to oust him and name Talbot in his place. Northern leaders support him on this, holding only the National Committee can remove a member between national conventions.

Both Gravel and Talbot were here for the meeting. It was the latter's counsel, W. M. Shaw of Homer, La., who attacked Butler and issued a brief saying National Committee members in his state are selected by the State Central Committee and serve at the pleasure of the State Committee.

Freeway Termed Vital To Port Of Erie Development

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Construction of the Erie - Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway is vital to the development of the Port of Erie, the chairman of the Port of Erie Highways Committee said Thursday night.

Harold Reslink told the annual meeting of the Erie - Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway Assn., that the Port of Erie is vital to the economic, recreational and agricultural development of the state.

The association also heard a report by C. M. Montgomery of Clarksburg, W. Va., chairman of the West Virginia - Pennsylvania Turnpike Assn. He said his organization is trying to get the West Virginia section placed on an inter - state highways system.

Robert S. Bates of Meadville was re - elected chairman of Freeway Assn. along with these other officers: Gerald A. Harshman, Sharon, co - chairman; Fred Tyler, Butler, treasurer; and Donald A. Cook, Meadville, secretary.

President's Intervention Goal In Pastor's Tax Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Eisenhower will be asked to intervene in the case of Rev. Maurice McCrackin, tax fighting minister jailed for contempt of court.

Veteran Socialist leader Norman Thomas says he and 12 "prominent clergymen" will send a telegram to the president on the Rev. McCrackin's behalf.

The Rev. McCrackin, a pacifist minister, was jailed Nov. 24 after he refused to cooperate in any way with the U. S. District Court where he faces an indictment charging him with failing to respond to an internal revenue service summons.

This an outgrowth of the minister's refusal to pay income taxes because part of the money goes for military purposes which the Rev. McCrackin opposes.

An organization known as the Fellowship of Reconciliation says Thomas and the ministers will send this telegram to the president:

"Without associating ourselves with the position Mr. McCrackin has taken or the means he is employing to appeal to the conscience of his fellow citizens to renounce war, we respectively submit that an indeterminate sentence in such a situation imposed on a man of recognized integrity takes on the appearance of persecution, is bound to be futile in effecting a change in Mr. McCrackin's conduct . . . and cannot serve the public interest."

River-Lake Route Backed

Wellsville District Group Opposes Plan

east-west roads, sometimes at the expense of north-south highway construction. He declared the entire river-lake road should be constructed as rapidly as possible because "in 1963, it will cost at least 20 per cent more than it will cost now."

The meeting at Packard Music in Warren attracted a crowd of about 250 from Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties — many of them representatives of trade groups and auto clubs anxious to put statements in the official record in favor of construction of the highway.

Walter D. Moulton, director of Highway Department Division 4 at Warren, conducted the meeting, assisted by W. E. Quicksall, director of Division 11 at New Philadelphia. The proposed road lies mostly in Division 4. Columbiana County is the only segment of Division 11 affected.

MOULTON EXPLAINED that state law requires the Highway Department to conduct such a hearing before making a final decision on a proposed highway route. All the remarks for and against the route were recorded on tape and by a stenographer, forming a bulky official record that will be presented to Highway Director Charles M. Noble at Columbus.

Virtually all of the three-hour meeting was taken up with reading of a lengthy legal description of the route the road will use, followed by the formal statements of the groups for and against the route.

Groups favoring the proposed route were permitted to speak first. Then the microphone was turned over to opponents.

As an aftermath of the meeting yesterday, the next step will be a review of the record of the proceedings by the highway director, Moulton explained. When the project is approved as to the general route, preparation of detailed plans will begin.

AS THE CONSTRUCTION plans progress, right - of - way maps will be developed to show property - owners exactly how their land will be affected, Moulton said. Then the right -of-way department will begin negotiations with land - owers to buy property needed for the highway.

In addition to the Columbiana County delegation, the groups that asserted their support of the highway plans included: Conneaut-Lakeville Chamber of Commerce, Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce, Ashtabula Auto Club, Ashtabula Port Commission, Ashtabula Planning Commission, Conneaut Auto Club and Ashtabula County commissioners.

In his remarks asking a change in the southernmost end of the route, Pugh said that "our folks are not against the improvement from Ashtabula to West Point" but they feel that the terminal should be at Yellow Creek.

ENDING THE HIGHWAY at East Liverpool would put "a fish hook curve" in the southern end of the route and "take it into a congested area," Pugh said. He said the route between West Point and Yellow Creek "would be 7 to 10 miles shorter." He added that the Yellow Creek area privides "space for a river terminal and industrial sites." It is a short distance away from many major new industrial developments and the Stratton "super-dam," he added.

Eventually a bridge could be built across the river from Yellow Creek to the Arroyo section in Hancock County, clearing the way for a new highway to the east that "would eliminate the torturous route back of Chester," Pugh said.

Councilman Russell referred to the West Point-Yellow Creek route as "The shortest and cheapest" and read the Wellsville Council's resolution in favor of the change in plans.

Mayor Lindner also said he is not opposed to the overall highway plan, but believes the southern terminus should be at Yellow Creek.

—:—

"THE PROBLEM OF grades, curves and width would not be so formidable if the road went direct to Yellow Creek, instead of swinging east into an area of hills and high property values," he said.

Herbert Frischkorn of Yellow Creek Township, representing the Southern Ruritan Club, also spoke in favor of the Yellow Creek terminus.

David Weaver of Columbiana R. D. 1 said the proposed route of the highway poses a problem for several dairy farmers in northern Columbiana County because it would bisect their farms. He said he believes the problem can be solved "if the state will move the highway just a little bit one way or the other."

The only other opposition spokesmen were a member of the Austintown Board of Education, who said the proposed route crosses a site selected for a new junior high school, and a Youngstown man who read a long statement against construction of limited access highways on principle.

A HUGE MAP OF THE proposed highway route was displayed at the front of the auditorium showing the freeway will follow the line laid down months ago by the Highway Department — almost directly due north and south from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

The map showed the freeway would follow the present course of Route 30 from East Liverpool city limits north to Route 170, where the first interchange would be located.

At that point, Route 30 and the lake - river road would take separate courses, with the new highway bearing to the west of the present highway. Another interchange would be located at the lake-river road's junction with Route 267 near Apples Corners and there would be another to link it with Routes 45 and 518 near West Point.

From West Point, the new highway would swing east of present Route 30 and continue east of Lisbon. The next interchange would be with Route 154, east of Lisbon, with another at the Junction of Route 517 north of Lisbon. In its course through the northern county, the road would pass west of Columbiana and east of Washingtonville. The final interchange in this area would be at the Mahoning - Columbiana line.

THE NEW ROAD recently was designated as State Route 11, but it still is known most commonly as the Ohio River - Lake Erie Highway.

The segment nearest East Liverpool, stretching 7 miles from the city limits to the Y. & O. Rd. and costing about $10 million, is scheduled to be built in the Highway Department biennium starting in July 1959.

Highway officials told the group yesterday the road will be designed for speeds of up to 70 miles an hour, with a 60-foot median strip separating the lanes.

Except for the area of hills and valleys nearest East Liverpool, the right-of-way will be 250 feet wide with no curves of more than 2 degrees and no grades of more than 2 per cent. In the section nearest East Liverpool, the median strip may be narrowed to 16 feet and the curves may range up to 4 degrees, with grades not exceeding 3 percent.

THERE WILL BE NO access to the highway except at the widely-scattered interchanges. At points where local highways cross the right-of-way, they either will be closed or "grade separation" will be engineered. "Grade separation" means an overpass or an underpass to prevent traffic from merging.

Others in the East Liverpool delegation were: Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti, State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, City Engineer George S. Bloomgren, Harry Y. George, Robert P. Guyton, Howard Parsons, William A. Black, Donald Ogilvie, C. Walter Ashbaugh, J. W. Sutphen, E. R. Chandler, Richard V. Beatty, Robert Campbell, Paul Brown and Philip Miraglatta.

Commissioner Walter A. Hunston represented the county government.

Gets 1-7-Years

CLEVELAND (AP)—On his plea of guilty to possessing 30 rolls of obscene movie film, Lawrence D. Skrovan, 28, father of two, was sentenced Thursday to one to seven years in the reformatory. A steel company pipefitter and amateur photographer, Skrovan said the films seized at his west side home were being copied for another man, who is awaiting trial.

Rackets Unit Has Evidence

Mobs' Terror, Trickery Cited In Juke Box Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee said today it has evidence that mobsters used terror and trickery to muscle into the juke box-vending machine industry.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters the evidence as it unfolds in public hearings next year will show a pattern of violence and conniving.

He said stories will be told of wrecking rivals' machines, setting up labor unions specifically to help smother competition, and interunion fights in which unionists sometimes picketed each other.

The committee's chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has announced that more than 100 witnesses are under subpoena for the hearings, scheduled for January.

"Some of the nation's top hoodlums have been summoned to appear," he said, adding some high officials of labor unions also will be called.

The committee Thursday heard testimony that Frank Cammarata of Warren, Ohio, a former Detroit gangster, used his influence with big shot mobsters to help settle "wars" between juke box operators in Detroit and Youngstown, Ohio.

Cammarata, just out of a Michigan prison and under orders to leave the country or be kicked out, refused to answer the committee's questions. He pleaded that answers might incriminate him.

The committee scheduled for Monday or Tuesday a further brief public hearing to disclose a little more of its evidence. It named Joseph Blumetti, a Teamsters Union business agent in Youngstown, as the only scheduled witness for that hearing.

The inquiry is to recess then until after Congress reconvenes Jan 7.

Miss Margaret Tice, daughter of Mrs. Georgia Tice, and the late Ralph M. Tice, 1707 Idaho Ave., became the bride of Frank L. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young of Grimms Bridge, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Robert Turner, pastor, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a pale blue suit with Navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Tice, a brother and sister of the principals, were the attendants. Mrs. Tice wore a green dress with black accessories.

The bride is a 1954 graduate of East Liverpool High School and is employed in the office of the National Church Supply Co. in Chester.

The bridegroom works at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

They are residing in Calcutta.

The annual Christmas dinner of the "53" Club was held Tuesday night in the IOOF Hall in East End and guests were members of Ohio City Rebekah Lodge 782 and the degree staff.

Clarence Smith gave the blessing.

Mrs. Lessie Thomas read the Christmas story from Luke 2. Poems were given by Mrs. Kay Blankenship, "A Christmas Wish,' and Mrs. Margaret Stillwell, "Celebrating Christmas for 1958."

Group singing of carols were accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Blankenship.

Mrs. Mae Esenhuth, retiring president, conducted business. Mrs. Thomas gave the opening prayer.

Appointed to the nominating committee were Mrs. Gladys Bishop, Mrs. Elizabeth Czech and Mrs. Thomas. Mrs. Ruth Tucker will be program chairman.

The sum of $10 was given to the Columbiana County children's Christmas fund. The committee to pack Christmas boxes for shut-ins was named, including Mrs. Jennie Pretty, Mrs. Gertrude Smith and Mrs. Nancy Curtiss.

Mrs. Blankenship, secretary, was instructed to send Christmas cards to out - of - town members.

Officers for the next term are Mrs. Gladys Bishop, president; Mrs. Sadie Whitney, vice president, and Mrs. Blankenship, secretary.

A yellow and gold Christmas tree and miniature choir boy candles were used on the tables. Christmas favors were at each place. A gift exchange was held.

Mrs. Essie Boles was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Pretty, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Curtiss and Mrs. Blankenship.

Mrs. Smith, 529 College St., will be hostess Jan. 6 with Mrs. Bishop associate.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Officers were retained when the L. G. Club met Tuesday night with Mrs. Wilma Tresler of Holliday St.

They are: Mrs. Tresler, president; Mrs. Florence Hanson, vice president; Mrs. Virginia Ward, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Hughey, treasurer.

"The Miracle at Christmas" was presented by Mrs. Kathryn McCall for devotions and for Scripture she used Luke 2. Mrs. Lucille Rodgers gave the prayer.

Club members arranged the calendar for the coming year. A love gift of $17 was pledged for a needy family and plans were completed to prepare a Christmas basket.

Christmas cards were signed for former members, Mrs. Faye Walters of Compton, Calif., Mrs. Florence Carpenter of Los Angeles, Mrs. Marjorie Morgan of Ft. Bragg, N. C., Mrs. Elva Mae Cole of Pittsburgh, Tex., and Mrs. Harriet Cline of Bell, Calif.

Cheer sisters were revealed with a gift exchange and new ones were chosen.

Cindy Jackson, a guest, won the mystery gift.

Lunch was served 11 by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Effie Morgan.

Mrs. Jessie Gilson of Pennsylvania Ave. will be hostess Jan. 6. Mrs. Hanson will have the worship and Mrs. Frances Ealy the games. Mrs. Doris Jackson will bring the mystery gift.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

New circle names will be drawn at the Christmas party Tuesday night for the combined circles of the Presbyterian Women's Organization at the Second Presbyterian Church.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Officers were elected at the meeting of the Private Duty Section of the East Liverpool Nurses Alumnae Association Wednesday night with Mrs. Miriam Calhoun of Commerce St., Wellsville.

They are: Mrs. Virginia McFall, president; Mrs. Gladys Maxwell, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Hazel Ludwig, treasurer.

A Christmas theme was used in the buffet decorations for the luncheon served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wilma Nichols.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Why do you always assume the female is the wide-eyed, innocent flower led astray by the predatory lecherous male? I'd like to relate a recent experience and if you have any comments, let's have them.

My buddy and I (we are both old enough to vote) were in a high-class cocktail lounge the other evening. We were not looking for company. Two flashy but attractive girls came in and sat at the next table. They smiled and nodded. Before you could say rum and cola they were sitting at our table.

After a half hour of flea-brain conversation they asked if he had a car as it was smokey and warm in the bistro and "some fresh air would be nice." We wound up at the apartment of one of the girls. There was so much junk around we had trouble finding a place to sit.

When the music went on and the lights got dim I gave my buddy the "Let's get out of here" look. I don't need to draw any diagrams. We could have stayed till dawn if we'd wanted to. In fact the girls seemed very disappointed when we left.

This goes on all the time. So why not present the male side occasionally? Many high-type fellows with good taste are victimized this way. Of course you'll never print this letter because you are too militant a feminist.—PHIL.

Dear Phil: High-type fellows of discriminating taste pass up the ham hocks if it's guinea hen they're interested in.

Granted, these girls picked you up but they didn't slip a sack over your heads and drag you away. You went willingly.

Life is a series of choices. The choices we make determine the direction in which we travel. A few bum choices like this could land a decent (but stupid) guy in plenty of trouble.

Who picked up whom is simply a technicality once you get together, Buster, so stay away from dogs if you don't want fleas.

Barnard To Smith

Dear Ann: This is an open letter to "Smith '50." I've never written to an advice column before but I couldn't contain myself when I read her letter.

"Smith '50" apparently cannot resist the urge to help her friends improve themselves by rudely interrupting their conversation with high-handed grammatical corrections.

If I may be so bold, I'd like to make a suggestion for HER self-improvement. It appears to me that this woman has missed out on a very important lesson not taught in college (even Smith!) — The value of tolerating shortcomings in others.

If this woman has any friends left perhaps she will come to realize that consideration for the feelings of other people is far more important than perfect grammar. —BARNARD '55.

Build Up Ego

Dear Ann: I'm the mother of two little girls. The older one is 4. She's nice looking but by no means beautiful. Her sister who is almost 3 is gorgeous.

Everyone makes such a fuss over the younger child that it's causing a real problem. I find myself taking them out separately because when I have them together, the younger one gets all the compliments and the older one hides behind my skirt or says something uncalled for to get attention.

The relatives are the worst offenders. They shower the pretty child with affection and ignore the other one. What can I do? I fear they both will suffer from this.—C.M.M.

Put the emphasis on achievement, good behavior and go heavy on the rewards when the older one does something well. Build up her ego. And for heaven's sake have a frank talk with the relatives! Explain the damage they do by showing favoritism. Ask for their cooperation.

When outsiders make a fuss over the beauty, give them the eye and cut them short. They'll understand.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mass Funeral In Chicago

Solemn Requiem Mass Due 28 School Fire Victims

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-eight small coffins lay in a military armory today for last solemn tributes to the young victims of Monday's parochial school fire.

Black and purple draperies hung in the big drill hall and a portable altar stood at the front. There was no church big enough for the funeral.

The Most Rev. Albert Gregory Meyer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, will offer the Solemn Requiem Mass for the 28 children. Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, will attend.

The Mass in the 6,100-seat armory was not opened to the public. Families of the 28 children were given 150 tickets each to distribute among parents, relatives and close friends.

Students from all Catholic parochial schools will attend services in some 400 churches in the Chicago archdiocese.

Nineteen of the 28 will be buried in Holy Innocents Shrine, a special place for children in Queen of Heaven Cemetery. Burial for the others was planned in three cemeteries.

Four of the 87 children and three nuns who died when flames swept Our Lady of the Angels School were buried Thursday. Private services will be held in churches today for many of the other children. Other services will be held Saturday.

Meanwhile, scores of medical authorities — including two Army doctors — worked to save the living, 70 injured still hospitalized, 11 of them on the critical list.

A special detail of 50 Fire Department officers stepped up city-wide inspection of school buildings.

Blood donations for the fire victims were coming in at the rate of 150 pints a day. An estimated $79,300 was received or pledged for medical expenses of the injured and help of needy survivors.

5 From Midland Area Face Indictment Trials

Five of 13 true bills returned during Thursday's session of the Beaver County Grand Jury named Midland area residents on seven counts.

One not true bill was returned. Thursday's session ended the Grand Jury presentments and trials will start Monday.

Those indicted were Frank Musser and James Veglia of Midland and Richard Feydo of Industry on a joint charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Musser and Feydo also will appear on another contributing charge. They were cited by W. L. Ambrose, county probation officer.

Mike Vojnovich was indicted on charges of fornication and bastardy and Resden Samuels on charges of neglect of support of children, adultery and bastardy. Both are of Midland.

Canada's air defense system is substituting missiles for jet plane interceptors, a vast saving in the budget.

Tax Assessor Explains New Beaver Plan To Midland Lions

Robert Zapsic, of Midland, Beaver County chief tax assessor, discussed the new Beaver County tax assessment program at a meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday evening at Deramo's Restaurant.

Zapsic said the new program, effective Jan. 1, is aimed at equalizing property taxes in the county.

About 60 to 70 per cent of Midland property owners face higher taxes, he said. The millage rates will remain about the same as this year and in some cases will be lower. The county millage rate for next year will drop from 13 mills to 9, he said.

Higher taxes will be due to increased assessments. Taxes would have been even higher but the Crucible Steel Co. offered to continue paying voluntarily its machinery tax.

In Aliquippa, the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. refused to continue paying its tax and owners there face a 50 per cent increase.

Under the new tax law adopted 3 years ago, machinery is untaxable and some 63 counties had to set up new tax programs.

In Beaver County, county commissioners assessed property at 30 per cent of the "fair market value."

Under the new program, the county and borough can increase taxes each year no more than 5 per cent and the school board, no more than 10 per cent.

Persons receiving tax assessment notices have 30 days in which to appeal and should consult an appraiser in the tax office at Beaver, he said.

Property owners in the future can make up to $1,000 in improvements without the assessed value being increased.

Ernie Lee, chairman of the club Christmas tree sale, said they will be sold Dec. 10-24 with proceeds to go to the sight conservation program.

The Board of Directors will meet next Thursday evening at Deramo's.

First 1958 Fire Loss Occurs At Irondale

IRONDALE — The first fire loss of 1958 was recorded here Thursday night when approximately $200 damage was caused at the home of Walter Cope, Fire Chief Oliver Nicholson said.

Chief Nicholson said hot ashes in the furnace ash pit ignited the wooden floor. A piece of asbestos under the furnace had deteriorated and the heat reached the flooring, he explained.

Firemen were forced to cut through the floor to reach the blaze since the house does not have a basement, Nicholson continued.

Thirteen firemen responded to the alarm at 5:15 p. m. and the fire was under control 45 minutes later.

Oldest Cardinal Dies

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Jose Maria Cardinal Caro, 92, archbishop of Santiago and oldest member of the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, died Thursday. Cardinal Caro became titular head of the Roman Catholic Church in Chile as archbishop of Santiago in 1939.

Two Drivers Involved In Wellsville Mishaps

Two drivers were involved in auto accidents Thursday night in Wellsville, police reported.

A car driven by Kenneth Holsaple of Wintersville struck a car operated by Charles Leatherberry, 210 8th St., at 8:15 p. m. at 3rd and Main Sts., police said. Holsaple was driving left of center, police added.

An auto driven by Ed Bettis of Salineville R. D. 1 struck the parked car of Charles Wilfing, 208 7th St., at 9:50 p. m. The accident occurred near Wilfing's home, police said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Why do you always assume the female is the wide-eyed, innocent flower led astray by the predatory lecherous male? I'd like to relate a recent experience and if you have any comments, let's have them.

My buddy and I (we are both old enough to vote) were in a high-class cocktail lounge the other evening. We were not looking for company. Two flashy but attractive girls came in and sat at the next table. They smiled and nodded. Before you could say rum and cola they were sitting at our table.

After a half hour of flea-brain conversation they asked if he had a car as it was smokey and warm in the bistro and "some fresh air would be nice." We wound up at the apartment of one of the girls. There was so much junk around we had trouble finding a place to sit.

When the music went on and the lights got dim I gave my buddy the "Let's get out of here" look. I don't need to draw any diagrams. We could have stayed till dawn if we'd wanted to. In fact the girls seemed very disappointed when we left.

This goes on all the time. So why not present the male side occasionally? Many high-type fellows with good taste are victimized this way. Of course you'll never print this letter because you are too militant a feminist.—PHIL.

Dear Phil: High-type fellows of discriminating taste pass up the ham hocks if it's guinea hen they're interested in.

Granted, these girls picked you up but they didn't slip a sack over your heads and drag you away. You went willingly.

Life is a series of choices. The choices we make determine the direction in which we travel. A few bum choices like this could land a decent (but stupid) guy in plenty of trouble.

Who picked up whom is simply a technicality once you get together, Buster, so stay away from dogs if you don't want fleas.

Barnard To Smith

Dear Ann: This is an open letter to "Smith '50." I've never written to an advice column before but I couldn't contain myself when I read her letter.

"Smith '50" apparently cannot resist the urge to help her friends improve themselves by rudely interrupting their conversation with high-handed grammatical corrections.

If I may be so bold, I'd like to make a suggestion for HER self-improvement. It appears to me that this woman has missed out on a very important lesson not taught in college (even Smith!) — The value of tolerating shortcomings in others.

If this woman has any friends left perhaps she will come to realize that consideration for the feelings of other people is far more important than perfect grammar. —BARNARD '55.

Build Up Ego

Dear Ann: I'm the mother of two little girls. The older one is 4. She's nice looking but by no means beautiful. Her sister who is almost 3 is gorgeous.

Everyone makes such a fuss over the younger child that it's causing a real problem. I find myself taking them out separately because when I have them together, the younger one gets all the compliments and the older one hides behind my skirt or says something uncalled for to get attention.

The relatives are the worst offenders. They shower the pretty child with affection and ignore the other one. What can I do? I fear they both will suffer from this.—C.M.M.

Put the emphasis on achievement, good behavior and go heavy on the rewards when the older one does something well. Build up her ego. And for heaven's sake have a frank talk with the relatives! Explain the damage they do by showing favoritism. Ask for their cooperation.

When outsiders make a fuss over the beauty, give them the eye and cut them short. They'll understand.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First 1958 Fire Loss Occurs At Irondale

IRONDALE — The first fire loss of 1958 was recorded here Thursday night when approximately $200 damage was caused at the home of Walter Cope, Fire Chief Oliver Nicholson said.

Chief Nicholson said hot ashes in the furnace ash pit ignited the wooden floor. A piece of asbestos under the furnace had deteriorated and the heat reached the flooring, he explained.

Firemen were forced to cut through the floor to reach the blaze since the house does not have a basement, Nicholson continued.

Thirteen firemen responded to the alarm at 5:15 p. m. and the fire was under control 45 minutes later.

Oldest Cardinal Dies

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Jose Maria Cardinal Caro, 92, archbishop of Santiago and oldest member of the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, died Thursday. Cardinal Caro became titular head of the Roman Catholic Church in Chile as archbishop of Santiago in 1939.

Mass Funeral In Chicago

Solemn Requiem Mass Due 28 School Fire Victims

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-eight small coffins lay in a military armory today for last solemn tributes to the young victims of Monday's parochial school fire.

Black and purple draperies hung in the big drill hall and a portable altar stood at the front. There was no church big enough for the funeral.

The Most Rev. Albert Gregory Meyer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, will offer the Solemn Requiem Mass for the 28 children. Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, will attend.

The Mass in the 6,100-seat armory was not opened to the public. Families of the 28 children were given 150 tickets each to distribute among parents, relatives and close friends.

Students from all Catholic parochial schools will attend services in some 400 churches in the Chicago archdiocese.

Nineteen of the 28 will be buried in Holy Innocents Shrine, a special place for children in Queen of Heaven Cemetery. Burial for the others was planned in three cemeteries.

Four of the 87 children and three nuns who died when flames swept Our Lady of the Angels School were buried Thursday. Private services will be held in churches today for many of the other children. Other services will be held Saturday.

Meanwhile, scores of medical authorities — including two Army doctors — worked to save the living, 70 injured still hospitalized, 11 of them on the critical list.

A special detail of 50 Fire Department officers stepped up citywide inspection of school buildings.

Blood donations for the fire victims were coming in at the rate of 150 pints a day. An estimated $79,300 was received or pledged for medical expenses of the injured and help of needy survivors.

Tax Assessor Explains New Beaver Plan To Midland Lions

Robert Zapsic, of Midland, Beaver County chief tax assessor, discussed the new Beaver County tax assessment program at a meeting of the Midland Lions Club Thursday evening at Deramo's Restaurant.

Zapsic said the new program, effective Jan. 1, is aimed at equalizing property taxes in the county.

About 60 to 70 per cent of Midland property owners face higher taxes, he said. The millage rates will remain about the same as this year and in some cases will be lower. The county millage rate for next year will drop from 13 mills to 9, he said.

Higher taxes will be due to increased assessments. Taxes would have been even higher but the Crucible Steel Co. offered to continue paying voluntarily its machinery tax.

In Aliquippa, the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. refused to continue paying its tax and owners there face a 50 per cent increase.

Under the new tax law adopted 3 years ago, machinery is untaxable and some 63 counties had to set up new tax programs.

In Beaver County, county commissioners assessed property at 30 per cent of the "fair market value."

Under the new program, the county and borough can increase taxes each year no more than 5 per cent and the school board, no more than 10 per cent.

Persons receiving tax assessment notices have 30 days in which to appeal and should consult an appraiser in the tax office at Beaver, he said.

Property owners in the future can make up to $1,000 in improvements without the assessed value being increased.

Ernie Lee, chairman of the club Christmas tree sale, said they will be sold Dec. 10-24 with proceeds to go to the sight conservation program.

The Board of Directors will meet next Thursday evening at Deramo's.

Two Drivers Involved In Wellsville Mishaps

Two drivers were involved in auto accidents Thursday night in Wellsville, police reported.

A car driven by Kenneth Holsaple of Wintersville struck a car operated by Charles Leatherberry, 210 8th St., at 8:15 p. m. at 3rd and Main Sts., police said. Holsaple was driving left of center, police added.

An auto driven by Ed Bettis of Salineville R. D. 1 struck the parked car of Charles Wilfing, 208 7th St., at 9:50 p. m. The accident occurred near Wilfing's home, police said.

5 From Midland Area Face Indictment Trials

Five of 13 true bills returned during Thursday's session of the Beaver County Grand Jury named Midland area residents on seven counts.

One not true bill was returned. Thursday's session ended the Grand Jury presentments and trials will start Monday.

Those indicted were Frank Musser and James Veglia of Midland and Richard Feydo of Industry on a joint charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Musser and Feydo also will appear on another contributing charge. They were cited by W. L. Ambrose, county probation officer.

Mike Vojnovich was indicted on charges of fornication and bastardy and Reseen Samuels on charges of neglect of support of children, adultery and bastardy. Both are of Midland.

Possible 'Murder Blueprint'

Officer Spends Spare Time Reading Murder Mysteries

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lt. Charles Martin, head of Cincinnati's police homicide squad, is spending most of his spare time these days reading murder mysteries—and it's not just for relaxation.

Seeking a possible "blueprint for murder", Martin disclosed he is reading the 21 murder mystery books found in the home of Mrs. Edythe Klumpp.

Mrs. Klumpp, the 40-year-old blonde part-time school teacher, is charged with the murder of Mrs. Martha Louise Bergen, 32, last Oct. 30. She has been bound over to the grand jury. Mrs. Bergen's badly burned body was found at Lake Cowan in Clinton County on Nov. 1.

After her arrest, police said Mrs. Klumpp admitted being involved in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Bergen but claimed it was accidental. They said she told them the shooting occurred when she sought to prevail on Mrs. Bergen to divorce her estrange husband so he and Mrs. Klumpp could be married. They said she admitted setting the body afire.

Martin said the mystery novels found in Mrs. Klumpp's home include five so-called "classics."

The lieutenant also is devoting a big share of his working hours to the case. Thursday he supervised a long re-examination of Mrs. Klumpp's automobile in which she said the shooting occurred.

Police are seeking the bullet but did not disclose whether they found it.

Mrs. Klumpp's story that Mrs. Bergen was shot as they grappled for a gun came after Dr. Frank Cleveland, Cincinnati patholigist reported his examination showed Mrs. Bergen's skull was smashed.

Approved By OEA Convention Delegates

County's In New Teachers Assn.

CLEVELAND (AP)— Delegates to the Ohio Education Assn. convention here have approved a new East Central Ohio Teachers Assn., formed by lopping off sections of two of the present seven OEA districts.

The east central district, approved by almost unanimous vote Thursday night by the 840 convention delegates, takes a four-county bite out of the huge Northeastern Ohio Teachers Assn. and a two-county hunk from the Eastern Ohio Teachers Assn.

The four counties are Holmes, Columbiana, Stark and Wayne. Their loss cuts the membership of NEOTA by 3,247, reducing its size from 24,000 to 20,753 members.

Taken from the eastern district are Tuscarawas and Carroll Counties.

The eastern district lost additional membership as a result of two other transfers approved by the convention. Washington County and Belpre were transferred from the eastern to the southern district, leaving the eastern district with 3,124 members, compared with 4,259 before the transfers and division.

Two other transfers approved by the convention take Hillsboro from the southwestern district and place it in the central district and transfer Preble County from southwestern to western district.

In another action, the convention passed a resolution asking the legal department of the OEA to make a complete study of the battle between school districts and public libraries over financing of school libraries.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled early this year that a school system must pay for its libraries if it is able to do so. That ruling in a Ross County case has precipitated a heated battle here. The Cleveland Public Library early this week asked the school system to boost its payments for school libraries by more than $600,000 for 1959.

The resolution, presented by Joseph H. Avellone of Cleveland, said the legal department should study the question with an eye toward either bringing a legal test case or suggesting new legislation.

Nominations for officers placed the name of Miss Sylvia Todd, Lakewood Elementary School teacher, on the ballot unopposed for the presidency, thus assuring her election today.

Harland B. Horton, principal of Akron South High School, is unopposed for vice president, and Ralph Miller of Findlay was the sole nominee for a board of directors vacancy.

Nominated for the educational council, a research group, were 21 persons, with 10 to be elected. The nominees included:

Howard Andreas, Worthington; Charles G. Andrews, Canton; William Beacham, Youngstown, R.F. Bueck, North Canton; Blanche Linton, Nelsonville; Lowell Myers, Alliance; W. M. Schall, Brecksville; Joseph R. Sligo, Ohio University; Ralph W. Ward, Columbiana; H. Howard Lash, Hartville; John H. Delong, Painesville; Wilfred F. Fries, Willoughby-Eastlake; Elizabeth Russell, Akron, and Eleanor Tilton, Ashtabula.

In his opening speech to the convention, John P. McDowell, superintendent of Hudson schools and president of the OEA, told the delegates: "Let's think big in our financial proposals."

Declaring that "we cannot provide top level education on a subsistence level," McDowell said educators may have been too timid in asking financial support from the public.

He saw 1958 as the year in which professional educational groups "really came into their own."

In this year the public went through a period first of being literally scared to death "by Russian technical advances, then being furious at finding Russia ahead of us. This was followed by criticism of public education and, finally, by agreement to "take the most searching look at education in our history."

Robert W. McClain, salary consultant for the National Education Assn., said Ohio's average instructional wage of $4,900 a year was $35 under the national average. The averages, he noted, include principals and superintendents as well as classroom teachers.

New Yorker Gets TST Fellowship With Alfred U.

Marvin E. Triguba of New York City has been selected as the first recipient of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. fellowship in American ceramics, R. B. Smith, president of the pottery firm, announced today.

The fellowship was established by TST to further American design in domestic ceramics. It will be offered annually to an outstanding student of design at Alfred University in Alfred, N. Y.

Triguba is a senior majoring in fine arts but future recipients probably will be graduate students, the firm said.

He is spending this semester studying at TST under the supervision of John Gilkes, head of the design department. He will return to Alfred University next semester to complete his work.

Triguba received his education at the High School of Industrial Arts and the School of Advertising and Editorial Art in New York. He served as a staff sergeant with the Air Force.

Boosters Discuss Band Party Plans

Final plans were made for the annual Christmas party for the Midland High School varsity band when the Band Boosters Club met in the Music Forum Wednesday night with Mrs. Joseph Benek, president, presiding.

The party for musicians and guests will be held Saturday, Dec. 13, in the Steelworkers Union Hall. A buffet luncheon will be served and Duke Perrotta's orchestra of Midland will furnish the music for dancing. Mrs. Mitchell Disdore, social chairman, is in charge, assisted by the members of the board and band mothers.

The group made arrangements to store the blankets purchased recently for bandsmen by the club. Senior members of the band will have the preference to receive either a Navy blue jacket or a savings bond to be presented them in the near future.

A public card party will be held Jan. 14 at Deramo's Restaurant.

The next meeting will be in January, date to be announced later.

Alliance, Massillon Sewage Loans Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration today approved two loans totaling $357,700 to complete planning for sewerage facilities in Alliance and Massillon and adjacent areas of Stark County, Ohio.

The advances were requested by the Stark County Board of Commissioners, which proposes the development of a unified sewerage system to serve 11 sewer districts at an estimated cost of $10,855,500.

Court Business Shows Increase Of 42 Cases

LISBON — There was an increase of 42 cases in Columbiana County Common Pleas Courts during November, according to report to the administration assistant of the Ohio Supreme Court by the clerk of courts office.

A total of 964 cases were on the docket Nov. 1, with 68 new cases filed during the month for a total of 1,032 pending. The two court divisions disposed of 110 cases, leaving 922 on file as of Dec. 1.

Of the 110 disposed of, 12 were tried by the court, 5 tried by a jury, 8 were cognovit judgments and 85 others were settled and dismissed.

The 7th District Court of Appeals had nine cases pending as of Dec. 1.

Heart Operation Promises Life For Little Findlay Boy

CLEVELAND (AP)—The heart, beating inside the little chest of blond, blue-eyed Rusty Breyman at Marymount Hospital today has a new and different sound today—a sound promising life, instead of death.

The 18-month-old Findlay boy was on the operating table for four hours Thursday while a team of 15 persons labored to mend a congenital heart defect.

His father, Pliny Breyman, 26, and grandfather, Kark Breyman, of Arcadia and 16 other Hancock County residents were on hand to give blood.

Dr. John J. Kralik, who headed the operation in which a heart-lung machine was used, described what was done this way:

"The boy's heart had what we call an arerial septal defect—an opening between the upper two chambers. We put a patch of ivalon in the hole. Ivalon is a finely pourous, chemically pure sponge. The heart will let blood cells into that sponge and incorporate it into its tissue, making a firm wall.

"No, it won't be absorbed—it will be there like a lattice work. "Blood was blocked from leaving the heart and going into the lung, too. The circulating chamber on the right side was obstructed, and we removed the obstruction and now blood flows in a normal channel to the lungs."

Rusty's heart defect was discovered when he was about six months old.

"He had a hard time breathing," his mother, Mary 23, said. Then it got worse and surgery could no longer be delayed.

Another three days will be needed to tell whether the operation was successful, but Dr. Kralik said he didn't "anticipate any more trouble."

Thursday night the boy's parents, who also have two little girls, Sherri, 3, and Susan, 3 months, went to see Rusty after he had regained consciousness.

"He was awake and recognized us. But he was still awfully sleepy and would doze off," his father said.

Breyman, an employe of the Findlay street department, said he and his wife would return to Findlay late today, then come back Saturday.

4-H News

LISBON — The 1959 Columbiana County 4-H Steer Club has 40 members with 58 steers, mostly Angus and Herefords, according to Don Myers, assistant county extension agent.

The club shows an increase both in membership and number of steers.

Members will show their animals next August during the County Fair. The 4-H steer auction sale is always a fair feature.

Members purchased their animals between Sept. 20 and Nov. 1. Rules called for a top limit of 32 cents per pound and in the 300-to-450-pound range, Myers said.

Three Are Killed When Homemade Rocket Explodes

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — A homemade rocket exploded early today at a plant which manufactures missile fuel, killing three young engineers who helped build the device.

Four others were injured by the blast at the Callery Chemical Co. Two of them, both engineers who worked on the rocket, were critically hurt.

Dead were Charles Sattes, 31; William Reynolds, 29; and Frank Wengrzyn, 24, all former Pennsylvanians who lived at Lawrence.

Injured were Richard Wright, 26, Elmer Boyd, 38, both engineers, and two maintenance men, B. J. Leavitt and J. Longstreth, all of Lawrence. Leavitt and Longstreth were treated at a hospital and released.

R. G. Schmidt, manager of the plant, said the rocket exploded in a waste disposal area. It caused no damage. The plant makes boron, used as a propellant for intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Approved By OEA Convention Delegates

County's In New Teachers Assn.

CLEVELAND (AP)— Delegates to the Ohio Education Assn. convention here have approved a new East Central Ohio Teachers Assn., formed by lopping off sections of two of the present seven OEA districts.

The east central district, approved by almost unanimous vote Thursday night by the 840 convention delegates, takes a four-county bite out of the huge Northeastern Ohio Teachers Assn. and a two-county hunk from the Eastern Ohio Teachers Assn.

The four counties are Holmes, Columbiana, Stark and Wayne. Their loss cuts the membership of NEOTA by 3,247, reducing its size from 24,000 to 20,753 members.

Taken from the eastern district are Tuscarawas and Carroll Counties.

The eastern district lost additional membership as a result of two other transfers approved by the convention. Washington County and Belpre were transferred from the eastern to the southern district, leaving the eastern district with 3,124 members, compared with 4,259 before the transfers and division.

Two other transfers approved by the convention take Hillsboro from the southwestern district and place it in the central district and transfer Preble County from southwestern to western district.

In another action, the convention passed a resolution asking the legal department of the OEA to make a complete study of the battle between school districts and public libraries over financing of school libraries.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled early this year that a school system must pay for its libraries if it is able to do so. That ruling in a Ross County case has precipitated a heated battle here. The Cleveland Public Library early this week asked the school system to boost its payments for school libraries by more than $600,000 for 1959.

The resolution, presented by Joseph H. Avellone of Cleveland, said the legal department should study the question with an eye toward either bringing a legal test case or suggesting new legislation.

Nominations for officers placed the name of Miss Sylvia Todd, Lakewood Elementary School teacher, on the ballot unopposed for the presidency, thus assuring her election today.

Harland B. Horton, principal of Akron South High School, is unopposed for vice president, and Ralph Miller of Findlay was the sole nominee for a board of directors vacancy.

Nominated for the educational council, a research group, were 21 persons, with 10 to be elected. The nominees included:

Howard Andreas, Worthington; Charles G. Andrews, Canton; William Beacham, Youngstown, R.F. Bueck, North Canton; Blanche Linton, Nelsonville; Lowell Myers, Alliance; W. M. Schall, Brecksville; Joseph R. Sligo, Ohio University; Ralph W. Ward, Columbiana; H. Howard Lash, Hartville; John H. Delong, Painesville; Wilfred F. Fries, Willoughby-Eastlake; Elizabeth Russell, Akron, and Eleanor Tilton, Ashtabula.

In his opening speech to the convention, John P. McDowell, superintendent of Hudson schools and president of the OEA, told the delegates: "Let's think big in our financial proposals."

Declaring that "we cannot provide top level education on a subsistence level," McDowell said educators may have been too timid in asking financial support from the public.

He saw 1958 as the year in which professional educational groups "really came into their own."

In this year the public went through a period first of being literally scared to death "by Russian technical advances, then being furious at finding Russia ahead of us. This was followed by criticism of public education and, finnally, by agreement to "take the most searching look at education in our history."

Robert W. McClain, salary consultant for the National Education Assn., said Ohio's average instructional wage of $4,900 a year was $35 under the national average. The averages, he noted, include principals and superintendents as well as classroom teachers.

Dairy Firm's Order Against City Dissolved

McAllister's Court Restrainer Ended; Validity Rule Waited

A temporary restraining order forbidding the city from interfering with deliveries of milk here by McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., of Warren was dissolved Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

In his journal entry on the case, Judge Sharp said he issued the restraining order Nov. 26 under a misapprehension of the procedure involved in obtaining a permit to sell milk within the city.

Rescinding the temporary order allows the city to continue to enforce its milk licensing ordinance until the court hears an action for a declaratory judgment filed by the dairy firm.

The action asks the court to rule on the validity and constitutionality of the ordinance passed in 1954. No date has been set for this hearing.

If the dairy firm sold its products without a permit from the Board of Health, it would be liable to prosecution by the board regardless of the validity of the city ordinance, Judge Sharp said.

McAllister's petition asking the temporary injunction and declaratory judgment did not complain about the health board's refusal to issue a permit for the sale of milk, cream and dairy products, the judge said.

In the temporary restraining order, Judge Sharp ordered the city not to interfere with milk deliveries and to issue McAllister a temporary permit. The dairy firm was told to pay the usual permit and inspection fees.

The hearing yesterday was requested by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper. Atty. Donald D. Shay represents McAllister's.

McAllister filed the action after a truck driver for the dairy firm was arrested Nov. 25 on a charge of bringing milk into the city illegally for sale.

Dennis George Langham of Warren posted a $56 bond for his release. No date has been set for his hearing.

His arrest was a followup on a health board announcement Nov. 5 that McAllister had been denied a permit to sell milk in East Liverpool. Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, in announcing the board's decision said it resulted from "inspection of numerous samples of milk delivered into the city and inspection of the milk processing plant at Warren.

"The first inspection Sept. 11 revealed numerous violations of the city milk code, which violations were brought to the attention of the dairy company. The second inspection was on Oct. 2 and this indicated no improvements or corrections in the reported violations had been made except in minor respects," the statement said.

Steel-Nerved Warden Hero In Rescue Of Two Guards

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — A steel-nerved warden led 25 lawmen storming into barricades at the Arizona State Prison Thursday night and rescued two guards held by rebellious convicts.

Despite warnings from the 46 insurgent prisoners that they would kill their hostages if attacked, Warden Frank Eyman decided to call their bluff—and won his desperate gamble.

Moises Adams, 33, an inmate convicted of statutory rape, was shot in the back during the furious assault. He was reported in poor condition but expected to live.

About 300 National Guardsmen, deputies, police officers, guards and civilian volunteers ringed the walls with rifles and automatic weapons to guard against new outbreaks. The riot was quelled at 11 p.m.

Guards Calvin Hunt, 33, who came to Arizona from Winthrop, Maine, and Scott Wright, 30, formerly of Ardmore, Okla., were held hostage for nearly an hour.

Both later expressed fear the prisoners would have killed them with their homemade knives after the warden announced he would not bow to inmates' demands to take over the prison.

"They told me to 'tell them guys (the lawmen) not to come any closer or we'll kill you,'" said Wright. "I didn't say anything."

At this point, Warden Eyman, a graying, 60-year-old former sheriff armed with a .45 automatic pistol, shouted to the barricaded convicts: "If you S-O-Bs even so much as scratch my men, I'll kill all of you."

The other 1,400 prisoners remained in their cells throughout the crisis.

The prison, 70 miles southeast of Phoenix, was officially opened in 1912. It was built to accommodate 700. The convicts staged an abortive sitdown strike earlier this week to protest what they termed poor food, inadequate clothing and crowded conditions.

Dairy Firm's Order Against City Dissolved

McAllister's Court Restrainer Ended; Validity Rule Waited

A temporary restraining order forbidding the city from interfering with deliveries of milk here by McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., of Warren was dissolved Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

In his journal entry on the case, Judge Sharp said he issued the restraining order Nov. 26 under a misapprehension of the procedure involved in obtaining a permit to sell milk within the city.

Rescinding the temporary order allows the city to continue to enforce its milk licensing ordinance until the court hears an action for a declaratory judgment filed by the dairy firm.

The action asks the court to rule on the validity and constitutionality of the ordinance passed in 1954. No date has been set for this hearing.

If the dairy firm sold its products without a permit from the Board of Health, it would be liable to prosecution by the board regardless of the validity of the city ordinance, Judge Sharp said.

McAllister's petition asking the temporary injunction and declaratory judgment did not complain about the health board's refusal to issue a permit for the sale of milk, cream and dairy products, the judge said.

In the temporary restraining order, Judge Sharp ordered the city not to interfere with milk deliveries and to issue McAllister a temporary permit. The dairy firm was told to pay the usual permit and inspection fees.

The hearing yesterday was requested by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper. Atty. Donald D. Shay represents McAllister's.

McAllister filed the action after a truck driver for the dairy firm was arrested Nov. 25 on a charge of bringing milk into the city illegally for sale.

Dennis George Langham of Warren posted a $56 bond for his release. No date has been set for his hearing.

His arrest was a followup on a health board announcement Nov. 5 that McAllister had been denied a permit to sell milk in East Liverpool. Dr. E. G. Santa and the ELF BOY

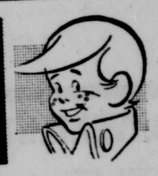
by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE



(Esteban is a happy little elf, but everything he does goes wrong. Now the Queen Fairy has given him one last chance—the Sandman's job of putting all the children to sleep. But Esteban has forgotten his task and is reading a book with a boy.)

CHAPTER TWO

Page after page the boy read while Esteban lay on the pillow and looked at the pictures and thrilled to the tale.

When the story was ended Esteban raised his head. "What a story!" he exclaimed. Then his eyes filled with alarm and he sprang to his feet.

"Look," he cried. "It's morning!"

Sure enough, while the boy had read the night had passed away. And children all over the world were happy because they had not closed their eyes that night. But their mothers did not like it.

The Queen Fairy called Esteban to her and said, "Now this is the end, the very end. You are just too careless. I really do not see how we can keep you in Fairyland any longer."

—:—

ESTEBAN hung his head. He felt very sad. He didn't know what he would do if he had to leave Fairyland.

But it happened that Santa Claus was visiting the Queen Fairy that week and when he saw how sad Esteban was Santa said to the Queen, "Why not give him one more chance?"

The Queen said, "Well, the Sandman is still sick and there really isn't anyone else I can spare so maybe Esteban can . . ."

"Oh, yes!" cried Esteban. "I'll do it right this time—you'll see!"

And he ran away and began preparing his sand for the night. He threw away all the sand he had not used the night before and filled the bag with sand twice as soft and fine as he had had before.

He filled the bag very full and carried it down and put it at the bottom of a hill so it would be ready for him that night.

After dinner he dressed in his very best clothes and, as he stood in front of the mirror combing his hair, he promised himself that he would do nothing foolish this night.

"Why not give him one more chance?" said Santa to the Queen.

HE FELT so good as he started out after the bag of sand that he started to run, and as he ran he sang.

Down the hill he went, pell-mell. Suddenly he tripped in the darkness and shot head first to the bottom of the hill, landing with his face buried in his own bag of sand.

In two seconds the sand had put him sound asleep and there was no one making the Sandman's rounds that night.

The next morning the Queen Fairy called Esteban before a meeting of all the elves and fairies and sprites of Fairyland.

"I am sorry, Esteban," said the Queen sadly, "but I warned you and now you cannot stay in Fairyland any longer."

"Couldn't I have one more . . ." began Esteban.

The Queen shook her head. "No more chances, Esteban. But if you prove yourself brave and true and dependable in the world then come back and we shall see."

—:—

THEN SHE leaned forward, but before she could touch Esteban Santa Claus said, "Wait!" He had been standing there with the other elves watching and now he came up and put something in Esteban's hands.

It was a little bird with pale blue wings.

"Take this bird for company," said Santa. "If you ever need me tell the bird. He will know where to find me."

"Thank you," said Esteban, taking the bird. "But I won't need any help, and I'll be back. Just wait and see."

Then the Queen Fairy learned forward and gently took the wings from Esteban's shoulders and Esteban began to grow and grow and grow until presently he was just a freckle-faced boy and not an elf any more.

Club Reports Concert Profit

Travel Slides Shown At Kiwanis Meeting

A profit of $153 from the Don Cossack Chorus concert was reported at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Because of the heavy snow Friday night, attendance at the concert was limited but advance sale of tickets enabled the service club to show some profit for the youth activities fund, Rowland Kaufman, chairman, reported.

Robert Metcalfe, president, commented that the club was fortunate to make something on the concert, but said members should also feel a sense of accomplishment in bringing such an outstanding program to the community.

Metcalfe read a letter from Harold Barth, secretary of the Rotary Club, commending the Kiwanians for sponsoring the concert and expressing the hope that similar concerts will be held as part of the cultural activities of the city.

Dale Thompson screened slides of a trip to Hong Kong. William Patch was program chairman.

How Can I? ? ?

Q. How can I fill the cracks in the kitchen floor before laying a new linoleum?

A. It is claimed that if the cracks are filled with wet sand, then allowed to dry, that the sand will be almost like cement.

Q. How can I remove black walnut stains from a washable garment?

A. Try rubbing the stains with household ammonia before laundering.

Q. How can I renew old lace?

A. Squeeze the old lace in hot, soapy water, then in cold water, then in milk to stiffen it. Press it on the wrong side.

Democrats Meet To Elect House Speaker Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Newly elected Democratic members of the Ohio House meet in Columbus today to elect a speaker and other officers.

The Democrats won control of the Legislature in last month's elections.

Rep. James A. Lantz, a Lancaster attorney, is DiSalle's choice for speaker. He is expected to battle it out with Rep. James J. McGettrick of Cleveland for the post.

McGettrick, minority floor leader in the last Legislature, is expected to try for majority floor leader in the House if his bid for the speakership is unsuccessful. Other candidates for the post are Reps. A. G. Lancione of Bellaire, George M. Hook Jr., of Georgetown, Brown County, Jesse Yoder of Dayton, and Bishop Kilpatrick of Warren.

Party sources say the choice of a House clerk lies between Delbert Nixon, who held that post in the last Democratic-controlled Legislature in 1949-1950, and Rep. Arthur H. Milleson of Freeport, Harrison County, who did not seek re-election. Rep. John J. Lynch of Youngstown was another prospect.

Army end Don Usry was a freshman at Texas A. and M. before going to the U. S. Military Academy.

City And Wellsville Men Given Probation

An East Liverpool man, one from the Wellsville area and another from Wheeling were given probation Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon.

James Francis Leigh, 20, of 1172 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, and Robert Koontz, 31, of Wellsville R. D. 1 were placed on five-years probation. Leigh was charged with forgery and Koontz non-support.

William Raymond Lewis, 41, of Wheeling, charged with forgery, was also placed on five-years probation.

All were indicted by the September Grand Jury and pleaded guilty, requesting probation.

Would Like Half Back, Not The Football Kind

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — R. P. McCord would like to get a half back, but not the football kind.

He received a dollar bill as change at a store and found that it had been torn in two, then pinned together. On the way home he lost half of the bill.

The FINEST MEDICINE Money Can Buy!

Prescribed medicine is today's biggest bargain in health. Into it go the finest quality drugs produced under exacting scientific controls representing, in many cases, initial expenditures of millions of dollars for research. Into the medicine go also the skills of the physician and pharmacist acquired through years of collegiate study and practical experience. Yet, nothing of such great value to you costs so little as does prescribed medicine. The price is indeed a small one to pay for speedy recovery from illness.

Travel Slides Shown At Kiwanis Meeting

A profit of $153 from the Don Cossack Chorus concert was reported at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Because of the heavy snow Friday night, attendance at the concert was limited but advance sale of tickets enabled the service club to show some profit for the youth activities fund, Rowland Kaufman, chairman, reported.

Robert Metcalfe, president, commented that the club was fortunate to make something on the concert, but said members should also feel a sense of accomplishment in bringing such an outstanding program to the community.

Metcalfe read a letter from Harold Barth, secretary of the Rotary Club, commending the Kiwanians for sponsoring the concert and expressing the hope that similar concerts will be held as part of the cultural activities of the city.

Dale Thompson screened slides of a trip to Hong Kong. William Patch was program chairman.

Democrats Meet To Elect House Speaker Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Newly elected Democratic members of the Ohio House meet in Columbus today to elect a speaker and other officers.

The Democrats won control of the Legislature in last month's elections.

Rep. James A. Lantz, a Lancaster attorney, is DiSalle's choice for speaker. He is expected to battle it out with Rep. James J. McGettrick of Cleveland for the post.

McGettrick, minority floor leader in the last Legislature, is expected to try for majority floor leader in the House if his bid for the speakership is unsuccessful. Other candidates for the post are Reps. A. G. Lancione of Bellaire, George M. Hook Jr., of Georgetown, Brown County, Jesse Yoder of Dayton, and Bishop Kilpatrick of Warren.

Party sources say the choice of a House clerk lies between Delbert Nixon, who held that post in the last Democratic-controlled Legislature in 1949-1950, and Rep. Arthur H. Milleson of Freeport, Harrison County, who did not seek re-election. Rep. John J. Lynch of Youngstown was another prospect.

Army end Don Usry was a freshman at Texas A. and M. before going to the U. S. Military Academy.

City And Wellsville Men Given Probation

An East Liverpool man, one from the Wellsville area and another from Wheeling were given probation Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon.

James Francis Leigh, 20, of 1172 Lisbon St., East Liverpool, and Robert Koontz, 31, of Wellsville R. D. 1 were placed on five-years probation. Leigh was charged with forgery and Koontz non-support.

William Raymond Lewis, 41, of Wheeling, charged with forgery, was also placed on five-years probation.

All were indicted by the September Grand Jury and pleaded guilty, requesting probation.

Would Like Half Back, Not The Football Kind

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — R. P. McCord would like to get a half back, but not the football kind.

He received a dollar bill as change at a store and found that it had been torn in two, then pinned together. On the way home he lost half of the bill.

The FINEST MEDICINE Money Can Buy!

Prescribed medicine is today's biggest bargain in health. Into it go the finest quality drugs produced under exacting scientific controls representing, in many cases, initial expenditures of millions of dollars for research. Into the medicine go also the skills of the physician and pharmacist acquired through years of collegiate study and practical experience. Yet, nothing of such great value to you costs so little as does prescribed medicine. The price is indeed a small one to pay for speedy recovery from illness.

Concern Wins $420,749 In Alleged Fraud

TROY, Ohio (AP)—A court has awarded the Hobart Manufacturing Co. a $420,749 judgment against alleged embezzler Daniel Omer Tobias.

The sum, awarded Thursday by Miami County Common Pleas Judge Davis S. Porter, represents $373,666 which Tobias is accused of taking from the firm and $47,083 in interest.

The company will try to recover the money through the sale of a fortune in antiques Tobias purchased, presumably with the company money.

Charles V. Lind of Troy, former co-worker of Tobias and receiver of his prize antique collection, was given authority by the court to dispose of the property to satisfy the judgment.

Tobias, a 58-year-old bachelor, was a clerk in the company's export division for 38 years. He amassed his antique collection in his home in nearby Piqua where he lived alone.

Tobias fled Ohio last Oct. 14 when he learned company officials were looking into his records. He was arrested by the FBI 13 days later in Salem, N. J.

He pleaded guilty Nov. 20 in U. S. District Court to federal charges of interstate transportation of fraudulently obtained checks, and is awaiting sentencing on that charge.

He also faces grand jury action on state charges of larceny by trick in excess of $10,000. He has pleaded innocent to these charges.

Fire Hose Purchased By Lawrenceville Unit

The purchase of 100 feet of 1½-inch hose was authorized by the Lawrenceville volunteer firemen at a meeting Thursday night at the fire station. Cost will be $108.

Emmett Brewer was enrolled as a new member. Plans were completed for a fish fry and stag party tonight at 7:30 at the fire station. In charge are Ray Bryan, Guy Michaels and Sherman Williams.

Okay Leaisure, president, was in charge. The next meeting is scheduled Jan. 1.

Body Identified

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Through fingerprints, the body of a man found in West Creek Wednesday was identified Thursday night as that of Howard H. Miller, 38, of Canton. Stark County Coroner E. B. Mozes ruled the death a suicide.

Coast Guard Academy Applications Now Open

A deadline of Jan. 15 for submitting applications to participate in examinations Feb. 24-25 for appointment to cadetship at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy was announced by Capt. F. P. Vetterick, commander of the 2nd Coast Guard District at St. Louis.

The Coast Guard, the smallest but perhaps the most active armed force, during peacetime, obtains the majority of its commissioned officers from the Academy at New London, Conn. It offers a four year course, leading to a BS degree.

Applications for qualified high school seniors and graduates must be submitted to the Commandant (PTP), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C., not later than Jan. 15.

The cadet examinations are open to young men between 17 and 22, no congressional appointments are required. Applicants must have graduated from an accredited high school by July 1, 1959, with 3 credits in English, 2 in Algebra and 1 in Geometry. Physical standards are approximately the same as for the other three military academies.

Declines Bricker Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.-elect Stephen M. Young has declined an offer of office space by the man he defeated in the November election, Republican Sen. John W. Bricker. Bricker offered to accomodate Young until Congress convenes. Allan Reeves, Young's aide, explained Young has office space in the Union Commerce Building in Cleveland and expects to move into the new Senate Office Building when Congress convenes.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

'Town' Termed Fun With Reservations

The story of a couple of innocent girl yokels from Columbus, Ohio, having some wildly funny adventures in a pre-war Greenwich Village apartment may well go down in literary history as more durable than "Hamlet."

John Crosby

From a collection of short stories, it grew into a play, a movie, a musical named "Wonderful Town" and — thinly disguised as "My Friend Irma" — a radio and television series.

Sunday it was a two-hour super spectacular with Rosalind Russell, which set some sort of record for sheer expense, and was generally a thoroughgoing disappointment.

I suppose the main thing wrong with "Wonderful Town" on TV was the sort of reverence with which the highly successful stage musical was transferred to television.

RIGHT FROM the opening number, it was as if the cameras had been trained on the stage and simply allowed to photograph the stage production. It was proscenium direction without any proscenium.

However, it's unfair to tab the director, Mel Ferber, with all the blame for this singularly unimaginative and turgid treatment since, my spies tell me, Miss Russell was reluctant to change anything that had worked on stage.

This sort of direction, this sort of philosophy never has worked on television. In fact, the whole idea of putting on a whopping stage success with the original cast distresses me a little. This is playing it safe in the most disastrous way.

I don't think you can insure success on television simply by shopping around for things that have been successful elsewhere. The most successful things on TV have been done by the bold, free spirits who pioneered.

-:-

AND, HAVING made all these churlish remarks, I must admit that "Wonderful Town" had its moments.

I was charmed right at the outset by its opening number, "Christopher Street," which was so gay, so impudent, so redolent of the '30s, and so promising of a rich evening.

Even after all these years, the lyrics of "What a Waste" and "One Hundred Ways To Lose a Man," and "Conversation" have the bite of truth and pointed observation.

Miss Russell is a personality full of sharp edges and explosive charm, who will command attention until she's 102. In this romp, at least insofar as television is concerned, I thought she was a little too noisy, that she was projecting clear to the second balcony.

This criticism applies also to Dort Clark, whose resonance got on my nerves.

All the acting was full of large movements and incessant business — folding up the ironing board and so forth — and what seemed like an inordinate amount of entrances and exits.

On television, what with the fluid multiple cameras, you don't have to walk out on stage center. But the actors kept striding stage center as if nothing had changed since Richard Brinsley Sheridan's day.

AND, WHILE I'm carping, I might as well complain about the integrated commercials. The wonderful period feeling—full of references to Helen Wills, the NRA, TVA — got a sharp jolt in a commercial when a guy says: "Don't bug me! I'm in orbit!" — a line as anachronistic as a jet plane in "Macbeth."

And the credits at the end found space for Miss Russell's gowns and her makeup but not for the director, authors or composer. (Ferber, Joseph Fields, Jerome Chodorov, Betty Comden, Adolph Green and Leonard Bernstein.)

Jacquelin McKeever I found very pretty and appealing, if a little too sweet, as Eileen.

I wish also that the show had been in color, especially the last number, "Wrong Note Rag," which is a wonderful bit of jazz and jazz dancing.

In spite of all these reservations, I had a good time, largely because of Ruth McKenny's story about a couple of innocents in Greenwich Village is a sunny and ageless story about the dear old depression days which, in retrospect, seem positively inviting, though we didn't think so then.

-:-

"PETER AND the Wolf," with Art Carney, the Bil and Cora Baird puppets and a lot of lyrics by Ogden Nash sounded promising but turned out really long - winded, repetitious and dull, I thought, though a young lady of 3 I know found it all delicious — if that's any comfort.

(Her mother told me she hardly ever buys anything, though, so the sponsor can't derive much comfort from that.)

Sen.-Elect Young Reports $7,532 Election Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's new senator, Democrat Stephen M. Young, reports receiving $2,165 in contributions to his successful campaign. He says he spent $7,532.

His report was filed, as required by the federal corrupt practices act, with the Senate clerk. It does not include any receipts or spending by any committee that may have worked for him.

The man Young defeated, Republican John W. Bricker, did not report any receipts. All of these were handled by a campaign committee.

Campaign committee reports must be filed with the secretary of state in Columbus, but need not be filed in Washington.

Auto Genius' Estate Valued At 200 Million

Kettering's Fortune Goes To Foundation, Philanthropic Trust

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The late Charles F. Kettering, automotive genius and former General Motors research head, left an estate conservatively estimated at a little more than 200 million dollars.

Most of this huge fortune in the form of shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., was divided between the Kettering Foundation and a separate philanthropic trust. Details of the division were not disclosed in the will filed Thursday in Montgomery County Probate Court.

Kettering died Nov. 25 after suffering a stroke. He is best known as the inventor of the first practical automobile self starter.

The exact size of the estate will not be known until an inventory is taken. However, it is known that Kettering held approximately 165 million dollars worth of General Motors stock. And business associates placed the value of his other holdings, including many patents on inventions, at no less than 40 million dollars.

Kettering's only son, Eugene W., of Hinsdale, Ill., and the Winters National Bank and Trust Co. of Dayton, were named executors of the estate and of the philanthropic trust fund.

Cash bequests totaling $175,000 were made to seven relatives. The remainder of the monetary holdings, Kettering's suburban mansion and all other real estate in the estate was given to Eugene.

The Kettering Foundation was given "sufficient shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., to bring its holdings up to 3,000 shares." The remainder of the stock in the estate was given to the separate trust.

There was no way to determine just what share of the estate each trust would received under this arrangement as the exact number of shares in the incorporated Kettering estate and their individual worth was not disclosed.

The separate trust was set up by Kettering for charitable, educational and scientific purposes.

The will leaves bequests of $25,000 each, payable in $5,000 annual installments to: Ralph D. Williams of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., Kettering's brother-in-law; Rexford Culler of Cleveland, a nephew; nieces Frances Long of Loudonville, and Eunice Kettering of Ashland, Ohio; and three grandchildren, Charles F. Kettering II of Norwich, Vt.; Mrs. Richard D. Lombard of Rye, N. Y., and Susan Kettering, a student at Skidmore College.

Little Girl Dies, 12 Hurt In School Bus-Train Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — One little girl was killed and 12 other persons were injured, three critically, when a nursery school bus and a freight train collided at a suburban Dixmoor crossing shortly before dusk Thursday.

Authorities said an engine fireman prevented a higher death toll by flagging down an approaching train and then dragging several children from the tracks.

The children, all 3 to 5-year-olders, were heading home from a suburban Blue Island nursery. Several children were tossed from the wrecked vehicle by the impact.

Edward Fike, tranmaster for the Indiana Harbor Belt Line Railroad, a freight line, said the bus was on the tracks when his train headed into the crossing which is guarded by flashing lights.

After the collision, the fireman, John Matthew, 36, leaped from the engine and lit a flare to halt a freight train approaching the multiple crossing on another track. Then he dragged several children, tossed from the bus, from the tracks.

Matthew was injured and reported in critical condition in a Blue Island hospital.

Killed In Collision

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Michael Sabados, 40, of Rt. 6, Cambridge, was killed Thursday night in an auto-truck collision on U.S. 40, about four miles west of here, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

Brian Will Aid 'Dimes' Drive

City Resident Named County Co-Chairman

Richard G. Brian, operator of a W. 5th St. men's store and a former county commissioner, will serve for the second year as co-chairman of the Columbiana County March of Dimes drive Jan. 1-31.

Brian's appointment was announced today by E. Allan McKeever, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Brian will be in charge of the campaign in the southern county area, working in conjunction with William L. Wark of Salem, head of the northern county district.

Brian filled the same job in the 1958 campaign. He resides at 324 Vine St.

Brian and Wark are expected to announce soon the names of community chairmen for the campaign in their respective areas.

About $30,000 was raised in the county in the 1958 drive. Money raised in the campaign will be used partly to care for persons left crippled by infantile paralysis that struck before the discovery of the Salk vaccine. In addition, part of the total will be used in a national research program seeking to discover the causes of virus diseases, arthritis and birth defects.

Courteous Jailbreaker Is Sought By Sheriff

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Greene County Sheriff Russell Bradshaw is looking for a courteous jailbreaker who left this note behind after escaping from the county jail Thursday:

"Sheriff, I'm sorry to take the step I'm taking, but my wife has filed suit for divorce and it's important to me that I see her immediately. I hope you understand."

The escapee, John Sickles, 31, of Columbus, Ohio, was being held on a contempt of court charge for non-support.

Stanley C. Hope New President Of Manufacturers

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley C. Hope, a business leader who launched a second career at the age of 65, is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Hope was elected at the annual NAM convention Thursday night to succeed Milton C. Lightner, board chairman, the Singer Manufacturing Co., Elizabeth, N.J.

In a statement of acceptance, Hope suggested NAM "could afford to change its name to the National Assn. for Manufacturers."

He declared, "We must be for and not against. We must be for government expenditures but on a reasonable basis; we must be for taxation but on an equitable basis; and we must be for labor relations but on an honest and constructive basis.'

The new NAM president retired as president of Esso Standard Oil Co. last July after spending 46 years with several affiliates of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He immediately assumed the presidency of SoundScriber Corp., North Haven, Conn., manufacturers of dictating equipment.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

'Town' Termed Fun With Reservations

The story of a couple of innocent girl yokels from Columbus, Ohio, having some wildly funny adventures in a pre-war Greenwich Village apartment may well go down in literary history as more durable than "Hamlet."

John Crosby

From a collection of short stories, it grew into a play, a movie, a musical named "Wonderful Town" and — thinly disguised as "My Friend Irma" — a radio and television series.

Sunday it was a two-hour super spectacular with Rosalind Russell, which set some sort of record for sheer expense, and was generally a thoroughgoing disappointment.

I suppose the main thing wrong with "Wonderful Town" on TV was the sort of reverence with which the highly successful stage musical was transferred to television.

RIGHT FROM the opening number, it was as if the cameras had been trained on the stage and simply allowed to photograph the stage production. It was proscenium direction without any proscenium.

However, it's unfair to tab the director, Mel Ferber, with all the blame for this singularly unimaginative and turgid treatment since, my spies tell me, Miss Russell was reluctant to change anything that had worked on stage.

This sort of direction, this sort of philosophy never has worked on television. In fact, the whole idea of putting on a whopping stage success with the original cast distresses me a little. This is playing it safe in the most disastrous way.

I don't think you can insure success on television simply by shopping around for things that have been successful elsewhere. The most successful things on TV have been done by the bold, free spirits who pioneered.

-:-

AND, HAVING made all these churlish remarks, I must admit that "Wonderful Town" had its moments.

I was charmed right at the outset by its opening number, "Christopher Street," which was so gay, so impudent, so redolent of the '30s, and so promising of a rich evening.

Even after all these years, the lyrics of "What a Waste" and "One Hundred Ways To Lose a Man," and "Conversation" have the bite of truth and pointed observation.

Miss Russell is a personality full of sharp edges and explosive charm, who will command attention until she's 102. In this romp, at least insofar as television is concerned, I thought she was a little too noisy, that she was projecting clear to the second balcony.

This criticism applies also to Dort Clark, whose resonance got on my nerves.

All the acting was full of large movements and incessant business — folding up the ironing board and so forth — and what seemed like an inordinate amount of entrances and exits.

On television, what with the fluid multiple cameras, you don't have to walk out on stage center. But the actors kept striding stage center as if nothing had changed since Richard Brinsley Sheridan's day.

AND, WHILE I'm carping, I might as well complain about the integrated commercials. The wonderful period feeling—full of references to Helen Wills, the NRA, TVA — got a sharp jolt in a commercial when a guy says: "Don't bug me! I'm in orbit!" — a line as anachronistic as a jet plane in "Macbeth."

And the credits at the end found space for Miss Russell's gowns and her makeup but not for the director, authors or composer. (Ferber, Joseph Fields, Jerome Chodorov, Betty Comden, Adolph Green and Leonard Bernstein.)

Jacquelin McKeever I found very pretty and appealing, if a little too sweet, as Eileen.

I wish also that the show had been in color, especially the last number, "Wrong Note Rag," which is a wonderful bit of jazz and jazz dancing.

In spite of all these reservations, I had a good time, largely because of Ruth McKenny's story about a couple of innocents in Greenwich Village is a sunny and ageless story about the dear old depression days which, in retrospect, seem positively inviting, though we didn't think so then.

-:-

"PETER AND the Wolf," with Art Carney, the Bil and Cora Baird puppets and a lot of lyrics by Ogden Nash sounded promising but turned out really long - winded, repetitious and dull, I thought, though a young lady of 3 I know found it all delicious — if that's any comfort.

(Her mother told me she hardly ever buys anything, though, so the sponsor can't derive much comfort from that.)

Sen.-Elect Young Reports $7,532 Election Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's new senator, Democrat Stephen M. Young, reports receiving $2,165 in contributions to his successful campaign. He says he spent $7,532.

His report was filed, as required by the federal corrupt practices act, with the Senate clerk. It does not include any receipts or spending by any committee that may have worked for him.

The man Young defeated, Republican John W. Bricker, did not report any receipts. All of these were handled by a campaign committee.

Campaign committee reports must be filed with the secretary of state in Columbus, but need not be filed in Washington.

Auto Genius' Estate Valued At 200 Million

Kettering's Fortune Goes To Foundation, Philanthropic Trust

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The late Charles F. Kettering, automotive genius and former General Motors research head, left an estate conservatively estimated at a little more than 200 million dollars.

Most of this huge fortune in the form of shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., was divided between the Kettering Foundation and a separate philanthropic trust. Details of the division were not disclosed in the will filed Thursday in Montgomery County Probate Court.

Kettering died Nov. 25 after suffering a stroke. He is best known as the inventor of the first practical automobile self starter.

The exact size of the estate will not be known until an inventory is taken. However, it is known that Kettering held approximately 165 million dollars worth of General Motors stock. And business associates placed the value of his other holdings, including many patents on inventions, at no less than 40 million dollars.

Kettering's only son, Eugene W., of Hinsdale, Ill., and the Winters National Bank and Trust Co. of Dayton, were named executors of the estate and of the philanthropic trust fund.

Cash bequests totaling $175,000 were made to seven relatives. The remainder of the monetary holdings, Kettering's suburban mansion and all other real estate in the estate was given to Eugene.

The Kettering Foundation was given "sufficient shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., to bring its holdings up to 3,000 shares." The remainder of the stock in the estate was given to the separate trust.

There was no way to determine just what share of the estate each trust would received under this arrangement as the exact number of shares in the incorporated Kettering estate and their individual worth was not disclosed.

The separate trust was set up by Kettering for charitable, educational and scientific purposes.

The will leaves bequests of $25,000 each, payable in $5,000 annual installments to: Ralph D. Williams of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., Kettering's brother-in-law; Rexford Culler of Cleveland, a nephew; nieces Frances Long of Loudonville, and Eunice Kettering of Ashland, Ohio; and three grandchildren, Charles F. Kettering II of Norwich, Vt.; Mrs. Richard D. Lombard of Rye, N. Y., and Susan Kettering, a student at Skidmore College.

Little Girl Dies, 12 Hurt In School Bus-Train Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — One little girl was killed and 12 other persons were injured, three critically, when a nursery school bus and a freight train collided at a suburban Dixmoor crossing shortly before dusk Thursday.

Authorities said an engine fireman prevented a higher death toll by flagging down an approaching train and then dragging several children from the tracks.

The children, all 3 to 5-year-olders, were heading home from a suburban Blue Island nursery. Several children were tossed from the wrecked vehicle by the impact.

Edward Fike, tranmaster for the Indiana Harbor Belt Line Railroad, a freight line, said the bus was on the tracks when his train headed into the crossing which is guarded by flashing lights.

After the collision, the fireman, John Matthew, 36, leaped from the engine and lit a flare to halt a freight train approaching the multiple crossing on another track. Then he dragged several children, tossed from the bus, from the tracks.

Matthew was injured and reported in critical condition in a Blue Island hospital.

Brian Will Aid 'Dimes' Drive

City Resident Named County Co-Chairman

Richard G. Brian, operator of a W. 5th St. men's store and a former county commissioner, will serve for the second year as co-chairman of the Columbiana County March of Dimes drive Jan. 1-31.

Brian's appointment was announced today by E. Allan McKeever, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Brian will be in charge of the campaign in the southern county area, working in conjunction with William L. Wark of Salem, head of the northern county district.

Brian filled the same job in the 1958 campaign. He resides at 324 Vine St.

Brian and Wark are expected to announce soon the names of community chairmen for the campaign in their respective areas.

About $30,000 was raised in the county in the 1958 drive. Money raised in the campaign will be used partly to care for persons left crippled by infantile paralysis that struck before the discovery of the Salk vaccine. In addition, part of the total will be used in a national research program seeking to discover the causes of virus diseases, arthritis and birth defects.

Courteous Jailbreaker Is Sought By Sheriff

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Greene County Sheriff Russell Bradshaw is looking for a courteous jailbreaker who left this note behind after escaping from the county jail Thursday:

"Sheriff, I'm sorry to take the step I'm taking, but my wife has filed suit for divorce and it's important to me that I see her immediately. I hope you understand."

The escapee, John Sickles, 31, of Columbus, Ohio, was being held on a contempt of court charge for non-support.

Stanley C. Hope New President Of Manufacturers

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley C. Hope, a business leader who launched a second career at the age of 65, is the new president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Hope was elected at the annual NAM convention Thursday night to succeed Milton C. Lightner, board chairman, the Singer Manufacturing Co., Elizabeth, N.J.

In a statement of acceptance, Hope suggested NAM "could afford to change its name to the National Assn. for Manufacturers."

He declared, "We must be for and not against. We must be for government expenditures but on a reasonable basis; we must be for taxation but on an equitable basis; and we must be for labor relations but on an honest and constructive basis.'

The new NAM president retired as president of Esso Standard Oil Co. last July after spending 46 years with several affiliates of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. He immediately assumed the presidency of SoundScriber Corp., North Haven, Conn., manufacturers of dictating equipment.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Vera Miles Reveals Curve-Making Program

Thin girls, today's column is to help you get more bounce to the ounce and develop pleasing curves. You have a model to follow — movie star Vera Miles, who is currently in the nation's capital working on "The FBI Story" with Jimmy Stewart.

Ida Jean Kain

But first a flashback, Hollywood style. A few years ago when this talented actress was all set for a starring role, she was told she was too thin through the chest, shoulders and arms — scrawny was the word.

So Vera took herself in hand and set about to change a minus into a plus. Her curve-making program had these results: Bust, 35½ with curves across the collar bones; waist, a neat 23; and hips, 35.

HOW DID SHE do it? With exercise. "It is most important for thin girls to exercise so as to develop muscle tone and rounded contours," this star told me earnestly. "Without exercise, thin girls on a gaining diet tend to add weight in the wrong places," she added.

Vera took up ballet exercises and swam daily. She used the crawl stroke, rhythmically turning her head with each stroke so as to bring the neck muscles into the action. Ballet strengthened calf and thigh muscles, which are apt to be underdeveloped in the girl, who is too thin.

Unlike most movie stars, Vera has trouble keeping her weight up. To begin with, she is a very active young woman and the mother of three young children, 8½, 6 and 1 year. When working in a picture she would lose a pound a day if she didn't have nourishing meals.

She starts her day with a whale of a good breakfast—fruit, cereal, eggs, toast and coffee. When working, breakfast is at 5:30 a. m.! Mid-morning she has a glass of milk and some raisins.

At lunch she eats a hot meal and supplements this with a pick-up in the afternoon to sustain her energy. At night she has a full course dinner. Vera is one glamour girl who has excellent food habits, with no faddy ideas on what makes for good nutrition.

Every Saturday morning, Vera and her two little daughters take a ballet class together. It's mostly ballet exercises and strenuous. Because of regular exercise, Vera is slim, not thin — and relaxed, not tense. She has a keen appetite, can sleep like a baby, and has a wholesome zest for living.

In her pre-Hollywood days, Vera Miles was a model. However, when I asked if she recommended this course for thin girls, she said thoughtfully, "No, I would suggest ballet or modern dance and swimming whenever possible. It takes an action program to build up. A modeling course gives only the finishing touch."

THIN GIRLS, if you could see lovely Vera Miles, you'd get with exercise. Well-toned muscles can change you from a listless thin girl into a vital slim girl—with curves.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet entitled, "Grade A Nutrition For Weight Gaining" and illustrated exercise leaflet, "Curves For The Thin Girl." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Sewage Bond Issue Sold At Rate Of 3½%

Council Confirms Deal With Cincinnati Firm For Note Fund

A $200,000 bond issue to retire notes issued to help finance construction of the sewage disposal plant was sold Thursday to a Cincinnati investment company, which offered the lowest interest rate of the 10 bidding firms.

The 20 - year bonds were sold to Westheimer & Co. on its offer of 3½ per cent interest and a premium of $340.25.

Council passed a resolution confirming the sale by City Auditor H. J. Gallimore at an adjourned session late yesterday afternoon.

The legislation provides 200 bonds of $1,000 denomination will be issued. They will mature at a rate of $10,000 annually from Dec. 1, 1960 through Dec. 1, 1979.

The other offers received when Gallimore opened bids yesterday afternoon were:

McDonald & Co. of Cleveland, 3¾ per cent, $4,001 premium; Ryan, Sutherland Co. of Toledo, 3¾, $2,845; Braun, Bosworth & Co. of Toledo, 3¾, $2,818; Provident Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Cinnati, 3¾, $2,666.60.

Stranahan, Harris & Co. of Toledo, 3¾, $1, 736; Seasongood & Mayer of Cincinnati, 3¾, $1,200; Fahey, Clark & Co. of Cleveland, 4, $4,327; First Cleveland Corp. of Cleveland, 4, $2,831, and Hayden, Miller & Co. of Cleveland, 4, $2,427.

Sale of the bonds was authorized in mid - November but state law requires formal acceptance of the offer before bonds can be delivered to the successful bidder.

The action completes the financing of the sewage disposal system with the city borrowing $100,000 less than anticipated, chiefly because the original legislation provided for $39,000 yearly to operate the plant. The funds were not required for about 18 months because the plant did not become operational until early this year.

The $39,000 "overage" was applied to retire the notes issued in 1957 so the $100,000 did not have to be borrowed on long term bonds. The city also realized some interest on funds held for plant construction but not needed immediately.

Expert Urges Parents To Read Aloud

"If your child enjoys reading, take a bow. It probably means you enjoy reading, too, or that you have shown an interest in his reading." So says Dr. Nancy Larrick in her new book, "A Parent's Guide to Children's Reading." Written for parents of pre-school and elementary boys and girls, it tells how to select and introduce books to children, how to help them increase reading skills and how to help them increase reading skills and how children learn to read.

By Garry Meyers

SHE CHATS about the child under four, the child from four to six, the child starting school, the child beginning to read and the child on his own at reading. She names some good books for each stage of development.

Dr. Larrick emphasizes, more than most other writers do, the value of reading aloud to the baby and young child and of continuing to read to him long after he enters school.

"Every time you read to your child," she says, "you are exerting an influence on his reading."

She has in mind not just the pre-school child, for she says: "Reading aloud to a 6 or 7-year-old is one of the best ways to satisfy his spirit of exploration."

Further on, she urges parents to read to the much older child who is far advanced in reading. By reading several portions or chapters to him from a new book, you may whet his appetite for reading it alone, she thinks.

"There is no doubt," she says, "that a child of any age loves to be read to. And it is my opinion that the adult gets an immense satisfaction."

SHE ALSO points out the benefit of having older children in the family read to younger ones.

You who have been reading this column for many years know that I have emphasized these same points over and over. You can see how I am pleased with Dr. Larrick's emphasis on the value of reading to children.

Dr. Larrick observes that the primer and first reader, which are intended to develop skill in the art of reading, have only a few hundred difficult words and are usually pretty drab. Hopefully, she adds: "The schools are increasingly providing what the children call 'library books,' which are often more exciting than the school readers."

I also like Dr. Larrick's advice to parents to listen appreciatively as the beginning reader wants to show them how he can read from his primer.

"Now, be astonished. Be delighted and excited."

Bad Weather Delays Air Search For Plane

MADRID (AP) — Bad weather throughout central Spain today postponed an air search for a Spanish airliner missing with 21 persons aboard.

The four - engine commercial plane left Vigo, northwest Spain, at 4:43 p. m. Thursday and was due in Madrid at 6:30. Its last report, at 5:30, said it was over Salamanca, 100 miles northwest of Madrid, and was having trouble with its communication equipment.

Those aboard all apparently were Spanish.

9 Children, 1 Adult Die In Delaware Fire

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Nine children and an adult perished Thursday night when a kerosene stove exploded and a flash fire destroyed their rural home.

Six of the children were brothers and sisters. Three others survived.

Three others — two adults and a child — were injured. Firemen found them coming down a road from the isolated home, searching for help. The child is in critical condition.

When two volunteer fire departments from four miles away reached the two - story frame house, in central Delaware about 15 miles from here, it was almost destroyed.

Although usually the liver is thought to be the largest organ in the human body, actually this distinction belongs to the skin, which comprises about 16 per cent of the total body weight.

Princess Grace Gives Society Sample Of Royal Displeasure

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco gave high society a surprise sample of royal displeasure Thursday night—with abrupt flight from the dance floor.

Caught in a milling crush of spectators, guards and photographers at a ball in her honor, the former movie star made her sudden exit with lips set, chin high and trailing a slightly bewildered escort, her husband Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

A spokesman at the royal box explained moments later that the princess had found the throng just too much when someone stepped upon her white satin slipper.

The royal wrath subsided swiftly, however, and the girl from Philadelphia remained for the midnight "Beauty and the Beasts" tableaux, and presided at the drawing of grand prizes for lucky ticket holders.

But although she smiled, she danced no more.

The incident highlighted a night-long barrage of adulation which started when the royal couple arrived for the chic fiesta in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

The $100-a-plate affair was the fourth annual Imperial Ball, sponsored by a motor company with the proceeds going to the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Musicians Emergency Fund. There were more than 1,000 guests.

Slight Gain Reflected In Sales Tax Receipts

Sale of state prepaid sales tax receipts in Columbiana County for the week ending Nov. 22 showed a slight increase over the corresponding week last year, Roger W. Tracy, state treasurer, reported.

The sale for the week totaled $41,732, compared to $41,411 for the corresponding week of November 1957. Collections since July 1 amount to $665,847, compared to $760,571 for the corresponding period last year.

The first public land for forestry purposes was set aside by President Benjamin Harrison in 1891. It was called the Yellowstone Timberland Reserve and comprised what is today known as Yellowstone National Park.

Vera Miles Reveals Curve-Making Program

Thin girls, today's column is to help you get more bounce to the ounce and develop pleasing curves. You have a model to follow — movie star Vera Miles, who is currently in the nation's capital working on "The FBI Story" with Jimmy Stewart.

Ida Jean Kain

But first a flashback, Hollywood style. A few years ago when this talented actress was all set for a starring role, she was told she was too thin through the chest, shoulders and arms — scrawny was the word.

So Vera took herself in hand and set about to change a minus into a plus. Her curve-making program had these results: Bust, 35½ with curves across the collar bones; waist, a neat 23; and hips, 35.

HOW DID SHE do it? With exercise. "It is most important for thin girls to exercise so as to develop muscle tone and rounded contours," this star told me earnestly. "Without exercise, thin girls on a gaining diet tend to add weight in the wrong places," she added.

Vera took up ballet exercises and swam daily. She used the crawl stroke, rhythmically turning her head with each stroke so as to bring the neck muscles into the action. Ballet strengthened calf and thigh muscles, which are apt to be underdeveloped in the girl, who is too thin.

Unlike most movie stars, Vera has trouble keeping her weight up. To begin with, she is a very active young woman and the mother of three young children, 8½, 6 and 1 year. When working in a picture she would lose a pound a day if she didn't have nourishing meals.

She starts her day with a whale of a good breakfast—fruit, cereal, eggs, toast and coffee. When working, breakfast is at 5:30 a. m.! Mid-morning she has a glass of milk and some raisins.

At lunch she eats a hot meal and supplements this with a pick-up in the afternoon to sustain her energy. At night she has a full course dinner. Vera is one glamour girl who has excellent food habits, with no faddy ideas on what makes for good nutrition.

Every Saturday morning, Vera and her two little daughters take a ballet class together. It's mostly ballet exercises and strenuous. Because of regular exercise, Vera is slim, not thin — and relaxed, not tense. She has a keen appetite, can sleep like a baby, and has a wholesome zest for living.

In her pre-Hollywood days, Vera Miles was a model. However, when I asked if she recommended this course for thin girls, she said thoughtfully, "No, I would suggest ballet or modern dance and swimming whenever possible. It takes an action program to build up. A modeling course gives only the finishing touch."

THIN GIRLS, if you could see lovely Vera Miles, you'd get with exercise. Well-toned muscles can change you from a listless thin girl into a vital slim girl—with curves.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet entitled, "Grade A Nutrition For Weight Gaining" and illustrated exercise leaflet, "Curves For The Thin Girl." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Sewage Bond Issue Sold At Rate Of 3½%

Council Confirms Deal With Cincinnati Firm For Note Fund

A $200,000 bond issue to retire notes issued to help finance construction of the sewage disposal plant was sold Thursday to a Cincinnati investment company, which offered the lowest interest rate of the 10 bidding firms.

The 20 - year bonds were sold to Westheimer & Co. on its offer of 3½ per cent interest and a premium of $340.25.

Council passed a resolution confirming the sale by City Auditor H. J. Gallimore at an adjourned session late yesterday afternoon.

The legislation provides 200 bonds of $1,000 denomination will be issued. They will mature at a rate of $10,000 annually from Dec. 1, 1960 through Dec. 1, 1979.

The other offers received when Gallimore opened bids yesterday afternoon were:

McDonald & Co. of Cleveland, 3¾ per cent, $4,001 premium; Ryan, Sutherland Co. of Toledo, 3¾, $2,845; Braun, Bosworth & Co. of Toledo, 3¾, $2,818; Provident Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Cinnati, 3¾, $2,666.60.

Stranahan, Harris & Co. of Toledo, 3¾, $1, 736; Seasongood & Mayer of Cincinnati, 3¾, $1,200; Fahey, Clark & Co. of Cleveland, 4, $4,327; First Cleveland Corp. of Cleveland, 4, $2,831, and Hayden, Miller & Co. of Cleveland, 4, $2,427.

Sale of the bonds was authorized in mid - November but state law requires formal acceptance of the offer before bonds can be delivered to the successful bidder.

The action completes the financing of the sewage disposal system with the city borrowing $100,000 less than anticipated, chiefly because the original legislation provided for $39,000 yearly to operate the plant. The funds were not required for about 18 months because the plant did not become operational until early this year.

The $39,000 "overage" was applied to retire the notes issued in 1957 so the $100,000 did not have to be borrowed on long term bonds. The city also realized some interest on funds held for plant construction but not needed immediately.

Bringing Up A Family

Expert Urges Parents To Read Aloud

"If your child enjoys reading, take a bow. It probably means you enjoy reading, too, or that you have shown an interest in his reading." So says Dr. Nancy Larrick in her new book, "A Parent's Guide to Children's Reading." Written for parents of pre-school and elementary boys and girls, it tells how to select and introduce books to children, how to help them increase reading skills and how to help them increase reading skills and how children learn to read.

By Garry Meyers

SHE CHATS about the child under four, the child from four to six, the child starting school, the child beginning to read and the child on his own at reading. She names some good books for each stage of development.

Dr. Larrick emphasizes, more than most other writers do, the value of reading aloud to the baby and young child and of continuing to read to him long after he enters school.

"Every time you read to your child," she says, "you are exerting an influence on his reading."

She has in mind not just the pre-school child, for she says: "Reading aloud to a 6 or 7-year-old is one of the best ways to satisfy his spirit of exploration."

Further on, she urges parents to read to the much older child who is far advanced in reading. By reading several portions or chapters to him from a new book, you may whet his appetite for reading it alone, she thinks.

"There is no doubt," she says, "that a child of any age loves to be read to. And it is my opinion that the adult gets an immense satisfaction."

SHE ALSO points out the benefit of having older children in the family read to younger ones.

You who have been reading this column for many years know that I have emphasized these same points over and over. You can see how I am pleased with Dr. Larrick's emphasis on the value of reading to children.

Dr. Larrick observes that the primer and first reader, which are intended to develop skill in the art of reading, have only a few hundred difficult words and are usually pretty drab. Hopefully, she adds: "The schools are increasingly providing what the children call 'library books,' which are often more exciting than the school readers."

I also like Dr. Larrick's advice to parents to listen appreciatively as the beginning reader wants to show them how he can read from his primer.

"Now, be astonished. Be delighted and excited."

Bad Weather Delays Air Search For Plane

MADRID (AP) — Bad weather throughout central Spain today postponed an air search for a Spanish airliner missing with 21 persons aboard.

The four - engine commercial plane left Vigo, northwest Spain, at 4:43 p. m. Thursday and was due in Madrid at 6:30. Its last report, at 5:30, said it was over Salamanca, 100 miles northwest of Madrid, and was having trouble with its communication equipment.

Those aboard all apparently were Spanish.

9 Children, 1 Adult Die In Delaware Fire

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Nine children and an adult perished Thursday night when a kerosene stove exploded and a flash fire destroyed their rural home.

Six of the children were brothers and sisters. Three others survived.

Three others — two adults and a child — were injured. Firemen found them coming down a road from the isolated home, searching for help. The child is in critical condition.

When two volunteer fire departments from four miles away reached the two - story frame house, in central Delaware about 15 miles from here, it was almost destroyed.

Although usually the liver is thought to be the largest organ in the human body, actually this distinction belongs to the skin, which comprises about 16 per cent of the total body weight.

Princess Grace Gives Society Sample Of Royal Displeasure

NEW YORK (AP) — Princess Grace of Monaco gave high society a surprise sample of royal displeasure Thursday night—with abrupt flight from the dance floor.

Caught in a milling crush of spectators, guards and photographers at a ball in her honor, the former movie star made her sudden exit with lips set, chin high and trailing a slightly bewildered escort, her husband Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

A spokesman at the royal box explained moments later that the princess had found the throng just too much when someone stepped upon her white satin slipper.

The royal wrath subsided swiftly, however, and the girl from Philadelphia remained for the midnight "Beauty and the Beasts" tableaux, and presided at the drawing of grand prizes for lucky ticket holders.

But although she smiled, she danced no more.

The incident highlighted a night-long barrage of adulation which started when the royal couple arrived for the chic fiesta in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

The $100-a-plate affair was the fourth annual Imperial Ball, sponsored by a motor company with the proceeds going to the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Musicians Emergency Fund. There were more than 1,000 guests.

'Fear Gas' Reveals Flaw

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Every now and then an idea developed by the military services turns out to be more useful in peace than in war.

The average housewife, for example, doesn't know she owes a debt to Napoleon. But she does. It was Bonaparte's quest for a method of provisioning his troops on the march that spurred the development of canned food.

Another example was the aerosol bomb developed during the World War II. It is now used to spray everything from whitewash to tooth paste.

A still more promising product is a new "fear gas" being developed by the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps. It already is strong enough to cause an alley cat to become terrified at the sight of a mouse.

In time, says Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, it may become refined to a point where, sprayed on a battlefield, it might temporarily paralyze the will of enemy troops to fight.

While this certainly would be a great boon in wartime, can't a gas of this kind find equally important civilian employment?

As it is now, millions of ordinary people are so nervous, upset, and afraid, that they meet every daily emergency by swallowing a couple of tranquilizer pills. The pills don't rid them of their fears. They simply dull the impact of their fears.

How much finer your existence would be if, instead of a bottle of tranquilizer pills, you had a pocketful of small new aerosol bombs loaded with superstrong fear gas! Instead of having to calm your own fears you could make everybody else afraid of you.

Are you afraid to ask your boss for a raise? Not with your trusty fear gas bomb. You merely walk into old Scrooge's office, spray him in the face—and wait for him to hand over to you the keys to the company.

Are you afraid of your wife when you sneak into the house at 3 a.m. after a losing session at poker? Simply squirt a few whiffs of fear gas at her, and she'll run in panic and lock herself in the bedroom.

Whatever frightened you before—supercilious clothing store salesmen, haughty waiters, threatening landlords, arrogant traffic cops—now quakes before you. The barrage of fear gas you spread around you (don't breathe it yourself!) turns you into a conquering hero.

It is a mighty dream. And it has only one flaw. If everybody brought a supply of these fear gas grenades and started tossing them around, then everybody would be afraid of everybody and everything else.

But what's to lose there? Isn't that about the present situation of the world today anyway?

2 Young Dutch Women World Travelers By Hitching Rides

By GORDON BEARD

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP) — The raised thumb means "Going my way?" no matter where the hitchhiker seeks a lift.

"It's part of the international sign language," say a pair of young Dutch women with more than nine years' experience in hitching rides.

Robby Van Der Mal and Jos de Lange Wendels have visited 57 countries since leaving their native Amsterdam June 9, 1949. They have seen Europe, the Middle East, Africa, South America and have been in the United States about four weeks.

In Maryland, they are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Shoup here. Mrs. Shoup met them in Turkey. The next stop will be New York City.

The world travelers carry some 66 pounds of luggage, including camping equipment, plus cameras and other small items. Perhaps most important are a pair of guitars they use to earn money for food and transportation—when free rides aren't possible. They sing folk songs, favorites of various countries and original compositions.

Robby and Jos have entertained Dr. Albert Schweitzer in Africa, the French Foreign Legion, in the palace of the Sultan of Morocco, aboard Prince Philip's warship Magpie at Gibraltar, in the house of Tito, and for an Italian baron. of Tito, and for an Italian baron.

When the trip ends, the women hope to give lectures with the aid of films they have taken. And Jos wants to use her diary notes to write a book.

Teenager's Challenge Brings Fatal Shooting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A teenager's challenge to a fight resulted in the fatal shooting of Julius Milnickel, 19, of Dayton on a downtown Dayton street, police said.

Police are holding for investigation 16-year-old Carl Farley of Dayton.

Police quoted witnesses as saying Milnickel was in a group of five youths who came out of a pool hall late Thursday night and stood talking in a parking lot.

Farley and another 16-year-old youth approached the group, and a challenge to fight was exchanged.

Milnickel left the group and approached Farley, police said, and Farley drew a pistol and fired.

Air Defense Collects Equipment From GOC

The Air Defense Command has begun collecting equipment from county Ground Observer Corps posts in preparation for closing the plane spotting posts Jan. 31.

Ray Neidengard, county GOC co-ordinator, said representatives of the Canton Filter Center have started to pick up binoculars and sound detectors from the units.

Plans are being made for final meetings of GOC units for completion of the shutdown and presentation of awards. Neidengard said efforts will be made to incorporate the GOC personnel into Civil Defense units.

Potters Wait Opening Game Tonight Against Farrell Five

Pennsylvania Quint Offers Rugged Test

East Liverpool's Potters open their 1958-59 cage campaign tonight at Memorial Auditorium against Farrell's rangy Steelers and will be seeking to snap a three-year opening game losing streak to the Pennsylvania five.

The reserve game is scheduled for 7, with varsity action due to get underway about 8.

Coach John Karaffa looks for the three-time Pennsylvania state champions to provide plenty of opposition—possibly too much—for his inexperienced Potters.

Karaffa sat in on Farrell's opening game Tuesday and was highly impressed with thier height, speed and tight full-court pressing defense.

Farrell whipped Youngstown South, 70-42, with Frank Sincek, a 6-1 senior forward, getting 17 points. Karaffa indicated that Sincek will be the man to stop tonight. Leroy Pintar, a 6-4 senior forward, is also a keen competitor, he pointed out.

Karaffa has decided on a starting four for tonight's game, but won't pick the fifth man until game time.

The four will include senior Bob Beatty and senior Jan Allen, at forwards, junior Ray Bigelow at center, and sophomore Kenny Cunningham at a guard spot. The other guard position will go either to Phil Chan, a junior, or Glenn Cunningham, a senior.

Slated for early action are Bob Mackall, a junior, James Mahone, also a junior, George Owens, a senior, and Clark Hager, 6-5 junior.

Kenny Cunningham will be the first sophomore to break into a starting varsity five since Bob McCoy's appearance with a Potter varsity in 1951.

Beatty, 6-3, and Bigelow, 6-5, will provide adequate rebounding strength, Karaffa hopes, while Allen, Cunningham and Chan can all hit well from the outside. Glenn Cunningham is a first-rate driver and may be called on to help lead the offense against Farrell's tight pressing defense.

Karaffa said he was pleased with the shooting ability shown in recent practice sessions, but is still fearful that erratic passsing and lack of teamwork might cause the team to falter in its attack.

The Potters have never worked together as a team under regular season pressure while Farrell has nearly an entire team intact from last year's 15-8 club.

Farrell's winning streak started in the 1955-56 season with a 66-61 victory. In 1956-57, Farrell won again, 67-53, and last year triumphed the third consecutive time, 46-36.

Farrell's victory over South wasn't too impressive, as the losers had only two lettermen on the starting unit, but the Steelers flashed great field goal shooting ability, Karaffa said.

Coach Ed McCluskey uses a two-platoon system to keep the full-court press going strong at all times and has adequate depth in case the Steelers are faced with foul troubles.

East Liverpool will travel to Alliance Saturday night for a second weekend game. Alliance has two lettermen returning this year. The Aviators open tonight against Akron North.

Co-captains for the Potter varsity tonight will be Allen and Beatty. The team will appear in flashy new uniforms, white with blue trim.

Cage Tourney Will Be Held At South Side

Some 13 trophies will be awarded during a four-team basketball tournament to be held Dec. 29-30 at South Side High School near Hookstown.

During a board meeting of the Citizens Association, sponsors, Tuesday evening at the high school, a tournament committee was named.

It includes George Thompson, chairman; Norman Brooks and Dave Nichols in charge of trophies; Mrs. Phylis Swearingen and Mrs. Mary Allison, tickets, and Harry Lutton and Mrs. Mary Frasier, publicity.

Games will start at 7:30 and end about 8:45 each night. On the first night, Beaver High School will play West Allegheny High School, both Class A teams, and South Side will play Montour High School, both Class B teams.

During the second night of play, the losers of the previous night will play in the first game and the previous winners will play in the second game.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team, runner-up, most valuable player, four individual players, five all-tournament players and one for cheerleading.

The association will meet Wednesday, Dec. 17, in the high school cafeteria.

Boyd Learns Tonight If He's Baylor Coach

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Sam Boyd, who has coached a last place football team two seasons in a row at Baylor, will learn tonight whether he's wanted any longer.

A meeting of ex-students, trustees and faculty representatives will be held to decide if Boyd's contract, which has a year to run, will be extended.

Athletic Director George Sauer quit Thursday night saying he was entering private business. It was Sauer who stepped down as coach in 1955 and was succeeded by Boyd.

Boyd's first team, in 1956, had an 8-2 record and won the Sugar Bowl game over Tennessee. In 1957 it won only three games and tied one and wound up in the Southwest Conference cellar. It won only three games the past season and again was in last place.

Johnson's Subpar 70 Leads Puerto Rico Golf

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP) — Some of the world's best golfers will try for the second time today in the $30,000 Dorado Beach Invitation Golf Tourney to master a course that was hacked out of a tropical jungle.

In Thursday's first round, only 6 of 42 players could equal or better the 36-36—72 par of the 7,115 yard layout that hugs the Atlantic Ocean shoreline and wanders through the jungles.

Thursday's play was interrupted by a heavy downpour.

Howie Johnson, a master putter from Glenwoodie, Ill., gained the first round lead with a two-under-par 70. Only a stroke behind were Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif.; Billy Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif.; Ted Kroll, Sarasota, Fla.; and Ernie Vossier, Midland, Tex.

Outlook's Dim For Short New Cumberland Squad

Without a six-footer on the varsity roster, cage Coach Charley Miller says the outlook is not very bright for his New Cumberland basketball team which opens tonight at home against Mingo.

However, this year's quint won't have to go far to improve on the 1-19 record of the 1957-58 team, which had the district's longest losing streak.

Graduation claimed three regulars—Stanley Snider, Dave Herron, and Bill Staley—but Miller has six letter-holders returning.

Slated for starting berths are four seniors and one junior.

Two grid standouts this fall, Phil Cullen, 5-feet, 8-inches, and Bill Freshour, 5-feet, 6-inches, are slated for forward posts.

Jerry Pierce, who measures only 5-feet, 11-inches, figures as the starting pivot man.

The guard posts probably will go to senior Jim Watson, 5-feet, 5-inches, and George Harris, 5-feet, 8-inches, who is the only junior letter-winner.

The other letterman, Bill Hale, a 5-feet, 9-inch senior, probably will alternate at one of the forwards.

Bench strength includes John Dawson, 5-6, Bill Hale, 5-9, Mickey Pierce, 5-11, Bob Foreman, 5-10, Fred Huff, 5-10, Ron Haynes, 5-10, and Chuck Miller, 5-7.

New Cumberland, under the tutelage of its veteran coach, will oppose 20 opponents. It will play 10 at home and an equal number on the raod.

Royals' Victory Over New York Being Protested

By The Associated Press

Are the Boston Celtics or the New York Knickerbockers in first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn?

The answer is up to League President Maurice Podoloff. He has in his possession a letter protesting Cincinnati's 108-106 victory over New York Wednesday night.

It's being called the mysterious case of the "lost minute" because the Cincinnati timer told the referees the clock had not been functioning properly. He said that it had jumped from 2:00 left two play to 2:59 instead of 1:59. New York Coach Fuzzy Levane howled.

Officially, Boston's 116-114 victory over Syracuse Thursday night put the Celtics in the top spot with a 12-6 record for .667. The Knicks are a half length behind. But if the Cincinnati setback is thrown out, it would give New York an 11-5 record for .688.

Boston had to put on a last quarter rally to beat the Nationals, who dropped their eighth straight.

In the only other game, the St. Louis Hawks defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 107-92. The triumph increased the Hawks' Western Division lead to four and a half games over Detroit.

Big Leaguers Unruffled By Owners' Snub

By JOE REICHLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The major league players appeared unruffled today by the owners' rebuff of their demands for a percentage of the clubs' gross income.

The players predicted ultimate victory in the financial tug-of-war.

Acting on the final day of their winter meetings, the magnates flatly rejected the players' proposal for a 20 per cent cut of the over-all revenue.

The calm reaction of the players came as somewhat of a surprise because of their earlier threat of drastic action in the event of refusal.

"The players are far from discouraged by the owners' latest action," said J. Norman Lewis, the players' attorney and spokesman.

"The owners have made flat rejections of other player requests before and eventually reconsidered.

"They intend to continue to present their arguments with persistent and patient negotiations for a more equitable participation in the increased revenue which has accrued to the owners over the past decade."

Lewis said he planned to meet with league player representatives Robin Roberts of Philadelphia and Eddie Yost of Washington to discuss the players' next move. He said the players did not intend to be stubborn in their demands and would be amenable to a counter proposal.

In other windup action, the owners decided on a three-week free trading period from Nov. 21 through Dec. 15. In this period, players may be swapped from one league to the other without first obtaining waivers. The plan will go into effect next year.

Commissioner Ford Frick frowns on the idea and said he may ask the owners to reconsider this decision at their summer meetings.

The majors, as expected, adopted the watered-down version of the unrestricted player draft passed by the minors at their convention earlier in the week.

Under the plan, a minor league player who escapes the draft after his first year becomes ineligible for selection until he has completed the normal draft period. This period varies from two to four years, depending upon his league classification.

American League owners followed the example set by the National League and appointed a two-man committee to select an outside research organization to explore such baseball problems as expansion, realignment and television.

The two committees, to be headed by Phil Wrigley, president of the Chicago Cubs, will work in unison.

Other members are George Medinger, Cleveland vice president; Arnold Johnson, Kansas City president; and Walter O'Malley, head of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

70,000 Wait Colt-Ram Tilt On Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Baltimore Colts have cinched the Western Division title of the National Football League and the Los Angeles Rams are definitely in the also-ran class.

Yet 70,000 or more fans are expected to crowd into Memorial Coliseum Saturday to see a game that actually means nothing.

The local heroes have won six games and lost four and are tied with the Chicago Bears for the second spot in the division.

The Colt-Ram battle on Saturday, a departure from the usual Sunday games, was arranged as a national television offering (CBS 4:30 p. m. EST). Los Angeles will be blacked out.

League hostilities otherwise resume Sunday, with the Cleveland Browns favored to retain their one-game lead over the New York Giants in the still-unsettled Eastern Division race.

The Browns play the cellar-based Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia and the Giants go to Detroit to meet the Lions. Cleveland's record is 8-2, the Giants 7-3.

Other games include the Pittsburgh Steelers at Washington, the Chicago Bear-Cardinal brawl in the Windy City and the Green Bay Packers and the San Francisco 49ers in San Francisco.

Akins 7-5 Choice In TV Title Bout

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World welterweight champion Virgil Akins, risking his title for the first time, is a solid favorite to keep it in 15 rounds or less tonight against Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

The fight goes on at the Olympic Auditorium and will be televised nationally (NBC) at 10 p.m. (EST). This area for a 300-mile radius will be blacked out.

Most experts figure the 30-year-old, hard - smacking champion from St. Louis will knock out the 24-year-old No. 1 contender — something that hasn't happened to the California hopeful in 55 fights.

Jordan, quietly confident, predicted he would outscore Akins and capture the crown in 15 rounds.

Scoring will be 10 points per round — 10 to the winner, nine or less to the loser.

Akins, notorious as an in-and-outer, was definitely "in" as he blasted his way to the title with two knockouts over ex-champion Tony De Marco in Boston and a crushing win over Vince Martinez in St. Louis last June 6 to sew up the championship.

Martinez, who had never been stopped before, went down nine times before Akins cooled him off in the fourth round.

The personable Akins has been to the post 67 times. He has scored 28 knockouts, won 20 decisions, lost 18 matches and drew in one.

Jordan, a thoroughly reformed ex-gang leader in East Los Angeles — he's a family man, father of 4 girls — has had 55 fights, won 29, 15 by knockout, and lost 11.

He earned his rating and a shot at the title by out-boxing Isaac Logart and twice whipping Gaspar Ortega.

10 Considered 'Starters' On Palestine's Cage Team

Blessed with 10 boys of "almost equal ability," Coach Don Hinten's only problem appears to be the selection of his starting unit when the East Palestine Bulldogs open their season tonight at Canfield.

Returning regulars Jim Knight, 5-feet, 10-inches, Richard Bolon, 5-feet, 9-inches, and Willis Woods, 5-feet, 6-inches, will form the nucleus of a squad which Hinten feels could improve on last year's 13-6 record — one of the best in the school's history.

In addition Hinten has four capable seniors and three promising juniors, any of whom could get the starting nod tonight.

"Desire will have to be my standard of measurement," says Hinten, "in selecting the five starters."

Senior candidates include Rich Wellendorf, 5-feet, 10-inches, Roy Reese, 5-feet, 11-inches, John Sinsley, 5-feet, 11-inches, and Dale Lane who with junior Charles Bruno, provide the team with height. Both are 6-feet, 3-inches.

The other two juniors, Charles Robinson and Richard Libert, are both an even six feet.

"This year's team will lack height," comments Hinten, "but we will be very fast and aggressive."

"We should be able to "dog" a big team the whole game," he added.

Four starters were lost through graduation, including Bob Gibson, Sam Hirt, Larry Knight and Bob Kirtley. All of these cagers have enrolled in colleges and are candidates for collegiate freshman teams, Hinten said.

Playing an 18-game schedule, the Bulldogs will divide between home and away encounters. Prior to the Christmas holidays, they will play four games — two on the road and a pair at home.

Van Brocklin Predicts Win Over Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—In five of the last six seasons the Philadelphia Eagles have managed to take one of their two games with the Cleveland Browns. Their quarterback and ace passer, Norm Van Brocklin, has announced they're going to do it again in Philadelphia Sunday.

Halfback Bobby Mitchell's two long touchdown runs on kick returns made the difference in the meeting here two weeks ago when Cleveland won 28-14.

If the Browns can repeat that victory Sunday, they are assured of at least a playoff chance at the Eastern Division title, no matter what else happens. And if the New York Giants lose Sunday to Detroit, a triumph in Philadelphia would wrap it up for Cleveland.

Van Brocklin, a 10-year veteran who currently leads the National Football League in passes completed, outshone Cleveland's Milt Plum at the stadium Nov. 23. But the way Plum passed against Washington Sunday, it could be a different story in the return meeting.

Coach Paul Brown called last week's performance "one of Plum's best games" and added:

"The team's been growing with him and has confidence in him. Milt is showing improvement all the time.

"On all our pass patterns, the passer has several choices. He has to look around and make up his mind. Milt now is making his decisions quicker. He wasn't indecisive last Sunday.

"It takes a while for any new player in this league. Some things you learn only by experience. Milt has come a long way and he'll keep making progress."

Tom Rodfong To Get Muskingum Letter

Tom Rodfong of East Liverpool, a student at Muskingum College at New Concord, is scheduled to receive a varsity football letter from head football coach Ed Sherman.

Rodfong, a sophomore quarterback, also will receive a varsity "M" jacket. The Muskies finished second in the Ohio Conference and ranked first in total offense.

Potters Wait Opening Game Tonight Against Farrell Five

Pennsylvania Quint Offers Rugged Test

East Liverpool's Potters open their 1958-59 cage campaign tonight at Memorial Auditorium against Farrell's rangy Steelers and will be seeking to snap a three-year opening game losing streak to the Pennsylvania five.

The reserve game is scheduled for 7, with varsity action due to get underway about 8.

Slated for early action are Bob Mackall, a junior, James Mahone, also a junior, George Owens, a senior, and Clark Hager, 6-5 junior.

Kenny Cunningham will be the first sophomore to break into a starting varsity five since Bob McCoy's appearance with a Potter varsity in 1951.

Beatty, 6-3, and Bigelow, 6-5, will provide adequate rebounding strength, Karaffa hopes, while Allen, Cunningham and Chan can all hit well from the outside. Glenn Cunningham is a first-rate driver and may be called on to help lead the offense against Farrell's tight pressing defense.

Karaffa said he was pleased with the shooting ability shown in recent practice sessions, but is still fearful that erratic passing and lack of teamwork might cause the team to falter in its attack.

The Potters have never worked together as a team under regular season pressure while Farrell has nearly an entire team intact from last year's 15-8 club.

Farrell's winning streak started in the 1955-56 season with a 66-61 victory. In 1956-57, Farrell won again, 67-53, and last year triumphed the third consecutive time, 46-36.

Farrell's victory over South wasn't too impressive, as the losers had only two lettermen on the starting unit, but the Steelers flashed great field goal shooting ability, Karaffa said.

Coach Ed McCluskey uses a two-platoon system to keep the full-court press going strong at all times and has adequate depth in case the Steelers are faced with foul troubles.

East Liverpool will travel to Alliance Saturday night for a second weekend game. Alliance has two lettermen returning this year. The Aviators open tonight against Akron North.

Co-captains for the Potter varsity tonight will be Allen and Beatty. The team will appear in flashy new uniforms, white with blue trim.

Cage Tourney Will Be Held At South Side

Some 13 trophies will be awarded during a four-team basketball tournament to be held Dec. 29-30 at South Side High School near Hookstown.

During a board meeting of the Citizens Association, sponsors, Tuesday evening at the high school, a tournament committee was named.

It includes George Thompson, chairman; Norman Brooks and Dave Nichols in charge of trophies; Mrs. Phylis Swearingen and Mrs. Mary Allison, tickets, and Harry Lutton and Mrs. Mary Frasier, publicity.

Games will start at 7:30 and end about 8:45 each night. On the first night, Beaver High School will play West Allegheny High School, both Class A teams, and South Side will play Montour High School, both Class B teams.

During the second night of play, the losers of the previous night will play in the first game and the previous winners will play in the second game.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning team, runner-up, most valuable player, four individual players, five all-tournament players and one for cheerleading.

The association will meet Wednesday, Dec. 17, in the high school cafeteria.

Boyd Learns Tonight If He's Baylor Coach

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Sam Boyd, who has coached a last place football team two seasons in a row at Baylor, will learn tonight whether he's wanted any longer.

A meeting of ex-students, trustees and faculty representatives will be held to decide if Boyd's contract, which has a year to run, will be extended.

Athletic Director George Sauer quit Thursday night saying he was entering private business. It was Sauer who stepped down as coach in 1955 and was succeeded by Boyd.

Boyd's first team, in 1956, had an 8-2 record and won the Sugar Bowl game over Tennessee. In 1957 it won only three games and tied one and wound up in the Southwest Conference cellar. It won only three games the past season and again was in last place.

Johnson's Subpar 70 Leads Puerto Rico Golf

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP) — Some of the world's best golfers will try for the second time today in the $30,000 Dorado Beach Invitation Golf Tourney to master a course that was hacked out of a tropical jungle.

In Thursday's first round, only 6 of 42 players could equal or better the 36-36—72 par of the 7,115 yard layout that hugs the Atlantic Ocean shoreline and wanders through the jungles.

Thursday's play was interrupted by a heavy downpour.

Howie Johnson, a master putter from Glenwoodie, Ill., gained the first round lead with a two-under-par 70. Only a stroke behind were Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif.; Billy Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif.; Ted Kroll, Sarasota, Fla.; and Ernie Vossier, Midland, Tex.

Outlook's Dim For Short New Cumberland Squad

Without a six-footer on the varsity roster, cage Coach Charley Miller says the outlook is not very bright for his New Cumberland basketball team which opens tonight at home against Mingo.

However, this year's quint won't have to go far to improve on the 1-19 record of the 1957-58 team, which had the district's longest losing streak.

Graduation claimed three regulars—Stanley Snider, Dave Herron, and Bill Staley—but Miller has six letter-holders returning.

Slated for starting berths are four seniors and one junior.

Two grid standouts this fall, Phil Cullen, 5-feet, 8-inches, and Bill Freshour, 5-feet, 6-inches, are slated for forward posts.

Jerry Pierce, who measures only 5-feet, 11-inches, figures as the starting pivot man.

The guard posts probably will go to senior Jim Watson, 5-feet, 5-inches, and George Harris, 5-feet, 8-inches, who is the only junior letter-winner.

The other letterman, Bill Hale, a 5-feet, 9-inch senior, probably will alternate at one of the forwards.

Bench strength includes John Dawson, 5-6, Bill Hale, 5-9, Mickey Pierce, 5-11, Bob Foreman, 5-10, Fred Huff, 5-10, Ron Haynes, 5-10, and Chuck Miller, 5-7.

New Cumberland, under the tutelage of its veteran coach, will oppose 20 opponents. It will play 10 at home and an equal number on the road.

Royals' Victory Over New York Being Protested

By The Associated Press

Are the Boston Celtics or the New York Knickerbockers in first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn?

The answer is up to League President Maurice Podoloff. He has in his possession a letter protesting Cincinnati's 108-106 victory over New York Wednesday night.

It's being called the mysterious case of the "lost minute" because the Cincinnati timer told the referees the clock had not been functioning properly. He said that it had jumped from 2:00 left two play to 2:59 instead of 1:59. New York Coach Fuzzy Levane howled.

Officially, Boston's 116-114 victory over Syracuse Thursday night put the Celtics in the top spot with a 12-6 record for .667. The Knicks are a half length behind. But if the Cincinnati setback is thrown out, it would give New York an 11-5 record for .688.

Boston had to put on a last quarter rally to beat the Nationals, who dropped their eighth straight.

In the only other game, the St. Louis Hawks defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 107-92. The triumph increased the Hawks' Western Division lead to four and a half games over Detroit.

Big Leaguers Unruffled By Owners' Snub

By JOE REICHLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The major league players appeared unruffled today by the owners' rebuff of their demands for a percentage of the clubs' gross income.

The players predicted ultimate victory in the financial tug-of-war.

Acting on the final day of their winter meetings, the magnates flatly rejected the players' proposal for a 20 per cent cut of the over-all revenue.

The calm reaction of the players came as somewhat of a surprise because of their earlier threat of drastic action in the event of refusal.

"The players are far from discouraged by the owners' latest action," said J. Norman Lewis, the players' attorney and spokesman.

"The owners have made flat rejections of other player requests before and eventually reconsidered.

"They intend to continue to present their arguments with persistent and patient negotiations for a more equitable participation in the increased revenue which has accrued to the owners over the past decade."

Lewis said he planned to meet with league player representatives Robin Roberts of Philadelphia and Eddie Yost of Washington to discuss the players' next move. He said the players did not intend to be stubborn in their demands and would be amenable to a counter proposal.

In other windup action, the owners decided on a three-week free trading period from Nov. 21 through Dec. 15. In this period, players may be swapped from one league to the other without first obtaining waivers. The plan will go into effect next year.

Commissioner Ford Frick frowns on the idea and said he may ask the owners to reconsider this decision at their summer meetings.

The majors, as expected, adopted the watered-down version of the unrestricted player draft passed by the minors at their convention earlier in the week.

Under the plan, a minor league player who escapes the draft after his first year becomes ineligible for selection until he has completed the normal draft period. This period varies from two to four years, depending upon his league classification.

American League owners followed the example set by the National League and appointed a two-man committee to select an outside research organization to explore such baseball problems as expansion, realignment and television.

The two committees, to be headed by Phil Wrigley, president of the Chicago Cubs, will work in unison.

Other members are George Medinger, Cleveland vice president; Arnold Johnson, Kansas City president; and Walter O'Malley, head of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

70,000 Wait Colt-Ram Tilt On Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Baltimore Colts have cinched the Western Division title of the National Football League and the Los Angeles Rams are definitely in the also-ran class.

Yet 70,000 or more fans are expected to crowd into Memorial Coliseum Saturday to see a game that actually means nothing.

The local heroes have won six games and lost four and are tied with the Chicago Bears for the second spot in the division.

The Colt-Ram battle on Saturday, a departure from the usual Sunday games, was arranged as a national television offering (CBS 4:30 p. m. EST). Los Angeles will be blacked out.

League hostilities otherwise resume Sunday, with the Cleveland Browns favored to retain their one-game lead over the New York Giants in the still-unsettled Eastern Division race.

The Browns play the cellar-based Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia and the Giants go to Detroit to meet the Lions. Cleveland's record is 8-2, the Giants 7-3.

Other games include the Pittsburgh Steelers at Washington, the Chicago Bear-Cardinal brawl in the Windy City and the Green Bay Packers and the San Francisco 49ers in San Francisco.

Akins 7-5 Choice In TV Title Bout

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World welterweight champion Virgil Akins, risking his title for the first time, is a solid favorite to keep it in 15 rounds or less tonight against Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

The fight goes on at the Olympic Auditorium and will be televised nationally (NBC) at 10 p.m. (EST). This area for a 300-mile radius will be blacked out.

Most experts figure the 30-year-old, hard - smacking champion from St. Louis will knock out the 24-year-old No. 1 contender — something that hasn't happened to the California hopeful in 55 fights.

Jordan, quietly confident, predicted he would outscore Akins and capture the crown in 15 rounds.

Scoring will be 10 points per round — 10 to the winner, nine or less to the loser.

Akins, notorious as an in-and-outer, was definitely "in" as he blasted his way to the title with two knockouts over ex-champion Tony De Marco in Boston and a crushing win over Vince Martinez in St. Louis last June 6 to sew up the championship.

Martinez, who had never been stopped before, went down nine times before Akins cooled him off in the fourth round.

The personable Akins has been to the post 67 times. He has scored 28 knockouts, won 20 decisions, lost 18 matches and drew in one.

Jordan, a thoroughly reformed ex-gang leader in East Los Angeles — he's a family man, father of 4 girls — has had 55 fights, won 29, 15 by knockout, and lost 11.

He earned his rating and a shot at the title by out-boxing Isaac Logart and twice whipping Gaspar Ortega.

10 Considered 'Starters' On Palestine's Cage Team

Blessed with 10 boys of "almost equal ability," Coach Don Hinten's only problem appears to be the selection of his starting unit when the East Palestine Bulldogs open their season tonight at Canfield.

Returning regulars Jim Knight, 5-feet, 10-inches, Richard Bolon, 5-feet, 9-inches, and Willis Woods, 5-feet, 6-inches, will form the nucleus of a squad which Hinten feels could improve on last year's 13-6 record — one of the best in the school's history.

In addition Hinten has four capable seniors and three promising juniors, any of whom could get the starting nod tonight.

"Desire will have to be my standard of measurement," says Hinten, "in selecting the five starters."

Senior candidates include Rich Wellendorf, 5-feet, 10-inches, Roy Reese, 5-feet, 11-inches, John Sinsley, 5-feet, 11-inches, and Dale Lane who with junior Charles Bruno, provide the team with height. Both are 6-feet, 3-inches.

The other two juniors, Charles Robinson and Richard Libert, are both an even six feet.

"This year's team will lack height," comments Hinten, "but we will be very fast and aggressive."

"We should be able to "dog" a big team the whole game," he added.

Four starters were lost through graduation, including Bob Gibson, Sam Hirt, Larry Knight and Bob Kirtley. All of these cagers have enrolled in colleges and are candidates for collegiate freshman teams, Hinten said.

Playing an 18-game schedule, the Bulldogs will divide between home and away encounters. Prior to the Christmas holidays, they will play four games — two on the road and a pair at home.

Kent State Five Host To Tournament Teams

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State cagers are host to basketball teams from the universities of Tennessee, Michigan and Wyoming today and Friday, for the Midwest Invitational Tournament. Tennessee is favored to win.

Gene Tormohlen, Tennessee's 6-foot-8 star, will lead the volunteers against Michigan in the opening round. Wyoming, champs of the Skyline Conference last season, will oppose Kent in the second game at 9:15 p.m.

Winners and losers compete Saturday night.

Van Brocklin Predicts Win Over Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—In five of the last six seasons the Philadelphia Eagles have managed to take one of their two games with the Cleveland Browns. Their quarterback and ace passer, Norm Van Brocklin, has announced they're going to do it again in Philadelphia Sunday.

Halfback Bobby Mitchell's two long touchdown runs on kick returns made the difference in the meeting here two weeks ago when Cleveland won 28-14.

If the Browns can repeat that victory Sunday, they are assured of at least a playoff chance at the Eastern Division title, no matter what else happens. And if the New York Giants lose Sunday to Detroit, a triumph in Philadelphia would wrap it up for Cleveland.

Van Brocklin, a 10-year veteran who currently leads the National Football League in passes completed, outshone Cleveland's Milt Plum at the stadium Nov. 23. But the way Plum passed against Washington Sunday, it could be a different story in the return meeting.

Coach Paul Brown called last week's performance "one of Plum's best games" and added:

"The team's been growing with him and has confidence in him. Milt is showing improvement all the time.

"On all our pass patterns, the passer has several choices. He has to look around and make up his mind. Milt now is making his decisions quicker. He wasn't indecisive last Sunday.

"It takes a while for any new player in this league. Some things you learn only by experience. Milt has come a long way and he'll keep making progress."

Robertson's 45 Points Pace Cincinnati's 88-67 Victory

All-American Sparkles In Win Over NYU

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press sports Writer

"My achin' back."

That's what most college basketball coaches mutter when all America Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati's Bearcats comes to town.

Thursday night, it was Robertson who had the achin' back. But the injury did not deter him from turning in another superlative performance in Madison Square Garden.

The 6-5 junior, who captured the national collegiate scoring title with a 35-point average last season, scored 45 points to lead his team to an 88-67 victory over New York University. St. John's of New York drubbed Providence 73-55 in the opener.

In other games, Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, the No. 4 scorer last season, flipped in 47 points as the Maroon drubbed Union (Tenn.) 121-78; Seattle nipped San Francisco 60-58 on Francis Saunders' basket in the last four seconds; Georgia Tech finished strong to beat Baylor 65-56; Boston College whipped Holy Cross 72-67; Virginia Tech took Virginia 85-73; and Toledo snapped the 21-game winning streak of South Dakota, the NCAA small college champions, 81-70.

Robertson, who had 41 points against Indiana State Monday night, caged 29 points in the second half as the Bearcats broke a 33-all intermission deadlock and romped to an easy triumph. He had 16 points in the first half.

Sophomore Wayne Richards sparked Georgia Tech's late drive against Baylor. He scored two straight baskets as the Yellowjackets snapped a 52-all tie and then moved even further in front with seven straight points.

Boston College's victory was marked by a game-ending fight between Jack Whelan of Holy Cross and Jack Chevalier of BC. It touched off a melee which took several minutes to subdue.

Ex-Cardinal Pitcher To Play With Jap Pros

TOKYO (AP) — Phil Paine, former St. Louis Cardinal pitcher sent to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League in the Cards-Dodgers Wally Moon deal, has agreed to play next season with a Japanese professional baseball team, the Kintetsu Pearls of Japan's Pacific League.

He and outfielder Don Voigt, a member of the Cards from system, Thursday sent a joint telegram to the Pearls to this effect. The club did not disclose terms. Paine was with the Cards on their recent tour of Japan.

Pirates Manager Hurt Slightly In Collision

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Daniel E. Murtaugh, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was injured slightly today when a car and the taxi in which he was riding collided at an intersection.

He was treated at a hospital for bruises of the right knee and head and sent home. No one else was injured.

The 41-year-old Murtaugh, major league baseball's Manager of the Year in 1958, was returning home from the winter pro baseball meetings in Washington.

Veteran Jockey Back In Saddle After Injury

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey, returns to racing today after being laid up with a broken leg since Sept. 7.

Longden, hurt while training a horse at Del Mar, Calif., is riding Royal Reserve in the sixth race at Tanforan. The 48-year-old English born jockey won 5,236 races before Gallant Royal dropped dead during the Del Mar training.

Teachers Get Raise

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Dayton Board of Education has approved salary increases for Dayton school teachers ranging from $125 to $330 a year. The old salary scale ranged from $3,550 for teachers with two years of college training to $6,960 for teachers with masters degrees, school superintendent Robert B. French said.

Ordich, Vuckovich Honored

2 Midland Gridders Cited

Anthony Martell, left, is shown presenting the fourth annual Martell Award trophy to Steve Ordich, voted the outstanding senior lineman by players and coaches, while Nick Vuckovich, named as the outstanding back, looks on at the extreme right Thursday evening at the Midland Rotary Club's annual football banquet at the American Yugo-Slav Club.

Martell made the presentation on behalf of the Martell clothing store to the 170-pound center. Ordich joins a select group of three other Midland High gridders — all of whom are now playing collegiate football.

Past recipients include Richard Zaspi, University of Toledo, Leon Love, University of Cincinnati, and Mike Raich, Geneva College.

Vuckovich, a 145-pound junior halfback, will receive a trophy later from Petrosky and White Sporting Goods. Being ineligible next season because of age, Vuckovich wound up his scholastic grid career by scoring 42 points on seven touchdowns to lead the high - powered Midland attack.

Ordich and Vuckovich received additional recognition by being named honorary co-captains of the team.

Louis (Bimbo) Cecconi, University of Pittsburgh freshman football coach, was guest speaker. He commented briefly to the gathering of letter - winning Midland football players, Rotary Club members, school officials, cheerleaders and numerous guests on the qualities college scouts look for in high school football players.

He pointed out that greater emphasis is being placed today on an athlete's achievements in the classroom than ever before.

Accompanying Cecconi were Ivan Toncic, Henry Suffoletta and John Flara, former Midland High stars who were members of the Pitt varsity this year.

John Petchel, veteran coach of the Leopard team which posted a successful 6-2-1 record this season commented on the importance of good morale and sportsmanship.

In introducing the letter winners of this year's Midland team, he said he was looking for a good club in 1959 with several good candidates returning.

Senior lettermen introduced included Rudy Anusich, Norbert Chevalier, Jim Curry, Tom Curry, Felix Flara, Dean Frederick, Jim Golphin, John Gypalo, Ray Keller, Bill LeMasters, Gabe Modany and Ordich.

Juniors receiving numerals were Frank D'Eramo, Gene Epley, Gene Gerra, Rudy Kirvoshia, Eugene Lake, Ken Russell, Martin Schulte, Movie Smith, Lou Steele and Ron Perkins.

Senior student manager, Mike Tepovich, also received a letter.

The welcoming address was given by David Schwerha, president of the Rotary Club. He introduced William Moll, who served as toastmaster.

Several guests were introduced, including Melvin Lang, faculty manager, Charles Henderson, band director, Howard Thorne, who was responsible for the football movies, and Mrs. Carolyn Simmons, cheerleader coach.

Mrs. Simmons in turn presented senior cheerleaders Carol Sue Reed, captain, Judy Engle and Linda Kidder.

Petchel introduced assistant coaches Charles Polce and Paul Farnan, and Junior High coaches John Wilson and George Ordich.

Dr. Ralph Jewell, superintendent of Midland Public Schools, gave the invocation and introduced members of the school board.

The opening song, group singing and the Rotary closing song was led by Lloyd Deffenbaugh, Rotary song director.

The banquet dinner was prepared and served by the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir.

Irondale Cagers To Seek Their Second Win Tonight

Irondale High has a new cage coach for 1958-59 and apparently a "new look", as indicated by its 47-45 triumph over Brilliant Tuesday night.

Coached by Les Douglas, the Irons will go after victory No. 2 tonight against a veteran United outfit. And if successful, they will equal their victory output for the entire 1957-58 campaign, when they dropped 13 contests.

United also will be carrying a one-game winning streak into tonight's fray and should provide a stiff test for the Irons, having the entire varsity intact from last year's winning club.

Irondale, which for the third straight year is under the direction of a new coach, has a solid core of three regulars back. Graduation clamed two regulars—center Bill Banfield, 6-feet, 3-inches, and guard Bill Leedy, 5-feet, 3-inches.

Douglas points to lack of height as the club's prime weakness, with only one starter reaching the six-foot mark. This deficency could pose a serious problem in tonight's game for the Irons, as United has plenty of height.

Diminutive senior Don Fraley, 5-feet, 8-inches, who averaged nearly 18 points last season, revealed Tuesday that he will be again this year a tough man for the opposition to reckon with.

He poured in 22 points, mostly on his jump-shot specialty, and took game scoring honors.

Gale Boggs, 6-foot, 2-inch center, and junior guard Bill Chetock, 5-feet, 6-inches, the other two returning regulars, each had seven points to aid the Irondale winning cause.

Lonnie Fraley, a letterman last season, dropped in nine points in the first game. Being identical to his brother, Don, in size and weight (5-8, 150 pounds), the junior guard provides back-court hustle for the Irons.

Another junior, Frank Pisarsky, 5-feet, 9-inches, rounds out the starting five.

Junior Doug Logan, 5-feet, 11-inches, is the sixth man in the Irondale attack.

Bill Perkins, a 5-11 senior, was figured to move into the starting five but has been sidelined by a cracked rib. He will probably not be able to return to action until the third contest.

Also missing because of injuries is junior Earl Allen, 5-feet, 9-inches. He is still nursing a broken hand sustained in football and is not expected to play until after Christmas.

Douglas considers many of his freshman, and sophomore prospects as having good potential, but a year away from varsity caliber.

Reserve strength will be supplied by four seniors and a pair of juniors.

The seniors include Scott Patton, 5-feet, 7-inches, Jeff Wardeska, 5-feet, 10-inches, and Ronald Brammer, 5-feet, 6-inches. Junior candidates are Don Sprouse 5-feet, 9-inches, and Earl Allen, 5-feet, 9-inches.

"We lack size, but will have good speed and hustle," says Douglas, former West Liberty College and Martins Ferry High athlete.

Douglas, who in his first year of coaching, is assisted by Fred Sims, a graduate of Ohio Weslyan University.

Cards, Phils, Tribe, Bosox Pace Traders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies, shuffling talent after disappointing seasons, were the busiest traders in the National League during the winter meetings.

With Frank Lane priming the pump, the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox set the pace in the American League.

Solly Hemus, starting a new career as a big league manager with the Cards, came up with two right-handed hitting outfielders in Chuck Essegian and Gino Cimoli.

He gave up Wally Moon, a left-handed hitting outfielder, to Los Angeles and Ruben Amaro, a light hitting (.224) but fancy fielding shortstop, to Philadelphia.

Phil Paine, a right-handed relief pitcher already demoted to the Omaha farm, went to Los Angeles' Spokane farm in the deal that sent Moon to the Dodgers for Cimoli, a .246 disappointment after a fine rookie year.

Essegian, former Stanford football player, hit .246 in a partial year with the Phils. He may wind up as a pinch hitter.

The Phils, in addition to acquiring Amara as insurance behind Chico Fernandez, secured Valmy Thomas, a much-needed catcher. They also got Ruben Gomez, an experienced pitcher, from San Francisco in the swap that brought them right-handed pitcher Jack Sanford, the National League Rookie of the Year in 1957.

San Francisco unloaded the 31-year-old Gomez (10-12) and Thomas (.259) to get Sanford (10-13), a strong armed pitcher who can take a turn every fourth day.

Trader Lane, Cleveland general manager, latched onto a fine center fielder in Jimmy Piersall who hit only .237 at Boston.

To get Piersall, Lane gave the Red Sox first baseman Vic Wertz and center fielder Gary Geiger, a fleet youngster who was highly regarded in the St. Louis organization in 1957.

Lane also came up with Russ Heman, a right-handed pitcher from Baltimore's farm at Vancouver where he had a 9-12 record. In return, Lane gave the Orioles second baseman Bobby Avila, league batting champ in 1954 but now 32. He hit only .253 last season.

The Red Sox also made a deal with Detroit, shifting Lou Berberet, left-handed hitting catcher, to the Tigers for Herb Moford, a right-handed pitcher who had a 4-9 record at Detroit last season. The Tigers were hurting badly for catching.

Many other deals were reported in the making. Some may pop when the club owners return home.

Miami-Oregon Await Grid Battle On Saturday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —Brief workouts in the Orange Bowl stadium were scheduled today by Oregon and Miami as a tuneup for their final football game of the season Saturday afternoon.

Coach Len Casanova brought his 35-strong Oregon squad into Miami after midnight but planned to have them limbering up by 3 p.m.

Miami Coach Andy Gustafson may preview against the Bucks an attack he plans to use next year in place of his powerful old friend, the drive series.

The Hurricanes are expected to try a pro type offense with frequent passes, draw plays and other traps.

Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m. (EST). The game will be televised nationally (NBC).

Jewel's Reward set a record in earnings for a 2-year-old in 1957. In 1958 First Landing, winner of 10 out of 11 races, set a new mark.

Fire Razes Garage

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sparks from an acetylene torch started a fire which Thursday night destroyed a garage owned by John L. Schmucker. The building had offices of two business firms on the second floor. Combined estimate of loss by representatives of the three firms ran to about $68,000.

Greek Children Prove Top Propagandists

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Some of the Greek children taken behind the Iron Curtain by the Communists in the postwar revolt are proving first-rate propagandists for their kidnapers.

Only a select 200 of the estimated 27,000 taken away as babies and teen-agers have been allowed to come home. They returned to isolated mountain villages where their parents still live, and were disillusioned by the primitive surroundings.

During 10 years in Communist custody, the youngsters had been given favored treatment. They now are dazzling villagers with the tales of the wonderful places they have seen.

National Golf Foundation records show that 5,718 regulation courses now are being used in the United States.

Principal Charged

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A trip to see the principal about his son's paddling got him thrown bodily from the office, Myron Dedon, 43, of Mantua has complained in an assault and battery charge. The defendant, George Converse, principal of Crestwood Elementary School, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court here Thursday and will appear for a hearing Dec. 16. Dedon said Converse grabbed him by the throat and shirt, nearly choking him. Converse said Dedon used abusive language and "I don't have to take that kind of language from anyone."

Robertson's 45 Points Pace Cincinnati's 88-67 Victory

All-American Sparkles In Win Over NYU

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press sports Writer

"My achin' back."

That's what most college basketball coaches mutter when all America Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati's Bearcats comes to town.

Thursday night, it was Robertson who had the achin' back. But the injury did not deter him from turning in another superlative performance in Madison Square Garden.

The 6-5 junior, who captured the national collegiate scoring title with a 35-point average last season, scored 45 points to lead his team to an 88-67 victory over New York University. St. John's of New York drubbed Providence 73-55 in the opener.

In other games, Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, the No. 4 scorer last season, flipped in 47 points as the Maroon drubbed Union (Tenn.) 121-78; Seattle nipped San Francisco 60-58 on Francis Saunders' basket in the last four seconds; Georgia Tech finished strong to beat Baylor 65-56; Boston College whipped Holy Cross 72-67; Virginia Tech took Virginia 85-73; and Toledo snapped the 21-game winning streak of South Dakota, the NCAA small college champions, 81-70.

Robertson, who had 41 points against Indiana State Monday night, caged 29 points in the second half as the Bearcats broke a 33-all intermission deadlock and romped to an easy triumph. He had 16 points in the first half.

Sophomore Wayne Richards sparked Georgia Tech's late drive against Baylor. He scored two straight baskets as the Yellowjackets snapped a 52-all tie and then moved even further in front with seven straight points.

Boston College's victory was marked by a game-ending fight between Jack Whelan of Holy Cross and Jack Chevalier of BC. It touched off a melee which took several minutes to subdue.

Ex-Cardinal Pitcher To Play With Jap Pros

TOKYO (AP) — Phil Paine, former St. Louis Cardinal pitcher sent to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League in the Cards-Dodgers Wally Moon deal, has agreed to play next season with a Japanese professional baseball team, the Kintetsu Pearls of Japan's Pacific League.

He and outfielder Don Voigt, a member of the Cards from system, Thursday sent a joint telegram to the Pearls to this effect. The club did not disclose terms. Paine was with the Cards on their recent tour of Japan.

Pirates Manager Hurt Slightly In Collision

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Daniel E. Murtaugh, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was injured slightly today when a car and the taxi in which he was riding collided at an intersection.

He was treated at a hospital for bruises of the right knee and head and sent home. No one else was injured.

The 41-year-old Murtaugh, major league baseball's Manager of the Year in 1958, was returning home from the winter pro baseball meetings in Washington.

Veteran Jockey Back In Saddle After Injury

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey, returns to racing today after being laid up with a broken leg since Sept. 7.

Longden, hurt while training a horse at Del Mar, Calif., is riding Royal Reserve in the sixth race at Tanforan. The 48-year-old English born jockey won 5,236 races before Gallant Royal dropped dead during the Del Mar training.

Woman In Tennessee Real Bargain Hunter

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. John E. Sergent is a bargain hunter. Early last January, she found some Christmas cards "from the three of us" at reduced rates. She snapped them up.

She sold them the other day at further reduced rates.

Pam, who is 7 days old, sort of outdated their sentiment.

Teachers Get Raise

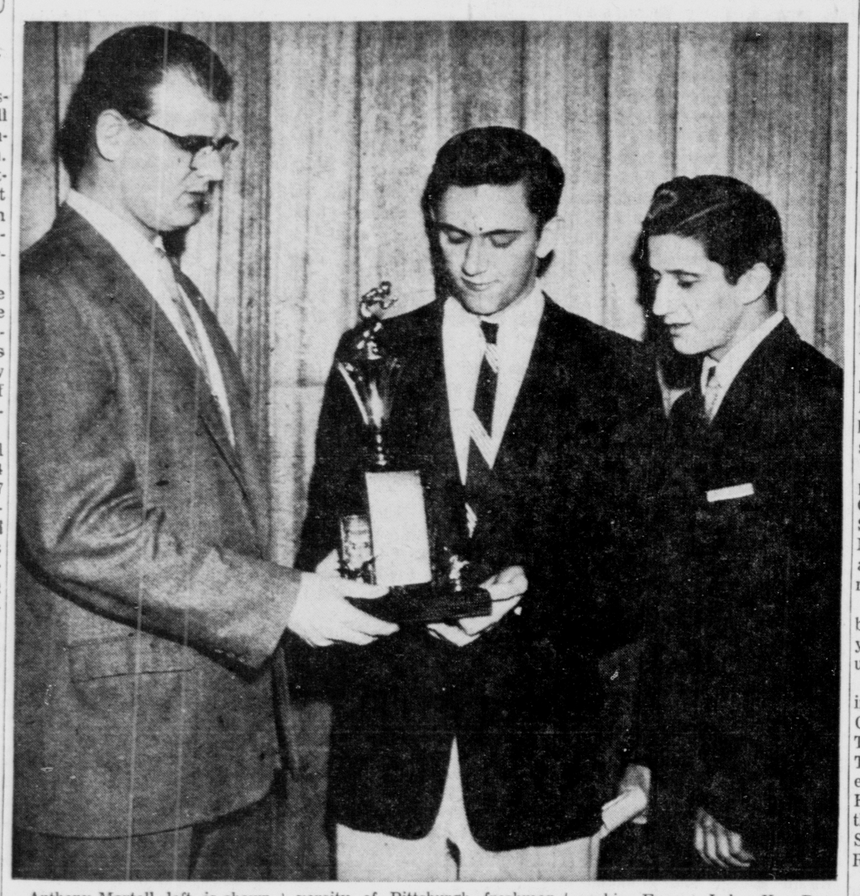
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Dayton Board of Education has approved salary increases for Dayton school teachers ranging from $125 to $330 a year. The old salary scale ranged from $3,550 for teachers with two years of college training to $6,960 for teachers with masters degrees, school superintendent Robert B. French said.

Finsterwald Trails

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, shot a first round 73 Thursday in the Dorado Beach Invitational Golf Tournament. Howie Johnson of Glenwoodie, Minn., leads the field with a 70 over the par 72 course.

Ordich, Vuckovich Honored

2 Midland Gridders Cited



Anthony Martell, left, is shown presenting the fourth annual Martell Award trophy to Steve Ordich, voted the outstanding senior lineman by players and coaches, while Nick Vuckovich, named as the outstanding back, looks on at the extreme right Thursday evening at the Midland Rotary Club's annual football banquet at the American Yugo-Slav Club.

Martell made the presentation on behalf of the Martell clothing store to the 170-pound center. Ordich joins a select group of three other Midland High gridders — all of whom are now playing collegiate football.

Past recipients include Richard Zaspi, University of Toledo, Leon Love, University of Cincinnati, and Mike Raich, Geneva College.

Vuckovich, a 145-pound junior halfback, will receive a trophy later from Petrosky and White Sporting Goods. Being ineligible next season because of age, Vuckovich wound up his scholastic grid career by scoring 42 points on seven touchdowns to lead the high - powered Midland attack.

Ordich and Vuckovich received additional recognition by being named honorary co-captains of the team.

Louis (Bimbo) Cecconi, University of Pittsburgh freshman football coach, was guest speaker. He commented briefly to the gathering of letter - winning Midland football players, Rotary Club members, school officials, cheerleaders and numerous guests on the qualities college scouts look for in high school football players.

He pointed out that greater emphasis is being placed today on an athlete's achievements in the classroom than ever before.

Accompanying Cecconi were Ivan Toncic, Henry Suffoletta and John Flara, former Midland High stars who were members of the Pitt varsity this year.

John Petchel, veteran coach of the Leopard team which posted a successful 6-2-1 record this season commented on the importance of good morale and sportsmanship.

In introducing the letter winners of this year's Midland team, he said he was looking for a good club in 1959 with several good candidates returning.

Senior lettermen introduced included Rudy Anusich, Norbert Chevalier, Jim Curry, Tom Curry, Felix Flara, Dean Frederick, Jim Golphin, John Gypalo, Ray Keller, Bill LeMasters, Gabe Modany and Ordich.

Juniors receiving numerals were Frank D'Eramo, Gene Epley, Gene Gerra, Rudy Kirvoshia, Eugene Lake, Ken Russell, Martin Schulte, Movie Smith, Lou Steele and Ron Perkins.

Senior student manager, Mike Tepovich, also received a letter.

The welcoming address was given by David Schwerha, president of the Rotary Club. He introduced William Moll, who served as toastmaster.

Several guests were introduced, including Melvin Lang, faculty manager, Charles Henderson, band director, Howard Thorne, who was responsible for the football movies, and Mrs. Carolyn Simmons, cheerleader coach.

Mrs. Simmons in turn presented senior cheerleaders Carol Sue Reed, captain, Judy Engle and Linda Kidder.

Petchel introduced assistant coaches Charles Polce and Paul Farnan, and Junior High coaches John Wilson and George Ordich.

Dr. Ralph Jewell, superintendent of Midland Public Schools, gave the invocation and introduced members of the school board.

The opening song, group singing and the Rotary closing song was led by Lloyd Deffenbaugh, Rotary song director.

The banquet dinner was prepared and served by the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir.

Fire Razes Garage

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sparks from an acetylene torch started a fire which Thursday night destroyed a garage owned by John L. Schmucker. The building had offices of two business firms on the second floor. Combined estimate of loss by representatives of the three firms ran to about $68,000.

Greek Children Prove Top Propagandists

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Some of the Greek children taken behind the Iron Curtain by the Communists in the postwar revolt are proving first-rate propagandists for their kidnapers.

Only a select 200 of the estimated 27,000 taken away as babies and teen-agers have been allowed to come home. They returned to isolated mountain villages where their parents still live, and were disillusioned by the primitive surroundings.

During 10 years in Communist custody, the youngsters had been given favored treatment. They now are dazzling villagers with the tales of the wonderful places they have seen.

National Golf Foundation records show that 5,718 regulation courses now are being used in the United States.

Principal Charged

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A trip to see the principal about his son's paddling got him thrown bodily from the office, Myron Dedon, 43, of Mantua has complained in an assault and battery charge. The defendant, George Converse, principal of Crestwood Elementary School, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court here Thursday and will appear for a hearing Dec. 16. Dedon said Converse grabbed him by the throat and shirt, nearly choking him. Converse said Dedon used abusive language and "I don't have to take that kind of language from anyone."

Merchants At Lisbon, Jaycees Wait Parade

LISBON — A pre-Christmas parade will be staged Saturday — weather permitting — by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and merchants, highlighting Santa's arrival in Lisbon.

The parade will form at the Fair Grounds and will move through the downtown and will include Lisbon and Beaver Local High School Bands, floats of the Jaycees and Rotary Club, five fire departments, Civil Defense units, Salem Riding Club, Girl Scouts, the county 40 and 8 and new cars. The parade will be led by village police and sheriff's cruisers and the American Legion color guard.

Treats will be given to all children.

City Man Named Head Of County Veterans Relief

James A. Johnston of East Liverpool, representing the Disabled American Veterans, was appointed president of the Columbiana County Soldiers Relief Commission at a meeting Tuesday at Lisbon.

He succeeds Richard Hutchinson of Salem, who was elected president for this year but was not reappointed by Common Pleas Court.

Dr. H. W. Bennett of Lisbon was elected vice president and Ronald B. Mackall of East Palestine was named secretary. Hoyt Sexton of Lisbon and Richard Harris of East Palestine are the other board members.

C. D. McCullough of East Liverpool, county service officer, has tendered his resignation, effective Jan. 1. Mrs. Virginia Mast, clerk and assistant service officer, will move up to county service director's post on Jan. 1.

The board will interview several applicants for the clerk's position Tuesday. All applicants screened were asked to report then.

3 Given Consideration For County Coroner

No formal applications have been received by the Columbiana County Commissioners for the post of county coroner, but at least three men are being considered for appointment to the post formerly held by Ernest Sturgis who died last month.

Under consideration are Dr. J. Keith Rugh of East Liverpool and Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, presently serving as deputy coroners, and Arnold Devon, East Liverpool druggist who served as coroner in 1935-45. Others may be considered a spokesman said.

Although state law now requires a physician serve as coroner, an informal attorney general's ruling has indicated a previous coroner who is not a physican may hold the position.

The commissioners are not expected to meet to discuss the appointment until Dec. 15. Galen Greenisen is at Columbus today and the commissioners will attend a state meeting of county commissioners next week at Columbus.

Midland Chamber Sets Annual Dinner Jan. 28

Mike Hornick, president, announced the Midland Chamber of Commerce 19th annual dinner meeting will be held Jan. 28 at the St. Anthony Club.

Hornick will be the toastmaster, David Schwerha, program chairman, and Fr. Francis E. Paul of the Presentation Catholic Church will give the invocation.

Election of officers, conducted by mail, ended Wednesday. Results will be announced later. New officers and a Board of Directors will be installed during the meeting.

Present included Hornick, president; William Orr, vice president; Tom Fannin, treasurer, and Wilbert Basinger, recording secretary. Directors include Schwerha, Dr. Vern S. Watson, Donald Green, Dr. T. S. Boyd, Anthony Martell, William Robertson and H. R. Nophsker.

County Teacher Group Will Receive Citation

The Columbiana County Education Association is among 13 county groups to be cited with achievement awards at a dinner at the Ohio Education Association convention at Cleveland tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Strader of Beaver Local District are county delegates.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below normal. Normal high 39 north to 43 south. Normal low 26 to 28. Cold throughout period. Intermittent snow flurries in northern Ohio throughout the period and snow again over the state about Sunday.

Merchants At Lisbon, Jaycees Wait Parade

LISBON — A pre-Christmas parade will be staged Saturday — weather permitting — by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and merchants, highlighting Santa's arrival in Lisbon.

The parade will form at the Fair Grounds and will move through the downtown and will include Lisbon and Beaver Local High School Bands, floats of the Jaycees and Rotary Club, five fire departments, Civil Defense units, Salem Riding Club, Girl Scouts, the county 40 and 8 and new cars. The parade will be led by village police and sheriff's cruisers and the American Legion color guard.

Treats will be given to all children.

City Man Named Head Of County Veterans Relief

James A. Johnston of East Liverpool, representing the Disabled American Veterans, was appointed president of the Columbiana County Soldiers Relief Commission at a meeting Tuesday at Lisbon.

He succeeds Richard Hutchinson of Salem, who was elected president for this year but was not reappointed by Common Pleas Court.

Dr. H. W. Bennett of Lisbon was elected vice president and Ronald B. Mackall of East Palestine was named secretary. Hoyt Sexton of Lisbon and Richard Harris of East Palestine are the other board members.

C. D. McCullough of East Liverpool, county service officer, has tendered his resignation, effective Jan. 1. Mrs. Virginia Mast, clerk and assistant service officer, will move up to county service director's post on Jan. 1.

The board will interview several applicants for the clerk's position Tuesday. All applicants screened were asked to report then.

3 Given Consideration For County Coroner

No formal applications have been received by the Columbiana County Commissioners for the post of county coroner, but at least three men are being considered for appointment to the post formerly held by Ernest Sturgis who died last month.

Under consideration are Dr. J. Keith Rugh of East Liverpool and Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, presently serving as deputy coroners, and Arnold Devon, East Liverpool druggist who served as coroner in 1935-45. Others may be considered a spokesman said.

Although state law now requires a physician serve as coroner, an informal attorney general's ruling has indicated a previous coroner who is not a physican may hold the position.

The commissioners are not expected to meet to discuss the appointment until Dec. 15. Galen Greenisen is at Columbus today and the commissioners will attend a state meeting of county commissioners next week at Columbus.

Midland Chamber Sets Annual Dinner Jan. 28

Mike Hornick, president, announced the Midland Chamber of Commerce 19th annual dinner meeting will be held Jan. 28 at the St. Anthony Club.

Hornick will be the toastmaster, David Schwerha, program chairman, and Fr. Francis E. Paul of the Presentation Catholic Church will give the invocation.

Election of officers, conducted by mail, ended Wednesday. Results will be announced later. New officers and a Board of Directors will be installed during the meeting.

Present included Hornick, president; William Orr, vice president; Tom Fannin, treasurer, and Wilbert Basinger, recording secretary. Directors include Schwerha, Dr. Vern S. Watson, Donald Green, Dr. T. S. Boyd, Anthony Martell, William Robertson and H. R. Nophsker.

County Teacher Group Will Receive Citation

The Columbiana County Education Association is among 13 county groups to be cited with achievement awards at a dinner at the Ohio Education Association convention at Cleveland tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Strader of Beaver Local District are county delegates.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below normal. Normal high 39 north to 43 south. Normal low 26 to 28. Cold throughout period. Intermittent snow flurries in northern Ohio throughout the period and snow again over the state about Sunday.

Everybody Should Know!
Hoffman
Signature Series models are made of HARDWOOD
Hoffman TV for '59 gives you the hardwood fine furniture deserves. The top and the sides of the cabinet are all made of real hardwood — more than twice as thick as in other quality sets.
And only Hoffman gives you Black Easy-Vision, which protects against eye fatigue, keeps your picture clear and bright even in daylight. And exclusive Dyna-Touch lets you tune with the flick of a finger.
Teddy Bear with the purchase of a Hoffman TV or HI-FI.

Everybody Should Know!
Hoffman
Signature Series models are made of HARDWOOD

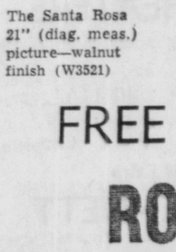
The Santa Rosa 21" (diag. meas.) picture—limed oak finish (B3521)



The Santa Rosa 21" (diag. meas.) picture—walnut finish (W3521)

The Santa Rosa 21" (diag. meas.) picture—mahogany finish (M3521)

Hoffman TV for '59 gives you the hardwood fine furniture deserves. The top and the sides of the cabinet are all made of real hardwood — more than twice as thick as in other quality sets.

And only Hoffman gives you Black Easy-Vision, which protects against eye fatigue, keeps your picture clear and bright even in daylight. And exclusive Dyna-Touch lets you tune with the flick of a finger.

STARTS WITH HOME OWNERSHIP!

SUBURBAN HTS. This new 3 bedroom brick home is a beauty. It has nice large rooms with spacious closets, beautiful plaster, hardwood floors and the kitchen has every convenience with large dinette. Yes, it is all electric heat at an annual cost of $330.00 including hot water, cooking, laundry and lights. In the city with gas, electric and water to pay, you cant beat this all electric. The marble window sills makes cleaning and dusting a pleasure with beauty. The stone open fireplace in the living room is a dandy and that wall is all masonry. The price is only $21,000

KOZY COTTAGE 1042 HUSTON AVE. Two bedrooms of nice size, beautiful large well arranged kitchen, roomy living room, hardwood floors, bath, full dry basement and gas furnace. This little home has been carefully occupied by the present owner since it was built 12 years ago. You'll like this since it is convenient to McKinley School and not too far if you have to walk to town occasionally. Price $7500.00

MOVING TO CALIF. The owner of this little 3 room six year old cottage in Westfield has requested us to sell it quick. It is situated on two lots and needs a little work done on it to complete the job. However, it has a basement but not concreted, the furnace is in but the bath has to be completed. Price is only $2,100.00

BUILDING LOTS. We have two on Midway Lane 85x161 with all utilities including sanitary sewer. $1,800.00 each. Another nice lot in Glenmoor on Walker Avenue with street improved and it is 145x166 at only $1,200.00. Then we have a group of 20 lots just in the rear of Glen Street and the total price on these is only $1,800.00.

GUILFORD LAKE! Get your summer cottage now and save. This is a beautiful cottage completely furnished at only $2,500.00

WELLSVILLE COTTAGE, 402 21st St. Four rooms, bath and furnace, to settle an estate. Two nice level lots. Price $4,000.00

WELLSVILLE COTTAGE. 310 — 14th St. Four rooms, bath and furnace in very good condition and centrally located convenient to schools and stores. Price $5500.00.

STARTS WITH HOME OWNERSHIP!

SUBURBAN HTS. This new 3 bedroom brick home is a beauty. It has nice large rooms with spacious closets, beautiful plaster, hardwood floors and the kitchen has every convenience with large dinette. Yes, it is all electric heat at an annual cost of $330.00 including hot water, cooking, laundry and lights. In the city with gas, electric and water to pay, you cant beat this all electric. The marble window sills makes cleaning and dusting a pleasure with beauty. The stone open fireplace in the living room is a dandy and that wall is all masonry. The price is only $21,000

KOZY COTTAGE 1042 HUSTON AVE. Two bedrooms of nice size, beautiful large well arranged kitchen, roomy living room, hardwood floors, bath, full dry basement and gas furnace. This little home has been carefully occupied by the present owner since it was built 12 years ago. You'll like this since it is convenient to McKinley School and not too far if you have to walk to town occasionally. Price $7500.00

MOVING TO CALIF. The owner of this little 3 room six year old cottage in Westfield has requested us to sell it quick. It is situated on two lots and needs a little work done on it to complete the job. However, it has a basement but not concreted, the furnace is in but the bath has to be completed. Price is only $2,100.00

BUILDING LOTS. We have two on Midway Lane 85x161 with all utilities including sanitary sewer. $1,800.00 each. Another nice lot in Glenmoor on Walker Avenue with street improved and it is 145x166 at only $1,200.00. Then we have a group of 20 lots just in the rear of Glen Street and the total price on these is only $1,800.00.

GUILFORD LAKE! Get your summer cottage now and save. This is a beautiful cottage completely furnished at only $2,500.00

WELLSVILLE COTTAGE. 402 21st St. Four rooms, bath and furnace, to settle an estate. Two nice level lots. Price $4,000.00

Skeezix, I've just seen Uncle Walt. He isn't his old sweet self any more.

How come, Judy? What's the angle?

He's gone stale on Christmas. He says it's a waste of time and energy and sentiment.

And money. Perhaps that's the rub.

He won't admit it. He just wants to crawl into his cyclone cellar till it's all over.

Boy! Christmas without Uncle Walt? We might as well get along without Santa Claus!

Limited-War Forces, Military Cuts

Dulles, Administration 'Inconsistent' On Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says the West must have forces to fight limited wars, the Eisenhower administration, bent on economy, cuts the size of the American armed forces.

Sound inconsistent? Not if this country is going to depend more on Allied and friendly countries to use their manpower, with American backing. Dulles seemed to be suggesting that in a speech Thursday at San Francisco.

The only trouble with the idea is whether the Allies and friends have enough strength, without American manpower, to do the job.

Dulles said it is not enough to have great retaliatory striking power. "It is necessary," he said, "to have forces-in-being at endangered points."

This might seem like a switch—but it isn't necessarily so—from that famous speech he made Jan. 12, 1954, in which he said the Eisenhower administration had decided to rely on "massive retaliatory power" for the defense of the United States and the free world.

In that same talk nearly five years ago he appeared to sense that there might be local wars in which massive retaliation wouldn't be used. He said the important thing was to make setbacks by the Communists temporary and local.

On Nov. 19 Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy announced orders for a reduction of about 71,000 in Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps manpower. This is part of the administration's effort to cut spending.

The decision to make these reductions had been reached earlier, but action was held up some months because of two war scares: in the Middle East and the Formosa Strait. This country sent troops into Lebanon and backed up Chiang Kai-shek's defense of the island of Quemoy.

When those crises quieted down the administration went ahead with the decision to cut military manpower although it wasn't then, and still isn't, in a position to know whether there would be another crisis next week or next month.

Certainly not all of America's friends could depend on their own manpower to hold the fort for themselves.

Chiang couldn't have held Quemoy without the big show of American naval strength. And there would have been no need to send American troops into Lebanon if the Lebanese government had been able to protect itself.

Dulles said Thursday: "Nations in close proximity to powerful aggressive forces need the reassurance of some visible force within their own territory. (Meaning, no doubt, a lot of their own military manpower — provided they have it.)

"They are not content to be wholly dependent upon decisions in other lands.

"Furthermore, vast retaliatory power should not be, and will not be, invoked lightly. There must be an ability to oppose what may be limited probings in ways less drastic than general nuclear war."

Then, as if to suggest most of the manpower would have to be supplied by American friends and Allies if the Communists push them, Dulles said: "Most of the 'limited war' forces are contributed by our Allies. For example, they contribute 80 per cent of the ground forces. We help to maintain and support these forces by supplying, where needed, military weapons, and occasionally some financial support. This is truly a system of collective security."

There's one gap in Dulles' reasoning: If the Communists began a limited war where an ally had plenty of manpower, this country might be able to see it through with various forms of aid that didn't include manpower.

But what happens if an ally or friend is attacked and doesn't have enough strength—as in the case of Lebanon, which wasn't even attacked—to protect itself?

The more the administration cuts its military forces, the fewer it will have to fight a limited war where they might be needed.

Ohio United Labor Unit Spent $809,565 To Beat Right-Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—United Organized Labor of Ohio, the major opponent of the so called right-to-work proposal, spent $809,565 in the successful effort to defeat the measure at the polls last month.

Elmer F. Cope, secretary of the Ohio AFL-CIO and secretary-treasurer of the UOL, said in a report to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown that the organization had received $849,135 in contributions for the campaign.

Cope said the organization owed $1,534 in payroll taxes. The balance will be turned over to the AFL-CIO.

The campaign committee for the right-to-work amendment reported receipts of only $72,923 for its unsuccessful campaign in support of RTW and expenditures of $762,543. The committee chairman reported loans totaled $666,614 including $392,500 from the Huntington National Bank of Columbus and $261,500 from the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Other campaign expenditures reports from RTW opponents filed with the secretary of state before the 4 p.m. deadline Thusrday included:

United Organized Labor of Stark County, $25,214.

Steelworkers Committee on Political Education, Stark County, $3,468.

Limited-War Forces, Military Cuts

Dulles, Administration 'Inconsistent' On Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says the West must have forces to fight limited wars, the Eisenhower administration, bent on economy, cuts the size of the American armed forces.

Sound inconsistent? Not if this country is going to depend more on Allied and friendly countries to use their manpower, with American backing. Dulles seemed to be suggesting that in a speech Thursday at San Francisco.

The only trouble with the idea is whether the Allies and friends have enough strength, without American manpower, to do the job.

Dulles said it is not enough to have great retaliatory striking power. "It is necessary," he said, "to have forces-in-being at endangered points."

This might seem like a switch—but it isn't necessarily so—from that famous speech he made Jan. 12, 1954, in which he said the Eisenhower administration had decided to rely on "massive retaliatory power" for the defense of the United States and the free world.

In that same talk nearly five years ago he appeared to sense that there might be local wars in which massive retaliation wouldn't be used. He said the important thing was to make setbacks by the Communists temporary and local.

On Nov. 19 Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy announced orders for a reduction of about 71,000 in Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps manpower. This is part of the administration's effort to cut spending.

The decision to make these reductions had been reached earlier, but action was held up some months because of two war scares: in the Middle East and the Formosa Strait. This country sent troops into Lebanon and backed up Chiang Kai-shek's defense of the island of Quemoy.

When those crises quieted down the administration went ahead with the decision to cut military manpower although it wasn't then, and still isn't, in a position to know whether there would be another crisis next week or next month.

Certainly not all of America's friends could depend on their own manpower to hold the fort for themselves.

Chiang couldn't have held Quemoy without the big show of American naval strength. And there would have been no need to send American troops into Lebanon if the Lebanese government had been able to protect itself.

"They are not content to be wholly dependent upon decisions in other lands.

"Furthermore, vast retaliatory power should not be, and will not be, invoked lightly. There must be an ability to oppose what may be limited probings in ways less drastic than general nuclear war."

Then, as if to suggest most of the manpower would have to be supplied by American friends and Allies if the Communists push them, Dulles said: "Most of the 'limited war' forces are contributed by our Allies. Modern Appliance To Mean Leisure Time

Whole Family Reaps Benefit Of Proper Gift

How big a package does leisure time come in?

And where can you buy it?

There's not a husband alive who wouldn't like the answers to those questions—for leisure time is obviously the best gift he could possibly give his wife for Christmas.

Actually, the answers are surprisingly simple.

That's because today's labor-saving appliances are also time-savers. Thus, the lucky lady who receives a major appliance from her family as a Christmas present is getting more than simply a machine which will make her work easier—she is, in effect, receiving a "package" of leisure time.

These extra moments will come to her every day of the year and they are hers to do with just as she wants.

No husband will be surprised, of course, if his wife devotes most of those new found leisure moments to the family as well as herself.

That's one beauty of an appliance as a Christmas present—the family reaps the indirect benefits even as mother herself gets the real use out of it.

The woman who owns a modern home freezer, for example, will find that precious moments just before meal time can now be spent with her family and guests.

Delicacies prepared long in advance merely have to be removed from the freezer and popped in the oven. And if she owns a modern range with the latest in automatic controls she'll have just that much more time in which to relax before the meal is ready for the table.

Or, if the Christmas gift comes in the form of a dishwasher, the family will be able to relax together after the meal while the machine takes over the cleanup chore which once made mother an exile in the kitchen.

Meal times, however, are not the only hours of the day from which extra leisure moments can be extracted by modern appliances.

A big, spacious refrigerator, for example, eliminates the need for repeated, time-consuming trips to the store.

Shopping once a week is enough, for the wife with a modern refrigerator and home freezer really has a supermarket in her own home.

Washday, too, can be changed from an exhausting and time consuming interval to an effortless interlude during which the housewife need do little more than set dials and push buttons.

AUTOMATIC DEFROSTING and non-frost refrigerators make possible a whole new concept in kitchen planning. When she no longer has to stagger back and forth with dripping trays, the housewife can more closely integrate her kitchen with other living areas.

Controls On Gas Range Improve Food Values

Many a homemaker will get more food value for her money this Christmas and enjoy better eating, too, thanks to the work of gas range manufacturers.

The range - makers offer a variety of automatic controls for top burners, rotisseries and ovens—all aimed at insuring the housewife against excessive meat shrinkage and overcooking.

The controls take the guesswork out of cooking — maintaining exact temperatures and indicating when the roast has reached the desired degree of "doneness."

Many of the new model ranges are designed with the new square look and give a built - in appearance, and they offer such features as top-of-the-range rotisseries, vertical broilers, thermostatically controlled griddles, push-button controls and even remote controls that permit milady to turn the range on or off from the backyard, bedroom or anywhere around the house.

Ore Shipments Down

CLEVELAND (AP) — With the Great Lakes shipping season almost over total iron ore shipments from upper lakes ports are almost 31 million gross tons lower than a year ago. The American Iron Ore Assn. announced Wednesday that during 1958 United States and Canadian docks loaded 52,792,715 gross tons of ore. That compared with 84,596,373 gross tons in 1957. During November, however, United States docks loaded 4,281,562 gross tons, an increase of 484,978 gross tons over the similar month a year ago.

Improve Home Value

Modern gas kitchens and laundries not only add to comfort and convenience now, but also boost the value of your home, should resale ever be considered.

Housewives Will Welcome Water Heater

A dishwasher's best friend is a water heater.

It makes no difference whether the dishwasher is of the human variety or the automatic mechanical type. Both types take a beating during the holiday season, and both types are all but useless when the hot water supply runs out.

There's really no good reason for the "no-hot-water" lament in this day and age, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, since today's gas water heaters can keep any family supplied with enough hot water — automatically.

The association points out that more than two and a half million families solved the hot water problem with a new gas heater this year, and that just as many will do the same in 1959. There's no dip in water heater sales, it says.

The demand for more hot water continues to mount because of larger families, multiple - bathroom homes, automatic washers and dishwasher, not to mention increasing awareness of the importance of personal and household cleanliness in terms of social standing and health protection.

The householder currently suffering from hot water anemia can solve the problem rather easily.

In many communities the gas company offers a deferred payment plan to finance a water heater — equal to the family's needs. In rural areas many LP-Gas dealers have similar plans. And of course, water heaters qualify for financing under FHA Title I loans and under other home modernization finance plans.

Your gas company or a qualified plumbing contractor can guide you in selecting a water heater of adequate capacity for your home and family, GAMA advises.

Consult An Expert

When planning kitchen improvements, consult an expert, especially when a built-in range is considered, suggests the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Ironer Will Mean Family Neatness

What woman doesn't worry about what her neighbors think about her?

What woman, for example, ready to leave on a vacation, doesn't spend a final minute in tidying up the house so the neighbors who bring in the mail and the papers will be impressed by her neatness?

And what woman doesn't worry about how her children and her husband look? She knows, for example, that nicely - ironed clothes are the best index of her ability as a wife and mother.

That's why so many women are using a modern electrical appliance which is designed specifically to make it possible for them to do a professional job of ironing with ease.

The product is, of course, an ironer. The smart woman would do well to think seriously about adding it to her list of "things I really want" for Christmas.

And the smart husband will realize that here is a gift which will be appreciated for years and years to come.

Here's why. The ironer banishes all of the physical labor in ironing. There are no ironing boards to get out, set up and put away again (and the putting away inevitably comes after you've put in a long afternoon of ironing and are completely tired out).

Better yet, the automatic ironer takes the physical labor out of the ironing process itself. There's no more standing, no more lifting, no more exerting ironing pressure.

The ironer also cuts ironing time. Some experts say you spend only one - third as much time in ironing by machine as you would spend in doing the same laundry by hand. This additional leisure time is all yours — it's time saved out of your busy schedule.

Best of all, an ironer lets you do a thoroughly professional job on every item in your laundry—from dresses and shirts right through the flat work.

Slacks and shorts can be ironed easily and men's trousers pressed in a jiffy. You'll finish your best linens in a hurry with never a wrinkle to mar them. And you'll find that you get generally smoother, more uniform ironing with an ironer.

Days Of Labor Are Saved By Use Of Dryer

You can make Mom's Christmas merrier with a little give and take.

You can give her comfort and leisure and take away days of toil and drudgery. Or, getting down to specifics, you can give her a gas clothes dryer and take away her washline.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association points out that using a dryer saves the home laundress more than 30 days of hard labor a year.

Scientific tests conducted at Ohio State University have shown that loading a dryer and folding the items requires only one-sixth the time needed for the washline routine.

What's more the number of steps required for carrying, hanging and folding an eight - pound load was reduced from 625 to practically none when the dryer was used.

The researchers drew some interesting conclusions.

They said, for example, "besides the favorable features already cited the use of a dryer can reduce the number of clothing items needed particularly for infants and growing children since drying is no problem."

The researchers also said, "from our experience with this and other studies we sincerely believe that no other household appliance can contribute more to time and energy management in the home. If for financial reasons, we had to choose between an automatic washer and no dryer or a wringer washer and a dryer, our choice would be the latter combination."

Modern Appliance To Mean Leisure Time

Whole Family Reaps Benefit Of Proper Gift

How big a package does leisure time come in?

And where can you buy it?

There's not a husband alive who wouldn't like the answers to those questions—for leisure time is obviously the best gift he could possibly give his wife for Christmas.

Actually, the answers are surprisingly simple.

That's because today's labor-saving appliances are also time-savers. Thus, the lucky lady who receives a major appliance from her family as a Christmas present is getting more than simply a machine which will make her work easier—she is, in effect, receiving a "package" of leisure time.

These extra moments will come to her every day of the year and they are hers to do with just as she wants.

No husband will be surprised, of course, if his wife devotes most of those new found leisure moments to the family as well as herself.

That's one beauty of an appliance as a Christmas present—the family reaps the indirect benefits even as mother herself gets the real use out of it.

The woman who owns a modern home freezer, for example, will find that precious moments just before meal time can now be spent with her family and guests.

Delicacies prepared long in advance merely have to be removed from the freezer and popped in the oven. And if she owns a modern range with the latest in automatic controls she'll have just that much more time in which to relax before the meal is ready for the table.

Or, if the Christmas gift comes in the form of a dishwasher, the family will be able to relax together after the meal while the machine takes over the cleanup chore which once made mother an exile in the kitchen.

Meal times, however, are not the only hours of the day from which extra leisure moments can be extracted by modern appliances.

A big, spacious refrigerator, for example, eliminates the need for repeated, time-consuming trips to the store.

Shopping once a week is enough, for the wife with a modern refrigerator and home freezer really has a supermarket in her own home.

Washday, too, can be changed from an exhausting and time consuming interval to an effortless interlude during which the housewife need do little more than set dials and push buttons.

AUTOMATIC DEFROSTING and non-frost refrigerators make possible a whole new concept in kitchen planning. When she no longer has to stagger back and forth with dripping trays, the housewife can more closely integrate her kitchen with other living areas.

Controls On Gas Range Improve Food Values

Many a homemaker will get more food value for her money this Christmas and enjoy better eating, too, thanks to the work of gas range manufacturers.

The range - makers offer a variety of automatic controls for top burners, rotisseries and ovens—all aimed at insuring the housewife against excessive meat shrinkage and overcooking.

The controls take the guesswork out of cooking — maintaining exact temperatures and indicating when the roast has reached the desired degree of "doneness."

Many of the new model ranges are designed with the new square look and give a built - in appearance, and they offer such features as top-of-the-range rotisseries, vertical broilers, thermostatically controlled griddles, push-button controls and even remote controls that permit milady to turn the range on or off from the backyard, bedroom or anywhere around the house.

Ore Shipments Down

CLEVELAND (AP) — With the Great Lakes shipping season almost over total iron ore shipments from upper lakes ports are almost 31 million gross tons lower than a year ago. The American Iron Ore Assn. announced Wednesday that during 1958 United States and Canadian docks loaded 52,792,715 gross tons of ore. That compared with 84,596,373 gross tons in 1957. During November, however, United States docks loaded 4,281,562 gross tons, an increase of 484,978 gross tons over the similar month a year ago.

Improve Home Value

Modern gas kitchens and laundries not only add to comfort and convenience now, but also boost the value of your home, should resale ever be considered.

Housewives Will Welcome Water Heater

A dishwasher's best friend is a water heater.

It makes no difference whether the dishwasher is of the human variety or the automatic mechanical type. Both types take a beating during the holiday season, and both types are all but useless when the hot water supply runs out.

There's really no good reason for the "no-hot-water" lament in this day and age, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, since today's gas water heaters can keep any family supplied with enough hot water — automatically.

The association points out that more than two and a half million families solved the hot water problem with a new gas heater this year, and that just as many will do the same in 1959. There's no dip in water heater sales, it says.

The demand for more hot water continues to mount because of larger families, multiple - bathroom homes, automatic washers and dishwasher, not to mention increasing awareness of the importance of personal and household cleanliness in terms of social standing and health protection.

The householder currently suffering from hot water anemia can solve the problem rather easily.

In many communities the gas company offers a deferred payment plan to finance a water heater — equal to the family's needs. In rural areas many LP-Gas dealers have similar plans. And of course, water heaters qualify for financing under FHA Title I loans and under other home modernization finance plans.

Your gas company or a qualified plumbing contractor can guide you in selecting a water heater of adequate capacity for your home and family, GAMA advises.

Consult An Expert

When planning kitchen improvements, consult an expert, especially when a built-in range is considered, suggests the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Ironer Will Mean Family Neatness

What woman doesn't worry about what her neighbors think about her?

What woman, for example, ready to leave on a vacation, doesn't spend a final minute in tidying up the house so the neighbors who bring in the mail and the papers will be impressed by her neatness?

And what woman doesn't worry about how her children and her husband look? She knows, for example, that nicely - ironed clothes are the best index of her ability as a wife and mother.

That's why so many women are using a modern electrical appliance which is designed specifically to make it possible for them to do a professional job of ironing with ease.

The product is, of course, an ironer. The smart woman would do well to think seriously about adding it to her list of "things I really want" for Christmas.

And the smart husband will realize that here is a gift which will be appreciated for years and years to come.

Here's why. The ironer banishes all of the physical labor in ironing. There are no ironing boards to get out, set up and put away again (and the putting away inevitably comes after you've put in a long afternoon of ironing and are completely tired out).

Better yet, the automatic ironer takes the physical labor out of the ironing process itself. There's no more standing, no more lifting, no more exerting ironing pressure.

The ironer also cuts ironing time. Some experts say you spend only one - third as much time in ironing by machine as you would spend in doing the same laundry by hand. This additional leisure time is all yours — it's time saved out of your busy schedule.

Best of all, an ironer lets you do a thoroughly professional job on every item in your laundry—from dresses and shirts right through the flat work.

Slacks and shorts can be ironed easily and men's trousers pressed in a jiffy. You'll finish your best linens in a hurry with never a wrinkle to mar them. And you'll find that you get generally smoother, more uniform ironing with an ironer.

Days Of Labor Are Saved By Use Of Dryer

You can make Mom's Christmas merrier with a little give and take.

You can give her comfort and leisure and take away days of toil and drudgery. Or, getting down to specifics, you can give her a gas clothes dryer and take away her washline.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association points out that using a dryer saves the home laundress more than 30 days of hard labor a year.

Scientific tests conducted at Ohio State University have shown that loading a dryer and folding the items requires only one-sixth the time needed for the washline routine.

What's more the number of steps required for carrying, hanging and folding an eight - pound load was reduced from 625 to practically none when the dryer was used.

The researchers drew some interesting conclusions.

They said, for example, "besides the favorable features already cited the use of a dryer can reduce the number of clothing items needed particularly for infants and growing children since drying is no problem."

The researchers also said, "from our experience with this and other studies we sincerely believe that no other household appliance can contribute more to time and energy management in the home. If for financial reasons, we had to choose between an automatic washer and no dryer or a wringer washer and a dryer, our choice would be the latter combination."

Sun Will Shine Every Day In The Modern Home Laundry

You Can Turn Gloomy Days Into Gay Ones

The sun shines 365 days a year in a modern home laundry.

That's the safest, surest and most certain weather forecast you can find. Even in the tropics in the rainy season you could safely predict sunny weather in the modern electric laundry room.

One reason, of course, is that modern appliances like the automatic washer and dryer have liberated washday from the weather outside.

Grandmother, of course, just had to wait for a good "drying day". And even then, some of the good drying days were so hot that she could take little enjoyment from the prospect of standing over boiling wash tubs.

Today's housewife, of course, need never move outside of her laundry room and the whole process of modern laundering is so easy and carefree that the lady of the house couldn't care less about what the weather outside is like.

But freedom from worry about the weather is only one reason for the "sunny" disposition of women who have a modern electric laundry in their home.

Actually, laundry day is always "fair" for them because all the "clouds" that once hung over washday have been dissipated by today's labor saving appliances, new achievements in soil-resistant and care-free fabrics, and spectacular advances in soaps, detergents, bleaches and starches.

Consider for a moment the changes which electrical appliances have made in washday. Can you remember the hand scrubbing, the boiling of clothes, the transferring of heavy wet laundry from one tub to another?

With today's washers the housewife need do nothing but set the controls and turn the machine on. From that point an array of mechanical brains and capable electrical servants take over and do the washing.

And years ago, after the clothes had been washed, they had to be loaded in a basket, the basket carried upstairs and the heavy, cumbersome laundry hung on the line.

Then you worried about the weather, smoke, wind-blown dirt—and a dozen other potential catastrophes. In today's laundry the damp-dry clothes are moved from the washer to the neighboring dryer, a switch is turned on and all drying headaches have been taken care of.

Finally, the clothes must be ironed. That once could mean but one thing — exhausting hours standing over an ironing board.

But modern ironers have taken the physical work out of ironing while at the same time drastically reducing the time needed for this operation.

Modern Range Cuts Kitchen Clutter

If you're one of those householders with a kitchen that's cluttered with an assortment of single-purpose cooking appliances and you couldn't add another without a shoe horn, then hear this:

The new automatic gas ranges have 'em all—built in, so that your shelves and cabinet space can be used for utensils and other essentials. Let's run down the list of "auxiliary" cooking functions so you can check:

—:—

PLUG-IN frying pan? Automatic deep fat fryer or broiler? With the top burner heat control that's standard equipment on new gas ranges, you're in a position to kiss the "special" appliances good-bye. In fact, this control makes any pot or pan in your closet into an automatic cooking appliance.

A Dutch oven or chicken fryer takes a new lease on life when you can pre-set your gas cooking temperature and know positively that the heat won't vary more than two degrees through the whole cooking operation, unless you re-set it to automatic simmer or high heat.

What's more, it makes no difference what size your utensil is or whether it's made of porcelain, stainless steel, iron, oven-proof glass or aluminum.

They'll all work the same, because the dial for the top burner control can be set to compensate for any kind of utensil and the flexible gas flame will spread to contact the whole bottom of the pan without going to waste up the sides.

DOES THE new gas range give you the advantage of a combination broiler and rotisserie?

Naturally; and you can't beat the flavor your radiant-heat gas broiler imparts to steaks, while your rotating rotisserie makes delicious meals without heating your entire kitchen.

Your range offers carefree cooking as a "plus," for you can leave the house while your roast is being barbecued to perfection, knowing that your oven control will take care of it, safely.

Automatic roaster?

Of course; and yours has a foolproof device for arriving at the exact degree of doneness you want—rare, medium, well-done or any shade between—simply by setting a dial on the probe that goes into your roast. And, as the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association points out, you can cook a complete meal, roast a turkey or bake puddings, cakes, pies and casserole dishes at the same time in your extra-wide oven.

Toaster?

Yes. Your broiler also serves as a king-size toaster that can supply everyone in the family with toast at one fell swoop and it takes all sizes and thicknesses of breads.

In short, according to GAMA, you have the latest automatic appliances built right into your new gas range.

It Stays Beautiful

She'll find it easy to keep her gift of an automatic gas range as beautiful as the day you gave it to her. A quick onceover with plain soap and water removes most stains. Racks, burners and broilers may be removed and washed with ease.

Wife Should Be The Planning Expert

Interested in meeting the best kitchen planning expert you can find? Then shake hands with your wife.

That's the truth. Chances are that she's not a designer, or an architect, or a remodeling expert.

But she has one big advantage over all of these experts when it comes to designing her own kitchen—she lives in it.

This doesn't qualify her to overrule your architect when he tells you that a certain wall can't be moved. Nor does it endow her with more knowledge of the workings of today's appliances than the dealer.

BUT JUST being herself, enables her to plan in general terms the kind of kitchen she wants.

If, for example, your family is always underfoot at meal time, be sure your kitchen specialist knows this so that he can design adjacent areas in which Dad and the children can be right at hand—but still out of the way — while she's cooking.

If you can't abide the thought of eating in the kitchen, its silly to let a designer draw in a dining area in his remodeling plans.

All of this may be news to you but the kitchen remodeler is already well aware that you and your wife are the best single source of information he has when redesigning your kitchen.

AND YET, you can become an even "better" expert on your kitchen if you'll try. All you and your wife have to do is to keep an informal record of what you personally like and dislike about various kitchens you see.

Clip ideas from magazines, visit model homes and kitchen showrooms. And above all make a real effort to become aware of your habits and your eccentricities when you're working in your own kitchen.

Once you've done this the next step is to realize your own limitations—and to call on experts for help. That's where your local kitchen dealer enters the picture.

His training will allow him to size up your home, study your preferences, and come up with a practical plan which incorporates as many of your wishes as possible.

THANKS to modern materials and modern appliances this plan is likely to correspond closely to your desires.

Here's an example. Every woman wants additional storage space in her dream kitchen. Now, thanks to the versatile design of modern steel kitchens, milady's every desire for storage space can be satisfied.

Equally as important as the kitchen's appearance is its utility.

The modern housewife wants a kitchen which can be kept clean with a minimum of effort. Here, too, modern steel cabinets have been especially designed to satisfy the most demanding of housekeepers.

Your dealer is the ultimate expert in recommending the cabinets and appliances which will best fill your requirements.

But you're missing a big share of the fun in planning for a new kitchen if you and your wife don't keep posted on the equipment available.

Changes Are Made

Meals are prepared in less than three hours a day, by today's homemakers in today's modern gas kitchens — compared to nine hours daily meal preparation time for yester-year's homemakers.

New Ranges Lend Zest To Your Cooking

Do you know which household job women like best?

Survey after survey indicates that women get the most enjoyment out of cooking. The reason is simple: cooking is creative work.

You'll never be able to settle the argument as to whether she is a better cook than grandmother was.

But one thing is certain, with today's modern electric ranges the modern housewife can do things Grandma would never have thought of trying — and all with a minimum of work.

Many fancy dishes required hours of preparation and close attention over a long period of time. Grandma just couldn't take that much time to prepare a gourmet's delight.

Your wife, however, can have a fast-cooking electric range at her beck and call.

And it will be complete with a variety of automatic cooking controls to insure that once a meal is underway it doesn't require constant attention.

That's even more true this Christmas than it was as recently as two or three years ago.

Thermostatic controls have now been successfully applied to surface cooking units as well as the oven. The housewife who owns a modern electric range with these automatic controls can put the pan on the surface cooker, twist a dial and walk out of the kitchen.

A "sensing" element feels the temperature of the saucepan and relays this to an automatic control which keeps heat at full intensity, lowers it slightly, brings it back up, cuts it off almost completely — keeping the dish always at the temperature the housewife selected on the control dial.

Even the more familiar cooking operations have been simplied by today's range.

Take broiling, for example. You've always been able to broil, but often it was a messy job. That's no longer the case, thanks to modern spatter-proof broilers. And the rotisseries and "elevator" broilers in today's ranges make possible a variety of broiling techniques unheard of in Grandma's kitchen.

JUST LIKE A MARKET IN HER HOME. Modern electric freezers give today's homemaker uncreamed of convenience and flexibility in meal preparation. Among the freezer's advantages are fewer shopping trips, and the opportunity to prepare dishes — and even whole meals—days or weeks in advance. In addition there are real savings opportunities when you buy seasonally-plentiful lower-cost foods and in large quantity purchases.

Today's Homemaker Enjoys Being In Lots Of Hot Water

How about giving your wife plenty of hot water for Christmas. Today's homemaker likes to be in hot water.

As a matter of fact, lack of an adequate supply of hot water spells nothing but trouble for the modern housewife.

That's because more and more, appliances depend on a good supply of hot water to produce their full labor-saving potential.

Consider the automatic dishwasher which requires water of 160 to 180 degrees to deliver all the benefits it can provide.

Water that hot is needed not only to get food soil off the dishes but to kill any bacteria or germs which may be present on the dishes.

To provide an adequate and ever-ready supply of water as hot as this you can choose between a wide variety of modern electric water heaters.

Among the most popular are the so-called "quick recovery" heaters. This is the engineer's way of describing a rather small unit which has tremendous capacity because it heats more water as quickly as it is used up. This development is particularly important in today's homes where space is limited.

To fit any homemaker's needs these modern electric water heaters are available in both countertop and tank models. The latter can be installed in basements or utility rooms while the countertop model is trimly designed to fit into the kitchen and look like just another appliance.

The countertops on these models are available in a wide variety of materials and colors and provide extra counter space in the kitchen.

Another prime advantage of the electric water heater is that it does not require a vent or flue.

This enables you to put it anywhere in the house, even in the kitchen where it will be close to the sink, the automatic dishwasher and possibly the laundry.

By bringing the water heater closer to where the hot water is used, shorter piping is required. This reduces the thermal loss, keeps the water hotter and makes it easier and less expensive to install.

Do Special Cooking

Special controls, griddles, rotisserie ovens and other features of the new gas ranges now perform special cooking functions that once required many auxiliary appliances.

Tiny Blue Flame Will Impart Warm Glow

Gas Will Add To Festivities At Yule Time

A tiny blue flame, as old as the earth itself, will impart a warm glow this Christmas in millions of homes across the nation.

The turkey roasting in your oven with its tantalizing aroma, will be cooked to perfection—golden brown, tender and juicy. Your home will be comfortably warm, your food safely reserved, your laundry quickly done thanks to this tiny blue flame.

All you did was turn on the gas and your silent servant sprang into action.

But you were also setting in motion a cycle of events that rang a bell 'way back in Texas — or deep in the swamps, high in the mountains, under the sea and across the plains, where thousands of rugged men maintain a steady search for natural gas.

Thousands more of these modern - day pioneers are extending the pipelines that carry natural gas into 28 million American homes, using over 100 million gas appliances.

Natural gas is whisked across the country by its own multi-million-dollar pipeline transportation system covering some 548,820 miles. This is enough to circle the earth 22 times.

At various points along the pipeline, carefully trained men operate stations that wash undesirable ingredients, like sulphur, from the gas. Still others scour the pipe to clear it of clogging residues. Many technicians are employed at the pipeline laboratories sampling the gas for heat values and chemical content.

And that isn't all. According to the American Gas Association, there are 200 underground storage facilities in the U. S. where gas can be kept in summer to take care of winter needs.

Because these facilities once were gas wells, they provide ideal geological conditions for the storage of gas under pressure.

Another big round - the - clock job in providing nationwide natural gas service is the task of the numerous compressor stations which are so spaced across the country that they can push the gas along through thousands of miles of pipe at the proper pressure.

At the city gates, your local gas company takes over. A so - called "town border station" reduces the pipeline pressure of the gas to the much lower degree you'll require in your home.

And finally, the utility mains empty into building - by - building feed lines, which run the fuel straight through your meter and into your gas range, water heater, clothes dryer, refrigerator, incinerator, or central heating-cooling system.

SMOKE AND ODORS disappear like magic as the result of the development of the new gas incinerators, now available for White Christmas giving. The new incinerators completely eliminate messy garbage problems, reducing the whole load to a handful of gray ash. You can demonstrate the principle for yourself, as shown above. It's the same as what you can see happening in the picture: a stream of smoke from a cigaret vanishes as it hits the flame of a match.

Plays Santa Claus

Liquefied petroleum (LP) gas in bottle, cylinder or tank plays Santa Claus to farm and suburban homes all over the country, by bringing the advantages of gas to those living beyond city gas mains.

Mass Production Is Key To Your White Chritsmas

(The following article was written by Grant Carr, eastern regional editor of Iron Age.)

Hidden away in the back of the house, the old - fashioned kitchen was a gloomy place of drudgery for most women.

By contrast, today's kitchen is likely to be a showplace. Batteries of gleaming appliances make it one of the most attractive and exciting rooms in the house, and have done almost as much to emancipate women as the righ to vote.

Of course, the "good old days' boasted their appliances too. Powered by elbow grease, they were crude and heavy affairs, often hammered out by the local blacksmith. It was almost as much ef fort to use them as to get along without them.

TODAY'S lightweight, highspeed appliances owe their existence both to the wonder of electricity and to a machine most people have never heard of, much less seen — the continuous sheet mill.

Developed by the American steel industry during the 1920's, the continuous sheet mill spews out a ribbon of steel faster than a mile a minute. And much of this ribbon will end up in the kitchens of America in the form of appliances.

Before this mill was developed, sheet steel production was a slow, expensive process. Available only in limited lengths and widths, the sheets were hard to fabricate. Smooth curves and rounded corners were virtually impossible, as corners had to be riveted or welded.

Substitute materials like wood were too bulky, and just not rugged enough to stand up to high speed manufacture and a lifetime of trouble - free operation. It's no exaggeration to say that modern appliances would be virtually impossible without the continuous sheet mill.

If that seems a little extreme, consider this: Modern appliances are as much a triumph of economics as of mechanics. Remember when they called the automobile "a rich man's toy?" It was the same situation.

—:—

APPLIANCES (like automobiles) must be produced in high volume: costs go down as production goes up. And high - volume production means that appliances can be sold at a price you and I can afford. Without mass production, only a few of the very rich could afford the things we all take for granted.

And modern mass production would be impossible without the low - cost high - quality steel produced by the continuous sheet mill.

These virtually endless ribbons of steel can be formed, stamped, assembled and painted with a speed that's hard to believe even after you've seen it done.

Sheet steel is by no means the only way in which the steel industry helps lighten the nation's housekeeping labors.

A typical kitchen might contain virtually every steel mill product with the exception of railroad tracks. In weight, steel in a kitchen can easily run over 1,000 pounds.

A standard refrigerator uses almost 180 pounds of various forms of steel. And much of it is pretty special stuff. Gleaming stainless steel — the "jewelry" of the industry — is a commonplace; electrical motors are virtual "time capsules" of electrical and metallurgical science. The special electrical sheets used in motors are very expensive, but worth every penny as far as the motor makers are concerned.

THERE'S A whole story in the special cold - rolled sheets used for porcelain enameled surfaces. These sheets — "enameling iron" to the men who make them — are among the most carefully made of steel mill products.

And improvements in them as well as in the enamels have been remarkable. Like so many steel advances, they may "look the same," but the locked - in improvements become apparent during their long life and high-quality performance.

In the parlor, it is considered impolite to talk about how much things cost. But in the nation's steel mills, cost is a vital topic of conversation.

It is theoretically possible to build at least some appliances without using a pound of steel—but you wouldn't like the results. The substitute products would be impossibly bulky, for one thing and the performance highly questionable. But the biggest drawback would be price.

There are materials which can substitute for iron and steel in some jobs — but they usually cost many times as much.

But how can you compute the price of drudgery? How can you figure the dollars and cents value of a washing machine compared to hours over a scrubbing board?

And the great value of today's appliances is the way they free the housewife to become a real homemaker and not a kitchen slave. In 1940, washing machines were just coming into their own, while dryers were a new innovation. Today, washer - dryer combinations are commonplace, and dishwasher are becoming equally usual.

All of these advances, and the new machines just around the corner, have been based on the assumption that enough steel, of the right kind, and at a suitable price, would be available.

The steel industry has spent literally billions of dollars in the last decade to fulfill all three conditions. In addition millions have been spent to develop new steels, and unrelenting efforts exerted to hold down costs before that purring machine in the kitchen could even be considered.

New Waste Disposer Called Year-Round Gift

Chances are you've overlooked one of the best White Christmas ideas of all — but its an idea that almost four million Americans have thought of already.

Installation of a modern food waste disposer does away with the entire subject of garbage.

There's no doubt about the widespread appeal of disposers; they're being installed in one out of every three new homes being built this year.

Owners of disposers indicate that the appliance is truly a year-round gift, conferring benefits in the summer as distinct as in the winter.

There's no need to dwell on the advantages of eliminating food waste before it can become garbage in the summer-time with heat and insects complicating the matter of garbage disposal.

In wintertime, the whole process of getting outside to the garbage pail, brushing snow or water off its lid and throwing garbage away is equally inconvenient.

Packaged Kitchens Vanishing Americans

More and more manufacturers are turning out pre-assembled packaged kitchens which combine several appliances within one framework. These units, customarily range between seven and nine feet in length and are easily adaptable to the use of the modern homemaker who has limited space.

Slimmed Down Appliances Will Offer The 'Built-In' Look

Your Kitchen Can Take On Latest Touch

There's a "new look" in appliances, too.

While dress designers have been using the new look in women's fashions to conceal milady's lines in voluminous sacks, chemises and balloons, appliance designers have moved in just the opposite direction.

They've slimmed down the lines of today's labor-saving electric appliances, squaring off corners to come up with a built-in look.

The result: you can give your kitchen a modern, functional appearance without having to replace free-standing appliances with built-ins.

—:—

NOR IS the shape the only thing which has been changed. Whole concepts of design and application have come in for a long second look by engineers and today's electric appliances have a versatility unknown in previous years.

Take the home freezer for example. Once it was a boxy chest-type unit. Today we still have chest-type freezers, but their lines have been streamlined and new racks and baskets added to the interior to make their use even easier.

In addition to the chest freezer, we now have upright models which save valuable floor space if that's a factor in your planning. There are also under-counter models and wall-hung and built - in types.

Thus, where once there was a single type of freezer, today there's a whole family of models available. You can give her her choice.

MUCH THE same thing has happened to that most familiar of all appliances, the electric refrigerator.

The conventional, free-standing model has had its corners squared off so that you can achieve a built-in look if you desire. Or you can buy refrigeation in built-in or wall-hung models.

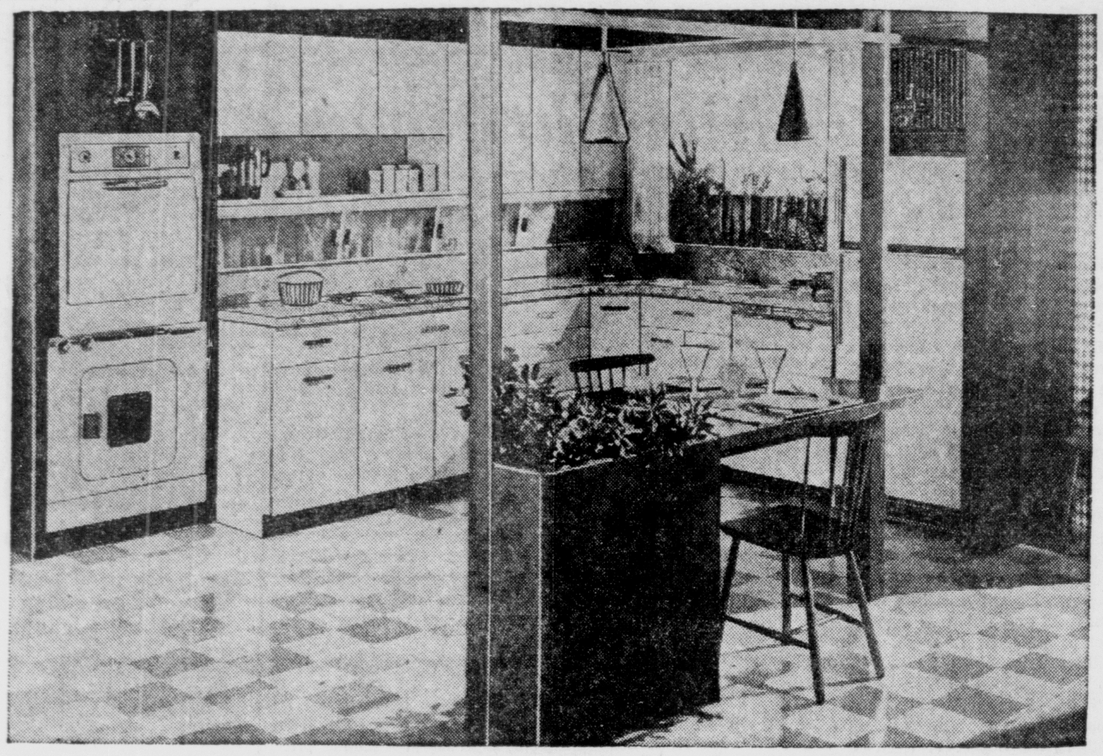
No matter what type you choose you can combine refrigerated space with a freezer.

Indeed, the continually growing popularity of refrigerator - freezer combinations is one of the most significant design trends in modern kitchen planning.

From a variety of models available you can pick the unit best suited to your needs, with the bulk of the space devoted to either freezer or refrigerator space, whichever you prefer.

Everyone is familiar with the built-in range which several years ago provided range designers with a "new look." Now even the free-standing range has been redesigned and it's hardly surprising that these conventional units too have a built-in "look."

Still another way of achieving this style is with the new "stack-on" ranges which can be hung on the wall or mounted on a kitchen cabinet.



EVEN THE MOST GLAMOROUS KITCHEN requires a woman's touch, and the touch that your White Christmas kitchen must have, is the touch of your wife herself. She has one big advantage over all the professional experts. She knows her own family's needs. Obviously she can't replace the architect or the kitchen specialist, but only she can tell them of her basic requirements. They can then proceed from her plan, to provide glamor, convenience and efficiency in just the proportions she wants.

Bails Out, Unhurt

MISAWA, Japan (AP) — 2nd. Lt. Fred Brantingham of Mansfield, Ohio, was on a routine mission Wednesday when his F86D jet fighter flamed out over the Pacific. Brantingham bailed out and was picked up unhurt floating in a rubber boat 55 miles east of the U.S. air base in northern Honshu. Brantingham is a member of the 4th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Troubles Go Down Drain With Modern Dishwasher

The lucky lady who receives a dishwasher for Christmas may not realize right away just how fortunate she really is.

But during the year she'll have more than 45,000 opportunities to thank her lucky stars that she'll never have to wash another dish. That's because the average family dirties about 3,800 dishes a month — or more than 45,000 a near.

Actually, it won't take her that long to realize how thoughtful you have been.

If she's entertaining on Christmas Day, for example, she will find that Christmas dinner can be a thing of sheer delight when she doesn't have stacks of dishes awaiting her in the kitchen.

For with a dishwasher, a meal can end with dessert — instead of drudgery.

The real gift of a dishwasher is leisure time. Studies show that she spends between an hour and an hour and a half doing dishes each day. In the space of a year the woman has spent 21 days doing dishes.

While owners of dishwashers are particularly enthusiastic about the time and work the appliance saves them, they also have other kind words for the product.

Many single out the fact that the extra-hot water used in a dishwasher virtually sterlizes the dishes, killing any bacteria or germs.

The dishwasher, moreover, is almost unique in the way it qualifies as a "family gift" at Christmas time.

That's because in most households dishwashing is not reserved exclusively for the woman of the house. The children and the husband all come in eventually for their turn at the sink. The gift of an automatic dishwasher will pay bonuses for all of them all through the year.

Slimmed Down Appliances Will Offer The 'Built-In' Look

Your Kitchen Can Take On Latest Touch

There's a "new look" in appliances, too.

While dress designers have been using the new look in women's fashions to conceal milady's lines in voluminous sacks, chemises and balloons, appliance designers have moved in just the opposite direction.

They've slimmed down the lines of today's labor-saving electric appliances, squaring off corners to come up with a built-in look.

The result: you can give your kitchen a modern, functional appearance without having to replace free-standing appliances with built-ins.

—:—

NOR IS the shape the only thing which has been changed. Whole concepts of design and application have come in for a long second look by engineers and today's electric appliances have a versatility unknown in previous years.

Take the home freezer for example. Once it was a boxy chest-type unit. Today we still have chest-type freezers, but their lines have been streamlined and new racks and baskets added to the interior to make their use even easier.

In addition to the chest freezer, we now have upright models which save valuable floor space if that's a factor in your planning. There are also under-counter models and wall-hung and built - in types.

Thus, where once there was a single type of freezer, today there's a whole family of models available. You can give her her choice.

MUCH THE same thing has happened to that most familiar of all appliances, the electric refrigerator.

The conventional, free-standing model has had its corners squared off so that you can achieve a built-in look if you desire. Or you can buy refrigeation in built-in or wall-hung models.

No matter what type you choose you can combine refrigerated space with a freezer.

Indeed, the continually growing popularity of refrigerator - freezer combinations is one of the most significant design trends in modern kitchen planning.

From a variety of models available you can pick the unit best suited to your needs, with the bulk of the space devoted to either freezer or refrigerator space, whichever you prefer.

Everyone is familiar with the built-in range which several years ago provided range designers with a "new look." Now even the free-standing range has been redesigned and it's hardly surprising that these conventional units too have a built-in "look."

Still another way of achieving this style is with the new "stack-on" ranges which can be hung on the wall or mounted on a kitchen cabinet.

EVEN THE MOST GLAMOROUS KITCHEN requires a woman's touch, and the touch that your White Christmas kitchen must have, is the touch of your wife herself. She has one big advantage over all the professional experts. She knows her own family's needs. Obviously she can't replace the architect or the kitchen specialist, but only she can tell them of her basic requirements. They can then proceed from her plan, to provide glamor, convenience and efficiency in just the proportions she wants.

Bails Out, Unhurt

MISAWA, Japan (AP) — 2nd. Lt. Fred Brantingham of Mansfield, Ohio, was on a routine mission Wednesday when his F86D jet fighter flamed out over the Pacific. Brantingham bailed out and was picked up unhurt floating in a rubber boat 55 miles east of the U.S. air base in northern Honshu. Brantingham is a member of the 4th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Troubles Go Down Drain With Modern Dishwasher

The lucky lady who receives a dishwasher for Christmas may not realize right away just how fortunate she really is.

But during the year she'll have more than 45,000 opportunities to thank her lucky stars that she'll never have to wash another dish. That's because the average family dirties about 3,800 dishes a month — or more than 45,000 a near.

Actually, it won't take her that long to realize how thoughtful you have been.

If she's entertaining on Christmas Day, for example, she will find that Christmas dinner can be a thing of sheer delight when she doesn't have stacks of dishes awaiting her in the kitchen.

For with a dishwasher, a meal can end with dessert — instead of drudgery.

The real gift of a dishwasher is leisure time. Studies show that she spends between an hour and an hour and a half doing dishes each day. In the space of a year the woman has spent 21 days doing dishes.

While owners of dishwashers are particularly enthusiastic about the time and work the appliance saves them, they also have other kind words for the product.

Many single out the fact that the extra-hot water used in a dishwasher virtually sterlizes the dishes, killing any bacteria or germs.

The dishwasher, moreover, is almost unique in the way it qualifies as a "family gift" at Christmas time.

That's because in most households dishwashing is not reserved exclusively for the woman of the house. The children and the husband all come in eventually for their turn at the sink. The gift of an automatic dishwasher will pay bonuses for all of them all through the year.

There's New Dishwasher For You

You can find an automatic electric dishwasher that fits your kitchen.

Today, dishwashers are available in three basic types—built-ins, portables and free-standing.

The built-in dishwasher can be fitted into your existing kitchen beneath the counter top, where it is permanently installed.

If you don't wish to put a dishwasher beneath the counter, perhaps a free - standing unit is the one for you.

Or if you would like, there is a portable dishwasher on casters that can be moved aside when dishwashing time is over.

—:—

WITH THIS selection available you are sure to be able to find a dishwasher that fits your own personal needs.

Regardless of which one you choose, you will find that they all save you time . . . and what busy homemaker and hostess wouldn't like more time to devote to her family and guests?

Today the homemaker must double as both hostess and cook. The automatic electric dishwasher is the best built - in maid service she can get. But occasions for entertaining are not the only times a dishwasher helps out.

As a day in, day out labor-saver a dishwasher will save the average homemaker more than four hours a week over the hand method of washing dishes.

This was brought out in a study conducted at Ohio State University with a group of typical families. How did these homemakers find they saved time?

—:—

CLEARING the table and scraping the dishes is a routine part of any dishwashing chore. But instead of having to stack the dishes and ready the dishpan or sink for the hand washing method, they immediately put the dishes in the dishwasher, after they were scraped.

When all the dishes were in the dishwasher, the homemaker filled the detergent cup, closed the dishwasher and pushed a button. The job was done — dishes washed, rinsed and dried with no attention from her.

These families found, too, that because they washed dishes only twice a day (the breakfast dishes were stored in the machine until the lunch dishes were added to make a full load) they saved money on detergents.

This is no small item at today's prices. They found that the amount of laundry they had to do was less because of the decreased number of tea towels used. This was not only a time - saver, but a detergent saver as well.

In the Ohio Study, the homemakers felt the saving in china and glasses was amazing when they used a dishwasher because the amount of breakage was so small.

What is more, the families who participated in the study believed that the labor saved, together with the more efficient results, helped pay for their dishwasher. And who couldn't use a year 'round vacation from monotonous dishwashing.

Controls Will Do The Trick

Put a little magic in your Christmas giving this year. Give mother a modern gas range equipped with magical top burner heat control.

According to the American Gas Association, the "burner" with a brain" lets you cook delicate custards on top of your gas range without a double boiler, mashed potatoes that stay moist and warm for an hour or more without sticking to the bottom of the pan, cocoa that never forms a scum, batch after batch of golden griddle cakes, each one perfect, pressure cooker foods without constantly adjusting the temperature, deep fat frying without smoking, perfect hollandaise sauce as easy as boiling water.

And you needn't even be in the kitchen!

If you haven't seen one, here's how it works:

The control consists of a small sensing element in the center of the burner, which literally "takes the temperature" of the cooking utensil and signals this temperature to the thermostat controlling the burner.

When the food in the pan drops below the pre - selected temperature, the sensing element automatically signals the control and the flame increases again.

When the food is cooked, the "burner with a brain," cuts the flame low to keep the food warm until ready to serve. Even fried eggs will stay warm and tender for an hour.

Need Cash For Appliance? Then Go See Your Banker

By OTTO LORENZ
Associate Editor,
The American Banker

A recent national survey of 100 leading bankers undertaken by the American Banker revealed the faith these responsible men of business have in their borrowers.

One hundred per cent of them said they are ready and willing to help good customers during periods of uncertainty such as reduced income, temporary layoff and unemployment.

Here are some typical comments gathered from bankers around the United States:

From Detroit, where layoffs and unemployment were probably more frequent than anywhere else, one of the nation's leading bankers says:

"We naturally are sympathetic to co-operative borrowers, particularly if delinquency is caused by unemployment. We have been through prolonged periods of unemployment in the past, and while delinquency has risen sharply during these periods, losses were kept to a minimum as we nursed our good borrowers over the bad spots."

A banker in Kalamazoo, Mich., states: "We will extend every consideration to those borrowers who have had a reasonably good record. We'll refinance the loan, extend it or, if necessary, even charge it off and allow the customer to pay as he can . . ."

The same consideration extends to Texas where the consensus of opinions from bankers was that they weathered recessions, strikes, and even a depression and had always met their customers as individuals and handled each loan with patience and understanding.

Throughout the Southwest and over to the Pacific coast, the same thought prevailed. The bankers would continue their long-standing policy of fair consideration to borrowers.

From Nashua, N. H., came this welcome comment:

"This bank is very much aware of the fact that if a man has trouble, he is still the same man of whom we thought of pretty highly when we made him the loan."

Down in Florida, bankers believe that a liberal extension and renewal policy, properly applied, will reduce losses and create goodwill among deserving customers. "Tough tactics," says an Orlando financier, "are a poor substitute for intelligent collection policies . . ."

And similar, heartening voices were heard clear through the farming areas of the country and across the northwestern states as well.

There is no reason to let lack of cash and fear of the future stop or delay you from buying that appliance you have in mind. Go see your banker. It will be worth it.

New Refrigerators Offer Convenience, Automation

Forty years ago you might have given her a Penguin to symbolize a White Christmas. Or it may have been a Vosse, a Zicer, or a Germanic.

Those are brand names of electric refrigerators which have long since disappeared. But back in 1916 they were the pioneers in the field. The Germanic, in fact, is said to have been the first nationally advertised refrigerator.

More than mere names have changed in household refrigeration, however.

Those 1916 models, of course, bear only a faint resemblance to current beauties. As a matter of fact, today's electric refrigerator differs radically from what was being sold as recently as 5 or 10 years ago.

—:—

THE PRIMARY change has been in the direction of convenience and automation. While you hear considerable talk about dramatic new inventions like the electronic refrigerator, such things are a good few years away.

What really distinguishes today's refrigerators, however, are the extra convenience features and reliability built into their performance.

Eliminating the chore of manual defrosting is but one of these conveniences which means a great deal to the housewife.

Just as automatic defrosting represented a major improvement in refrigerator design a few years ago, now emphasis is being placed on designing units in which frost never accumulates. Several brands incorporating this advantage are on the market today.

No woman who has ever tottered across the kitchen floor with a tray filled with defrost water is likely to underestimate the importance of this development.

Less dramatic perhaps, but every bit as important to the housewife are trays which roll out and trays which revolve. There are egg racks and cheese keepers and butter conditioners.

—:—

YEARS AGO you had to hold ice cube trays under a running faucet to get the ice out. Now there are a whole variety of trays with easy release features.

And there are electric refrigerators which automatically maintain a constant supply of ice cubes so that no matter how many you use, more always will be on hand.

Most important of all, designers have taken heed of the housewife's desire to have a ready supply of

The original refrigerator-freezer combinations have given birth to a whole family of new types, some with the freezer on the bottom, others with it on top and each with enough space to satisfy the requirements of any family, large or small.

Aware of the growing popularity of the home freezer, one manufacturer is marketing a unique pair of matching electric refrigerator and freezer. The refrigerator has no frozen food storage space at all since the matching twin freezer provides the space.

While this approach appeals to some families, others have found that limited floor space forces them to choose a single unit in which both refrigerator and freezer have been combined.

This can be conveniently restocked from a freezer located in the basement, breezeway or garage.

These practical improvements have resulted in today's refrigerator which is almost as different from yesterday's as today's brand names are different from the long lost Vosse, Zicer, Germanic and Penguin.

Home Freezer Holds Many New Desserts

A whole new world of desserts is possible with a home freezer.

Here's a unique suggestion for "snowmen."

Buy one quart of vanilla ice cream. Scoop a large ball of ice cream for the bottom, a smaller one for the top. A marshmallow makes a fine head.

Raisins, cloves or cinnamon candies produce features. For a top hat, use a maraschino cherry.

Now, parade currants down the front of the snowman for buttons and insert penny lollipops for arms.

Harden snowmen in freezer, then wrap in a cellophane bag ad return to freezer until ready to serve. Use within two weeks. Makes four snowmen.

It's Always Sunny

It's always sunny clothesdrying weather, with the help of an automatic gas dryer to give clothes a better - than - outdoors freshness and fragrance.

LIKE HIDDEN HANDS, YET MUCH GENTLER, the modern washer takes the heaviest burden of housekeeping from the shoulders of a woman, while its teammate, the automatic dryer, completes the home laundry task regardless of outside weather conditions, at her convenience.

It's 'Everything' And The Sink Now

Time was when people talked about "everything but the kitchen sink."

Nowadays, modern homemakers have learned that "everything" is likely to be in the kitchen sink—the modern cabinet sink, that is.

Modern materials and modern designs have made it possible to turn the once homely sink into an attractive, streamlined cabinet package which harmonizes with other appliances and performs a central role in efficient kitchen operation.

There's almost always a shortage of storage space in the kitchen and the cabinet sink provides an eminently sensible solution to the problem of creating additional storage facilities.

Its steel construction not only provides a strong, permanent storage area but also guarantees that maintenance and cleaning will take a minimum of time.

Metal construction does away with cracks or crevices which might collect dirt and the lasting exterior finish stands up well even after extreme usage.

For many women new sinks have a particular appeal because buying a new sink is the biggest single step one can take to update a kitchen. As a matter of fact, many kitchen remodelers recommend that any step by step remodeling plan should start with a new sink and surrounding cabinets.

From this foundation one can build on, adding additional special purpose cabinets and new appliances as time and budget permit. The standardized dimensions of steel sinks and cabinets make such a program particularly feasible.

Nor have designers stopped their development work by merely glamorizing the old-fashioned sink with an exterior of useful cabinet space.

New designs are appearing on the market which add new functions to the sink. One firm has introduced a "servi-center" which includes automatically timed electric outlets for small appliance cookery, a dispenser to supply detergent and hand lotion, a light for the sink bowl, and a series of easy-to-clean tilt-out storage bins.

Well aware of the usefulness of cabinet sinks and that such new innovations are being made, it's little wonder that the modern housewife would be considerably more than pleased to see one of these automatic electric sinks in her kitchen on Christmas morning. For her, it truly would be a White Christmas.

Less Space Is Needed For Canned Soft Drinks

Space in your refrigerator is at a premium at Christmas.

That's why smart homemakers do everything possible to conserve storage space. One valuable tip is to buy your soft drinks in cans.

They store much more easily—and if unexpected company arrives and depletes your stock of the canned drinks, you'll find that extra cans popped into the refrigerator will be ready for drinking in a remarkably short time. That's because the canned drinks chill much more quickly.

Gets Dormitory Work

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A $215,800 contract for the construction of a 4-story women's residence at Marietta College has been awarded to the C. H. Jimison & Sons Co. of Huntington, W. Va. The new women's dormitory will house 70 students.

How You Can Cook With Gas For Her

This Christmas outdoor chefs and Sunday food specialists can turn out, delicious flame-kissed steaks, chops and burgers right in the comfort of their own kitchen or family room.

The man of the house will be overjoyed with this new gas appliance for modern living — a gas-fired barbecue broiler.

While eliminating the mess and bother of charcoal, the new broiler retains the genuine barbecue flavor by heating ceramic "coals" with the blue flame of natural gas.

A special tilt - back grill controls flare-ups. The unit can easily be built into kitchen counters, located in the family room or built into a chimney as a companion piece to a built-in gas oven.

The prototype of this new gas-fired broiler is found in many of the country's better steak houses and restaurants, the American Gas Association points out.

Restaurant chefs were the first to doubt the theory that charcoal imparted a distinctive taste to foods. They reasoned that if this were true, then all meat should taste the same.

Actually, flavor is obtained by using the intense heat to melt the fats of the meat quickly.

This process creates a flame that seals the meat. Flavor is enhanced as the flame subsides and the droplets of fat fall slowly into the coals, creating a smoke that imparts the delicious flavor of the meat cooking.

Look For AGA Seal

When Christmas shopping for gas appliances, make sure your choices are marked by a blue star in a white circle, the approval seal of the American Gas Association. It shows the appliance has been tested and approved for safety, durability and performance.

New Refrigerators Offer Convenience, Automation

Forty years ago you might have given her a Penguin to symbolize a White Christmas. Or it may have been a Vosse, a Zicer, or a Germanic.

Those are brand names of electric refrigerators which have long since disappeared. But back in 1916 they were the pioneers in the field. The Germanic, in fact, is said to have been the first nationally advertised refrigerator.

More than mere names have changed in household refrigeration, however.

Those 1916 models, of course, bear only a faint resemblance to current beauties. As a matter of fact, today's electric refrigerator differs radically from what was being sold as recently as 5 or 10 years ago.

—:—

THE PRIMARY change has been in the direction of convenience and automation. While you hear considerable talk about dramatic new inventions like the electronic refrigerator, such things are a good few years away.

What really distinguishes today's refrigerators, however, are the extra convenience features and reliability built into their performance.

Eliminating the chore of manual defrosting is but one of these conveniences which means a great deal to the housewife.

Just as automatic defrosting represented a major improvement in refrigerator design a few years ago, now emphasis is being placed on designing units in which frost never accumulates. Several brands incorporating this advantage are on the market today.

No woman who has ever tottered across the kitchen floor with a tray filled with defrost water is likely to underestimate the importance of this development.

Less dramatic perhaps, but every bit as important to the housewife are trays which roll out and trays which revolve. There are egg racks and cheese keepers and butter conditioners.

YEARS AGO you had to hold ice cube trays under a running faucet to get the ice out. Now there are a whole variety of trays with easy release features.

And there are electric refrigerators which automatically maintain a constant supply of ice cubes so that no matter how many you use, more always will be on hand.

Most important of all, designers have taken heed of the housewife's desire to have a ready supply of

The original refrigerator-freezer combinations have given birth to a whole family of new types, some with the freezer on the bottom, others with it on top and each with enough space to satisfy the requirements of any family, large or small.

Aware of the growing popularity of the home freezer, one manufacturer is marketing a unique pair of matching electric refrigerator and freezer. The refrigerator has no frozen food storage space at all since the matching twin freezer provides the space.

While this approach appeals to some families, others have found that limited floor space forces them to choose a single unit in which both refrigerator and freezer have been combined.

This can be conveniently restocked from a freezer located in the basement, breezeway or garage.

These practical improvements have resulted in today's refrigerator which is almost as different from yesterday's as today's brand names are different from the long lost Vosse, Zicer, Germanic and Penguin.

Home Freezer Holds Many New Desserts

A whole new world of desserts is possible with a home freezer.

Here's a unique suggestion for "snowmen."

Buy one quart of vanilla ice cream. Scoop a large ball of ice cream for the bottom, a smaller one for the top. A marshmallow makes a fine head.

Raisins, cloves or cinnamon candies produce features. For a top hat, use a maraschino cherry.

Now, parade currants down the front of the snowman for buttons and insert penny lollipops for arms.

Harden snowmen in freezer, then wrap in a cellophane bag ad return to freezer until ready to serve. Use within two weeks. Makes four snowmen.

It's Always Sunny

It's always sunny clothesdrying weather, with the help of an automatic gas dryer to give clothes a better - than - outdoors freshness and fragrance.

LIKE HIDDEN HANDS, YET MUCH GENTLER, the modern washer takes the heaviest burden of housekeeping from the shoulders of a woman, while its teammate, the automatic dryer, completes the home laundry task regardless of outside weather conditions, at her convenience.

It's 'Everything' And The Sink Now

Time was when people talked about "everything but the kitchen sink."

Nowadays, modern homemakers have learned that "everything" is likely to be in the kitchen sink—the modern cabinet sink, that is.

Modern materials and modern designs have made it possible to turn the once homely sink into an attractive, streamlined cabinet package which harmonizes with other appliances and performs a central role in efficient kitchen operation.

There's almost always a shortage of storage space in the kitchen and the cabinet sink provides an eminently sensible solution to the problem of creating additional storage facilities.

Its steel construction not only provides a strong, permanent storage area but also guarantees that maintenance and cleaning will take a minimum of time.

Metal construction does away with cracks or crevices which might collect dirt and the lasting exterior finish stands up well even after extreme usage.

For many women new sinks have a particular appeal because buying a new sink is the biggest single step one can take to update a kitchen. As a matter of fact, many kitchen remodelers recommend that any step by step remodeling plan should start with a new sink and surrounding cabinets.

From this foundation one can build on, adding additional special purpose cabinets and new appliances as time and budget permit. The standardized dimensions of steel sinks and cabinets make such a program particularly feasible.

Nor have designers stopped their development work by merely glamorizing the old-fashioned sink with an exterior of useful cabinet space.

New designs are appearing on the market which add new functions to the sink. One firm has introduced a "servi-center" which includes automatically timed electric outlets for small appliance cookery, a dispenser to supply detergent and hand lotion, a light for the sink bowl, and a series of easy-to-clean tilt-out storage bins.

Well aware of the usefulness of cabinet sinks and that such new innovations are being made, it's little wonder that the modern housewife would be considerably more than pleased to see one of these automatic electric sinks in her kitchen on Christmas morning. For her, it truly would be a White Christmas.

Less Space Is Needed For Canned Soft Drinks

Space in your refrigerator is at a premium at Christmas.

That's why smart homemakers do everything possible to conserve storage space. One valuable tip is to buy your soft drinks in cans.

They store much more easily—and if unexpected company arrives and depletes your stock of the canned drinks, you'll find that extra cans popped into the refrigerator will be ready for drinking in a remarkably short time. That's because the canned drinks chill much more quickly.

Gets Dormitory Work

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A $215,800 contract for the construction of a 4-story women's residence at Marietta College has been awarded to the C. H. Jimison & Sons Co. of Huntington, W. Va. The new women's dormitory will house 70 students.

How You Can Cook With Gas For Her

This Christmas outdoor chefs and Sunday food specialists can turn out, delicious flame-kissed steaks, chops and burgers right in the comfort of their own kitchen or family room.

The man of the house will be overjoyed with this new gas appliance for modern living — a gas-fired barbecue broiler.

While eliminating the mess and bother of charcoal, the new broiler retains the genuine barbecue flavor by heating ceramic "coals" with the blue flame of natural gas.

A special tilt - back grill controls flare-ups. The unit can easily be built into kitchen counters, located in the family room or built into a chimney as a companion piece to a built-in gas oven.

The prototype of this new gas-fired broiler is found in many of the country's better steak houses and restaurants, the American Gas Association points out.

Restaurant chefs were the first to doubt the theory that charcoal imparted a distinctive taste to foods. They reasoned that if this were true, then all meat should taste the same.

Actually, flavor is obtained by using the intense heat to melt the fats of the meat quickly.

This process creates a flame that seals the meat. Flavor is enhanced as the flame subsides and the droplets of fat fall slowly into the coals, creating a smoke that imparts the delicious flavor of the meat cooking.
